A CONFLICT TO THE DEATH AT THE CANTON WORKHOUSE

Chas. Giganti, a Prisoner, Instantly Kills Foreman Geo. Jacobs.

A GUARD FATALLY WOUNDED

HE ALSO IS LIKELY TO DIE

The Trouble Started With the Seizure of a Pistol From a Fellow Prisoner and the Murderous Battle Followed at Once.

Canton, May 21.—(Special)—The workhouse in this city was the scene of a desperate hand-to-hand conflict this morning, which resulted in the death of George Jacobs, foreman of the brush and broom factory. Homer Stone, a guard, is also fatally wounded and Charles Giganti, a prisoner, aged 22, who started the trouble, will also die.

At about 9 o'clock Giganti, who was sent up from this city on April 22, for causing the death of a horse, and who employed in the brush factory, grabbed a pistol from the hip pocket of William Klotz, a guard, and rushing to where Jacobs was standing, shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

Stone ran to the rescue, when Giganti turned on him and sent a bullet through his body near the heart. Drawing his pistol, Stone fired at Giganti, the ball striking in a vital spot. The prisoner fell to the floor, and as he did so fired another bullet into his own body from the pistol in his hand. His wounds and that of Stone are fatal.

No cause for the tragedy is known, other than that Giganti held a grudge against Jacobs. Stone was a former deputy sheriff of Stark county.

GOT THROWN OUT

A Customer Who Refused to Pay for Drinks Sues a Saloon ..eeper.

With a portion of his head in plaster of paris and his face presenting a woebegone appearance very similar to that of a three-year-old boy who has been reprimanded by his parents for stealing sugar, Michael Phillips appeared before the mayor this morning and, after unfolding a very sad tale, had an affidavit issued for the arrest of Charles Hayden, charging him with assault and battery. The complainant stated that he was in Hayden's saloon yesterday when Hayden attacked him without cause, inflicting serious wounds on and about his physiognomy.

Hayden, when arraigned, denied the accusation in every particular, stating that he kept an orderly place and threw the man out because he became troublesome and refused to pay for several drinks. The mayor thought it queer that Hayden would make the assault for nothing and instructed Phillips to secure the costs. If he does so, the case will be given a hearing this evening.

CAMPAIGNING IN HAYTI

Presidential Candidate And Army Moving—Whole Population Under Arms.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 21.—(Special)—The army commanded by General Firmin, the most powerful candidate for president of Hayti, numbering about 4,000 men, arrived today at Arcahaie, about two days' march from here.

The provincial government's committee of public safety has summoned all citizens to defend the capital and has resolved to put the entire population under arms.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Brakeman on the Ft. Wayne Railroad Dies at Alliance Hospital.

Alliance, May 21.—(Special)—C. E. Bader, a fireman on a through freight on the P., F. W. & C. railroad, was overcome with the heat while on his engine at Salem yesterday afternoon and taken with an attack of heart failure. He was brought to this city as quickly as possible and taken to the hospital, where he died early this morning.

Bader was a young man and lived in Chicago. His trip yesterday was the first he ever made on the eastern division.

JUMPED THE TRACK

STREET CAR CAME NEAR GOING OVER THE BANK.

Street car No. 2, bound for Wellsville, jumped the track at Walker this afternoon at 1 o'clock and came frightfully near going over the bank which at this point is very steep and nearly 100 feet in height.

Of the dozen passengers aboard none were seriously hurt, but all were jammed violently together. The conductor sustained injuries to his legs and back which may result in his being laid up for a time.

TROUBLE SEEKERS

CAPT. MARTINDILL WILL KEEP THEM OFF HIS BOAT.

He Is Determined to Preserve Order at the Wharf And Thinks He Can Do It.

William Bradley, charged with assault and battery, was arraigned before the mayor yesterday afternoon. He waived a hearing and was bound over to court in the sum of $25. Bradley is the watchman employed on the wharfboat and the case against him originated with his difficulty with Ed Storm, the particulars of which were given exclusively in last evening's News Review. Captain Gus Martindill, the wharfmaster, states that the only class of people ever reprimanded by him or his associates belong to the colored population.

"There is a gang of these people," said he, "that I don't want on my boat under any circumstances. They come on for nothing else but to raise a disturbance. They are insulting and white passengers must be protected; therefore I intend to keep them off, and have been given permission to do so. Every white man in the city, if he conducts himself properly will be allowed on the wharfboat at any time. The men in charge of the passenger boats will not allow the crowds on their boats, but if the people wish to come on my boat and witness the landing of a steamer they are perfectly welcome."

Captain Martindill is a man quite capable of conducting the affairs around the wharfboat and no trouble will ever arise if it is in his power to prevent it. He has had possession of the boat now for eght months and to the general public has given entire satisfaction. The business men have complimented him numerous times for the condition in which he has placed the boat and the wharf.

COURT CASES SETTLED

Various Actions Brought in Common Pleas Have Been Adjusted.

Lisbon, May 21. — (Special) — The following cases in common pleas court have been settled:

Kaufman, Kinsey & Knowles against the city of East Liverpool.

The Lutz & Schraum company vs. De Bee & Son, of East Liverpool.

Mary A. Edmunds vs. the United Power company, of East Liverpool. This suit was brought to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained in a street car accident.

W. L. Smith, as administrator of the estate of Cynthia Bradshaw, late of Fairfield township, versus Eugene B. Bradshaw. This suit was for judgment on two $1,000 notes and was settled for $1,050.

Real Estate Sale Approved.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special) — The common pleas court has approved the sale by the sheriff to Sarah A. Rice of 199 acres of land in Fairfield township, for $4,750, and ordered the distribution of the proceeds among seven children of Charity Rice, late of Fairfield township.

MAP OF MARTINIQUE AND ADJACENT ISLANDS.

St. Pierre, the city recently destroyed by volcanic action, was in the northern part of Martinique and Fort de France is ten miles south of it. Northeast of St. Pierre is Mont Pelee, the volcano that killed 30,000 people in a few minutes. South of Martinique is St. Vincent, which has also been devastated by a volcano.

DEMENTED MAN'S TERRIBLE CRIME

A Husband Fires Five Shots at His Wife and Then Kills Himself.

SON'S AWFUL DISCOVERY

Found His Parents Breathing Their Last When He Entered the Room. The Couple Came From Cleveland to New Brighton Recently.

New Brighton, Pa., May 21.—Emil Deruyter, aged 46 years, last evening shot and killed his wife, aged 44 years, after which he killed himself. The tragedy occurred at the residence of Frederick Ziegel, who resides on what is known as New England hill, in Pulaski township, about one mile from this town.

Deruyter came here about two weeks ago from Cleveland, and was followed by his wife and three children, who arrived on Thursday. The entire family have been stopping at the Ziegel residence since their arrival, and from all appearances had got along harmoniously.

Deruyter fired five shots from his revolver, three of the bullets striking the woman in the head and one in the arm. He then turned the weapon on himself, sending a bullet crashing through his brain. When the eldest son reached the room where the awful tragedy was enacted, his father was taking a last breath, while the mother was alive, but in an unconscious condition. She died in a short time. It is said Deruyter was partially demented through drink.

THE PLUMBERS' STRIKE

May Be Wrestled With By Trades Council at Tonight's Meeting.

An important meeting of Trades and Labor Council is to be held this evening. The president will appoint six standing committees, and many other matters are scheduled to come up for consideration and action. It is quite probable that the plumbers' strike will be among them, as it seems to be impossible for the journeymen to come to a settlement among themselves. Such cases are generally submitted to the council and whatever action is taken by council must be sanctioned by the strikers.

The committees to be appointed are: Organization, union label, credentials and legislative, three members each; grievance and arbitration, five, and Labor day, seven.

Order for Land Sale.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The common pleas court has issued an order of sale to the sheriff for 35 acres of land in Salem township. The property is forced to sale in the petition of Mary R. Welsh versus Catharine Sell and other heirs of Jacob W. Sell, late of Salem township.

Licensed to Wed.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—Calvin Swift and Miss Nannie Delaney, both of East Liverpool, have been licensed to marry.

ACCUSATIONS ARE REFUTED

NO EVIDENCE OF FRAUD

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, May 21.—The report of Master Commissioner C. C. Connell in the case of Ohio on relation of Conrad C. Fernsell, auditor of Tuscarawas county against the auditors of the nine counties through which the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad passes, was filed with the supreme court Tuesday. Fernsell objected to the apportionment of the taxable valuation of the road, alleging that, under it, his county would not receive an equitable share.

The auditors of Carroll and Jefferson who are co-defendants in the action, in their answers, in addition to endorsing the claims made by Fernsell, charged that the report of the proceedings of the action of the board of appraisers contained fraud, and that it was misleading.

These accusations are refuted by the master commissioner, who, in his finding of fact, says that while additions were made to the minutes of the meeting by the secretary of the board, they were made in order to explain the understanding of the auditors and not with any idea of perpetrating fraud; and he declares further that no one was misled by them.

The master commissioner makes no recommendation as to how the valuation should be apportioned, but merely reports his finding of fact as to the precise action taken by the board. Auditor Fernsell claims the board did not apportion the valuation in the legal way. It is now up to the supreme court to pass upon this question. If it holds that the board did not make its apportionment rightly, the board will have its work to do over again.

The Democratic state central committee will meet in Columbus, Tuesday, June 10, at 1:30 o'clock to fix the time for the state convention. It will probably be held the last week in July or the first week in August. Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Cedar Point are under consideration for its location. It has been announced that John R. McLean will take a hand in the coming campaign. It is believed that he will be a candidate for United States senator, and his purpose in getting into the game is to strengthen his chances for the nomination. Word has been received that Senator Foraker will not be present at the state convention which meets at Cleveland next week. Important matters which will be up the week of the convention will prevent him from leaving Washington. Senator Hanna will be at the convention.

The brewers of Ohio, West Virginia, Indana, Tennessee and Michigan are meeting here to act on matters pertaining to their business. The advisability of joining the national movement to fight legislation which seeks to restrict the liquor traffic, is to be taken up. It is proposed to hold prohibition up to ridicule, through the press, by public speakers and lecture bureaus.

Governor Nash, who is at French Lick Springs, has appointed little Leslie Howard, son of the proprietor of the hotel at which he is stopping, custodian of the state house squirrels.

MORE PURCHASES

OF PROPERTY FOR USE OF THE RAILROAD COMPANY.

Up to Date Fully $20,000 Has Been Paid Out And More Deals Are Pending.

The Pennsylvania company, in furthering its proposition to build a double track through this city, it is said, has spent in the neighborhood of $20,000 for property abutting the railroad and extending to Second street. Within the past few days the railroad company has closed deals whereby it has come into possession of three additional pieces of property. One sale was closed for a consideration of not less than $6,000, while smaller amounts were paid for other properties.

In all the railroad company so far has purchased no less than five properties along the route of the proposed improvements. During the past fortnight the company has purchased the E. D. Marshall property on Pink alley, the consideration in this instance being $6,000. This is quite a large tract. The company has also purchased the Mrs. Malinda Jones property in Pink alley, in the rear of the McKinnon property on Washington street, for which the company paid $5,500 a few days ago. Mrs. Jones is said to have received $3,000 for her property.

Another sale was that of J. M. Kelly, who is said received $1,000 for a 20-foot strip in Pink alley, between Washington and Union streets. Included with these sales are those of Mr. McKinnon and Mrs. Bagley, which were exclusively reported in this paper a few days ago. The deal for the old light plant property has also been closed.

The company has options on practically all property in the lower part of the city, and the deals will likely be closed very soon.

WON'T HONOR ORDERS

Chester Tin Mill Officials Refuse to Pay Police Court Fines For Their Men.

James Turner, formerly of Pittsburg, but now a resident of Chester, employed as a laborer in the tin mill, was carrying a heavy load when picked up by Officers Mahoney and McDermott last evening. He readily pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of drunkenness, and made arrangements to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

Tin mill men when they appear before the mayor with empty pocketbooks are almost assured of dismissal as a result of the peculiar and almost unprecedented action of the mill officials in regard to the employe giving orders made payable for fines which are imposed. The officials positively refuse to honor an order, and recently when Chief Thompson went to them with an order he says he was not only turned down but insulted, not even receiving civil answers to queries on the subject.

Why the officials have taken such a stand is a mystery. Steps may be taken to remedy the matter. The potteries and other plants of the city have always accepted the orders willingly, realizing that they are the gainers and are doing the city a good turn.

TO REFORM A CONTRACT

One East Liverpool Man Sued Another, But the Defendant Got the Decision.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The case of Karl Barth versus Hugh McFall, both of East Liverpool, which was for the reformation of a contract for real estate in East Liverpool and for a deed in accordance with the reformed contract, was decided in favor of the defendant.

The court held that while the plaintiff was mistaken as to the amount of land he was getting, there was no mistake on the part of the defendant as to the amount he was selling, and as both must be mistaken in order to have the contract changed, he refused to interfere.

CALCUTTA ROAD DECISION AVERSE TO IMPROVEMENT

Court Holds That the Petition Was Not Drawn Up in Proper Form.

St. Clair Township Cannot Therefore Issue Bonds and Push the Work.

ANOTHER ELECTION PROPOSED

By Friends of the Project, When the Forms of the Law Will be Complied with and Success Is Confidently Expected.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The Calcutta road case was tried yesterday afternoon. Judge Hole held that the petition of the 111 taxpayers to the township trustees was not in accordance with the law, for it should have been for the improvement of the roads generally in the township of St. Clair and not merely for the road leading from Calcutta to East Liverpool; at the subsequent election, after the improvement had been authorized and the appointment of the commissoners of roads made, was illegal by reason of a defect in the petition.

The judge enjoined them from proceeding to improve the road, from issuing bonds and also from levying taxes for their payment. Many residents of St. Clair township were present, and much interest was manifested in the decision.

A petition that will conform with the reading of the law is to be prepared soon and presented to the property owners along this road, asking for a bond issue to improve certain roads in the township, and if this passes the trustees will appoint commissioners to view the roads, and they will then decide what road or roads shall be improved. The commissoners can then advise the improvement of Calcutta road, and the matter will then be at an end. It has been said the first petition was prepared by E. E. Birch, of Calcutta, who brought it to an attorney in the city who pronounced it all right. According to the decison of the court, the costs of the case will have to be paid by the township trustees.

The improvement of the road is not ended here, by the granting of a perpetual injunction. It will again be up at the fall election, and the residents of the township who desire to see real estate values in that section advance, will leave no stone unturned to push the matter through.

HON. J. J. LENTZ COMING

Will Deliver an Address on the Subject of "Fraternity" at the Opera House.

East Liverpool chapter No. 45, of American Insurance union, has perfected arrangements for a meeting at the opera house on Friday evening, June 6, to which the public is invited and which will be addressed by Hon. John J. Lentz, national president of the association.

Mr. Lentz will speak on the subject of "Fraternity," a theme which permits of many broad and conservative views, and one which the gentleman has given much study. Several persons from this city have heard him deliver his lecture on this subject and pronounce it a masterpiece of eloquence and deep thought.

The local chapter of the American Insurance union has been in existence about five years. It is one of the substantial orders of the city and is enjoying a rapid growth. The members have arranged for a musical and literary program which will be presented in addition to Mr. Lentz's address on the evening of the coming meeting, and all are desirous that a large attendance rewards their efforts.

Toronto People Will Jollify.

Superintendent Ross, of the Steubenville Traction and Light company, hopes to open the new line to Toronto tomorrow. The people of Toronto intend to give the first car that arrives in that village a noisy welcome.

Civil Suit Settled.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The case of William Edwards & Co. against Ed Groves, of Wellsville, has been settled. The plaintiff sued for $167.67 on account.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The case of Karl Barth versus Hugh McFall, both of East Liverpool, which was for the reformation of a contract for real estate in East Liverpool and for a deed in accordance with the reformed contract, was decided in favor of the defendant.

The court held that while the plaintiff was mistaken as to the amount of land he was getting, there was no mistake on the part of the defendant as to the amount he was selling, and as both must be mistaken in order to have the contract changed, he refused to interfere.

St. Clair Township Cannot Therefore Issue Bonds and Push the Work.

By Friends of the Project, When the Forms of the Law Will be Complied with and Success Is Confidently Expected.

Lisbon, May 21. — (Special) — The Calcutta road case was tried yesterday afternoon. Judge Hole held that the petition of the 111 taxpayers to the township trustees was not in accordance with the law, for it should have been for the improvement of the roads generally in the township of St. Clair and not merely for the road leading from Calcutta to East Liverpool; at the subsequent election, after the improvement had been authorized and the appointment of the commissoners of roads made, was illegal by reason of a defect in the petition.

The judge enjoined them from proceeding to improve the road, from issuing bonds and also from levying taxes for their payment. Many residents of St. Clair township were present, and much interest was manifested in the decision.

A petition that will conform with the reading of the law is to be prepared soon and presented to the property owners along this road, asking for a bond issue to improve certain roads in the township, and if this passes the trustees will appoint commissioners to view the roads, and they will then decide what road or roads shall be improved. The commissoners can then advise the improvement of Calcutta road, and the matter will then be at an end. It has been said the first petition was prepared by E. E. Birch, of Calcutta, who brought it to an attorney in the city who pronounced it all right. According to the decison of the court, the costs of the case will have to be paid by the township trustees.

The improvement of the road is not ended here, by the granting of a perpetual injunction. It will again be up at the fall election, and the residents of the township who desire to see real estate values in that section advance, will leave no stone unturned to push the matter through.

HON. J. J. LENTZ COMING

Will Deliver an Address on the Subject of "Fraternity" at the Opera House.

East Liverpool chapter No. 45, of American Insurance union, has perfected arrangements for a meeting at the opera house on Friday evening, June 6, to which the public is invited and which will be addressed by Hon. John J .Lentz, national president of the association.

Mr. Lentz will speak on the subject of "Fraternity," a theme which permits of many broad and conservative views, and one which the gentleman has given much study. Several persons from this city have heard him deliver his lecture on this subject and pronounce it a masterpiece of eloquence and deep thought.

The local chapter of the American Insurance union has been in existence about five years. It is one of the substantial orders of the city and is enjoying a rapid growth. The members have arranged for a musical and literary program which will be presented in addition to Mr. Lentz's address on the evening of the coming meeting, and all are desirous that a large attendance rewards their efforts.

Toronto People Will Jollify.

Superintendent Ross, of the Steubenville Traction and Light company, hopes to open the new line to Toronto tomorrow. The people of Toronto intend to give the first car that arrives in that village a noisy welcome.

Civil Suit Settled.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The case of William Edwards & Co. against Ed Groves, of Wellsville, has been settled. The plaintiff sued for $167.67 on account.

EAST END

A BAD PRACTICE

Health Authorities Called Upon to Stop People From Dumping Garbage in a Stream.

It is predicted that the board of health will cause a number of arrests in the East End district before long. If it does the action will be applauded. For months the residents in the vicinity of High street have been compelled to watch persons said to reside east of the sewer pipe works who bring their garbage and dump it in Lake's run, in the neighborhood of the power house of the sewer pipe company. Now that warm weather has arrived the odor arising is sickening, and last evening residents of that section made complaint to officers at the East End fire station. The matter is to be brought to the attention of the health board.

Not long ago a wagon load of overripe potatoes was dumped along the bank of the run, but at that time nothing was said of the matter. It had been the custom of these persons to dig a hole along the run and bury their garbage, but they have become bolder, and after taking their garbage to the run, dump it as soon as possible. It is the desire of the residents that the board of health make a thorough investigation of this matter and if necessary information will be given to the officials in order that punishment may be given the guilty.

Stepmother Beat a Child And Later Packed Up And Departed.

The story of a broken-up home was told in the East End this morning, because, as reported, a stepmother beat a girl. The family is one of the most prominent in the End End, and when it became generally known no end of surprise was expressed. The husband of the woman, who removed a portion of the furniture from her home to the city, is employed in one of the East End potteries. The moving was done while the man was at work. During Monday morning the stepmother whipped a daughter of her husband, and the brother, thinking that the correction had been sufficient, stepped up to his stepmother and said: "I think this matter had better stop now," and it did.

The woman, it is said, was about to strike the young man, but reconsidered and instead commenced to pack her goods and leave the house. The woman is now said to be residing with other relatives in the city.

BEAVER MAY GET IT

New Sewer Pipe Plant Likely to Go Across the Line Into Pennsylvania.

It was stated last week that men who were interested in the formation of a company to build a new sewer pipe works were in the east on business connected with the new proposition, and while there gave out the information that they would not build the new plant in this vicinity, as was previously expected. The reason for this is the high taxes. Instead the new plant, it is said, will be built in the valley of Beaver, where the rate of taxes is much lower than in this section.

The plans for the new building have been completed and the ground has been purchased. It is thought that some of the men now working in the various sewer pipe plants in this section will be employed at the new works after it is completed.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Street Railway Stockholders Promises to Be an Important One.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Railway company, it is said, will be held at the office of the company at the power house next month, when matters of a momentous nature will be considered.

While this statement does not come from an official of the company, it is most likely true, as it was made by a person high up in the confidence of the company.

One matter that will be considered is the election of officers for the coming year, and besides this matters concerning the improvement of the road will also be discussed at length. It may be that after this meeting some information concerning the building of the new Lisbon line will be given out.

Home Circle Growing.

Quite a large attended meeting of the East End Protected Home Circle was held last evening in the hall on First avenue, when 20 new members were initiated. The circle also made a change in its local laws by amending the constitution to read that by the payment of an additional 75 cents a quarter, all sick and disabled members will receive $4 a week for a term of 26 weeks, and also a nurse. Their dues will also be paid during this time.

Presented a Dinner Set.

To Call a Pastor.

A congregational meeting of the members of the Second U. P .church will be held at the church one week from tonight, when it is said a call will be issued for a pastor. So far none of the members of the church care to express an opinion as to who will receive the call.

Railroad Improvement.

The Pennsylvania company has distributed a number of new ties along the road in the vicinity of the East End and in a few weeks will replace the old ties. These ties have been scattered along the road from near Ralston's Crossing to above the flint mill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Edward Green, of the East End, has purchased a fast driving horse from Wellsville parties.

Edward Fisher, the pottery promoter of the East End, will leave for Steubenville tomorrow, where he will reside.

Mrs. Mazie Dean, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Almy, of Pennsylvania avenue, practically all winter has returned to ner home.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Marshall, of Hamilton, O., are visiting at the home of Conductor Marshall in the East End. Mr. Marshall was until recently physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Hamilton, and was married early in April.

Henry Chambers, of Pennsylvania avenue, left this morning for Marion, O., where he went for the purpose of bringing to the East End Mrs. Chambers, who has been in a sanitarium for several weeks. It is said her condition has been improved but little.

Refused a Marriage License.

Frank Marietta, of Winona, and Miss Freshnack, of Hanoverton, applied to the proabte court at Lisbon for a license to marry, which was refused them on account of the youth of the would-be groom. Marietta was but 19 years of age and did not have the written consent of his parents.

SIX VICTIMS OF WATERSPOUT.

Flood of Water In Covington, Ky. Storm Damage In Cincinnati and Vicinity.

Cincinnati, May 21.—A terrific wind and rain storm, accompanied by a waterspout, swept over this locality yesterday, causing the loss of six lives and injuring many others. The fury of the storm continued only 30 minutes, but the damage wrought in that time will amount to more than a million dollars in the business section of Cincinnati, and n as much more in other parts of the city and its suburbs.

New Sewer Pipe Plant Likely to Go Across the Line Into Pennsylvania.

It was stated last week that men who were interested in the formation of a company to build a new sewer pipe works were in the east on business connected with the new proposition, and while there gave out the information that they would not build the new plant in this vicinity, as was previously expected. The reason for this is the high taxes. Instead the new plant, it is said, will be built in the valley of Beaver, where the rate of taxes is much lower than in this section.

The plans for the new building have been completed and the ground has been purchased. It is thought that some of the men now working in the various sewer pipe plants in this section will be employed at the new works after it is completed.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Street Railway Stockholders Promises to Be an Important One.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Railway company, it is said, will be held at the office of the company at the power house next month, when matters of a momentous nature will be considered.

While this statement does not come from an official of the company, it is most likely true, as it was made by a person high up in the confidence of the company.

One matter that will be considered is the election of officers for the coming year, and besides this matters concerning the improvement of the road will also be discussed at length. It may be that after this meeting some information concerning the building of the new Lisbon line will be given out.

Home Circle Growing.

Quite a large attended meeting of the East End Protected Home Circle was held last evening in the hall on First avenue, when 20 new members were initiated. The circle also made a change in its local laws by amending the constitution to read that by the payment of an additional 75 cents a quarter, all sick and disabled members will receive $4 a week for a term of 26 weeks, and also a nurse. Their dues will also be paid during this time.

Presented a Dinner Set.

To Call a Pastor.

A congregational meeting of the members of the Second U. P. church will be held at the church one week from tonight, when it is said a call will be issued for a pastor. So far none of the members of the church care to express an opinion as to who will receive the call.

Railroad Improvement.

The Pennsylvania company has distributed a number of new ties along the road in the vicinity of the East End and in a few weeks will replace the old ties. These ties have been scattered along the road from near Ralston's Crossing to above the flint mill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Edward Green, of the East End, has purchased a fast driving horse from Wellsville parties.

Edward Fisher, the pottery promoter of the East End, will leave for Steubenville tomorrow, where he will reside.

Mrs. Mazie Dean, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Almy, of Pennsylvania avenue, practically all winter has returned to ner home.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Marshall, of Hamilton, O., are visiting at the home of Conductor Marshall in the East End. Mr. Marshall was until recently physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Hamilton, and was married early in April.

Henry Chambers, of Pennsylvania avenue, left this morning for Marion, O., where he went for the purpose of bringing to the East End Mrs. Chambers, who has been in a sanitarium for several weeks. It is said her condition has been improved but little.

Refused a Marriage License.

Frank Marietta, of Winona, and Miss Freshnack, of Hanoverton, applied to the proabte court at Lisbon for a license to marry, which was refused them on account of the youth of the would-be groom. Marietta was but 19 years of age and did not have the written consent of his parents.

SIX VICTIMS OF WATERSPOUT.

Flood of Water In Covington, Ky. Storm Damage In Cincinnati and Vicinity.

Cincinnati, May 21.—A terrific wind and rain storm, accompanied by a waterspout, swept over this locality yesterday, causing the loss of six lives and injuring many others. The fury of the storm continued only 30 minutes, but the damage wrought in that time will amount to more than a million dollars in the business section of Cincinnati, and n as much more in other parts of the city and its suburbs.

The Dead.

Willie Willen, aged 4.
George Pecker.
Ferdinand Rapp.
D. W. C. Bellevue.

There was a terrific waterspout on the Lewisburg hills, in the southern suburbs of Covington, Ky., and it moved over the Kentucky suburbs into this city, passing up the Miami valley with damages reported as far as Dayton, O. Storm damages were reported throughout Kentucky.

The water rolled down the hills in the Covington suburbs in a wave 20 feet deep at places and about 100 yards wide. The dead were victims of the waterspout.

Boers Were Repulsed.

Middelburg, Cape Colony, May 21.—The town of Aberdeen, about 75 miles south of here, was attacked on Sunday last by 120 Boers, who were repulsed. Commandant Van Herden was killed.

There is no slate for the coming Republican state convention, and there are enough contests promises to make the occasion a decidedly interesting one. For the most important nomination, that for supreme court judge, eastern Ohio has a conspicuous and decidedly strong candidate in Hon. M. A. Norris, of Youngstown. He cannot be classed as a politician, though he has long been an active and influential Republican, and he is admirably fitted by ability, training and extensive practice for the office to which he aspires. Other candidates for the same office, all men of high character and excellent reputation, are: Judge Burrows, of Painesville; Judge Crew, of Morgan; Phillips, of Cuyahoga; Savage, of Clinton; Summers, of Clark, and W. O. Henderson, Franklin. Fred Herbst, Louis Kaufmaan and M. A. Bridge, all of Columbus, and E. A. Batt, of Cleveland, are leaders in the contest for Dairy and Food Commissioner Blackburn's shoes. Herbst and Bridge are Blackburn's deputies. For members of the board of public works nearly a dozen names will be suggested.

Unnecessary obstructions continue to multiply in East Liverpool streets. It seems to be a common practice for those who have no convenient place to store articles that are too heavy for thieves to carry off to pile them into the street until they are demanded for use. It is no unusual thing to find a street obstructed for half its width by the action of some one who has chosen to use it as a dumping ground or for storage purposes. This practice cannot be defended. Accidents to vehicles and pedestrians, and resultant damage suits are common enough without inviting them. The street commissioner should see that the streets are kept open for the uses for which they were intended.

War has lost a good deal of its pride, pomp and circumstance since Shakespeare wrote about it. It is now a grim and terrible business. In the British campaigns in Africa colors and martial music have been little used and less favored. Before a corps proceeds to active service, its banners are rolled up and carefully laid away, that they may be fresh and pretty "when Johnny comes marching home again."

Round the first in the battle against the beef combine has been won by the government in the interests of the people. To a layman it appears that there is law enough to break up the harmful combination. Judge Grosscup evidently holds a similar opinion and has therefore struck a blow at the trust which bids fair either to kill it or so cripple it as to render it harmless.

Senator Dolliver says he is disappointed because not a single helpful suggestion has been made by the minority during the debate on the Philippine bill. The Democrats who have offered helpful suggestions when a problem requiring statesmanship for its solution presented itself have been conspicuous by the absence from congress in recent years.

Senator Gorman is a level headed politician. He tells the Democracy in effect that they must seek some better issue than a defense of the Filipino bushwhackers and bolomen in order to cut a respectable figure in the coming congressional campaign.

The president of France is paying a short visit to the czar of Russia. There are still blocks of ice in the latter country, so that a bomb-proof overcoat is not as uncomfortable as it might be later in the season.

Is some Democratic member of congress likely to call for an investigation of the conduct of the war against the insurrection at Atlanta? Judging from accounts published the uprising is quite serious.

Wyoming may be experiencing those driving snow storms which are reported with so much minuteness. Then again, she may be shrewdly advertising her attractions as a summer resort.

A census bureau is to be permanently established at Washington on July 1. Hereafter it may be possible to complete the publication of one set of census reports before another is due.

As soon as Uncle Sam seized the beef trust bull by the horns the formidable animal ceased its pawing and bellowing and became as meek as a little lamb.

The indictment of 10 persons at Toledo, mainly city officials, for bribery, does not indicate that a golden rule administration has kept all the rascals out.

Chester will soon have a double-track street railway, and what is yet more important, will have business for it.

There is a vacancy in the presidency of Hayti, but even William J. Bryan does not want it.

Water has proven fatal to a number of Kentucky people, but they did not take it internally.

Isn't that new East Liverpool city directory about due?

When Coins Were First Made.

Certain passages in the "Iliad" of Homer would lead to the inference that coins of brass were struck as early as 1184 B. C. Tradition affirms that the Chinese had bronze coins as early as 1120 B. C. But Herodotus, "the father of history," ascribes the "invention" of coins to the Lydians, about nine centuries B. C., and there is no satisfactory evidence that coins were known prior to that date.

POTTERY NEWS

Robert Hawkins, manager of the clay shops of the new pottery being built at Barberton, was in the city on business yesterday. Mr. Hawkins said: "We expected to begin making clay about the first of June, but this has been found impossible. The engine was to have been in place early last month, and on Monday we just received the bill of lading for it. The engine will not be in place for at least a week, and some other matters will have to be arranged before we can start the plant, which we expect will be in July. The contractors are making rapid progress on the plant, and by the time the clay shops are started the plant will be practically finished. We have about all the men we need to start up, and many of them will be from this city. Many applications were filed with Ambrose Cartwright before he left this city for Barberton. Almost a full stock of moulds have been made for the clay shops, and when the plant does start no time will be lost on account of 'no moulds.'"

There was a rumor yesterday that a meeting of all the boss packers of the city had been held Monday at the office of one of the hill potteries, but this was found, after a thorough investigation, to be untrue. Connected with the rumor came the assertion that a number of the boss packers had conferred with several manufacturers and a day wage had been arranged for the coming year, commencing July 1. This report was quite out of reason, as some of the boss packers are quite satisfied with the manner in which they are now working and desire no change. When a boss packer, who is a member of No. 25, was asked about the rumored meeting he would not talk.

The gas engine at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company has been set up, and it will be ready to operate as soon as other machinery in other parts of the plant can be installed. This is being done at a rapid rate, and it will be but a short time until the new plant is started. The new kiln is about ready to be topped out, and it will not be long until another kiln may be ordered built.

More decorated ware is being shipped from the local plants than has been the case for some time, taking the time of year into consideration. A well known packer stated this morning that, compared with past years, little white ware was being shipped now, and also that a better class of ware was being demanded.

Charles Emmerling, who has been employed as a handle maker at the Diamond for almost a year, has resigned his position, and is now learning the trade of sewer pipe making. He is employed at the Walker plant of the American Sewer Pipe company, and started to work there last Monday.

Robert Larkins, who is well known in this city, and who is employed at the French China plant at Sebring, had a $45 watch stolen from his clothes while at work a few days ago. He notified the Sebring police, but when he returned to his work yesterday he found the watch lying on his bench.

Thomas Jolly, who has had charge of the sagger making at the Laughlin No. 2 for some time, has resigned. His position is being filled by John Orr, who went to No. 3 plant from McNicol's. Joe Jackson, who has been at No. 2, has been transferred to No. 3.

The packers at the Cartwright pottery were unable to work yesterday afternoon on account of a shortage of ware to fill some of the orders that were being filled during the morning. This ware was to come through the decorating kilns during the night.

The new press at the Union will be installed in a few days. All the machinery has been placed for this new addition, and it is expected by Manager Joseph Manor that the press will be working in a very short time.

Miss Anna Moore, who has been forewoman of the glost warehouse at the Diamond for several months, has resigned that position and is now employed at the same plant as a finisher.

The first kiln of green ware has been placed at Laughlin No. 3, and is now being fired. The glost kilnmen will start to work at this plant within a few days.

At a meeting of the mould makers' local, one week from tonight, the report of the delegates to the convention will be heard.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

FEMININE CHAT.

Miss Alice Smith of Cheyenne has been re-elected secretary of the Wyoming Cattle Growers' association.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association, has gone to Montana in the hope of receiving benefit for lung trouble.

Mrs. Nancy H. Adsit, for more than twenty years one of the best known women lecturers on art topics in the country, died recently in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Joplin Rowe and Miss Lucy Kemp-Welch are the first women to be elected members of the Royal Society of British Artists, although the organization is 117 years old.

Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, wife of the United States embassador at the court of St. James, is an excellent photographer and water color artist and is also proficient in music and languages.

Mme. Jules Cambon, the wife of the French embassador in Washington, had never been in the United States, and what has brought her now are the approaching festivities in connection with the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue.

Mrs. Katherine Holland, the mother of Joseph, E. M. and George Holland, the actors, is dead. The Little Church Around the Corner, in New York, was given its name at the time of the death of her husband, George Holland, in 1870, who was buried from the church.

Dr. Julia Carpenter has been elected president of the Obstetrical society of Cincinnati, O., for 1902. This society is composed of the leading gynecologists and surgeons of Cincinnati. There are in nearly all our large cities similar societies, many of which do not admit women to membership, much less to office.

Saved In Installments.

A couple of Scottish ferrymen rowing a somewhat dandified Englishman out to a steamer at one of the Clyde watering places saw to their consternation the man tumble over the gunwale of the boat into the water.

The foremost ferryman dropped his oar and made a grab at the man as he rose to the surface, catching him by the wig, which came away in his hand.

Throwing this into the boat impatiently, he made a second grab, catching the collar of his shirt, when the collar and front came away in his hands.

Casting these away from him in great disgust, he cried, "Man, Donald, come here quick and help's to save as muckle o' this man as ye can, for he's comin' awa' in bits!"

There is no slate for the coming Republican state convention, and there are enough contests promises to make the occasion a decidedly interesting one. For the most important nomination, that for supreme court judge, eastern Ohio has a conspicuous and decidedly strong candidate in Hon. M. A. Norris, of Youngstown. He cannot be classed as a politician, though he has long been an active and influential Republican, and he is admirably fitted by ability, training and extensive practice for the office to which he aspires. Other candidates for the same office, all men of high character and excellent reputation, are: Judge Burrows, of Painesville; Judge Crew, of Morgan; Phillips, of Cuyahoga; Savage, of Clinton; Summers, of Clark, and W. O. Henderson, Franklin. Fred Herbst, Louis Kaufmaan and M. A. Bridge, all of Columbus, and E. A. Batt, of Cleveland, are leaders in the contest for Dairy and Food Commissioner Blackburn's shoes. Herbst and Bridge are Blackburn's deputies. For members of the board of public works nearly a dozen names will be suggested.

Unnecessary obstructions continue to multiply in East Liverpool streets. It seems to be a common practice for those who have no convenient place to store articles that are too heavy for thieves to carry off to pile them into the street until they are demanded for use. It is no unusual thing to find a street obstructed for half its width by the action of some one who has chosen to use it as a dumping ground or for storage purposes. This practice cannot be defended. Accidents to vehicles and pedestrians, and resultant damage suits are common enough without inviting them. The street commissioner should see that the streets are kept open for the uses for which they were intended.

War has lost a good deal of its pride, pomp and circumstance since Shakespeare wrote about it. It is now a grim and terrible business. In the British campaigns in Africa colors and martial music have been little used and less favored. Before a corps proceeds to active service, its banners are rolled up and carefully laid away, that they may be fresh and pretty "when Johnny comes marching home again."

Round the first in the battle against the beef combine has been won by the government in the interests of the people. To a layman it appears that there is law enough to break up the harmful combination. Judge Grosscup evidently holds a similar opinion and has therefore struck a blow at the trust which bids fair either to kill it or so cripple it as to render it harmless.

Senator Dolliver says he is disappointed because not a single helpful suggestion has been made by the minority during the debate on the Philippine bill. The Democrats who have offered helpful suggestions when a problem requiring statesmanship for its solution presented itself have been conspicuous by the absence from congress in recent years.

Senator Gorman is a level headed politician. He tells the Democracy in effect that they must seek some better issue than a defense of the Filipino bushwhackers and bolomen in order to cut a respectable figure in the coming congressional campaign.

The president of France is paying a short visit to the czar of Russia. There are still blocks of ice in the latter country, so that a bomb-proof overcoat is not as uncomfortable as it might be later in the season.

Is some Democratic member of congress likely to call for an investigation of the conduct of the war against the insurrection at Atlanta? Judging from accounts published the uprising is quite serious.

Wyoming may be experiencing those driving snow storms which are reported with so much minuteness. Then again, she may be shrewdly advertising her attractions as a summer resort.

A census bureau is to be permanently established at Washington on July 1. Hereafter it may be possible to complete the publication of one set of census reports before another is due.

As soon as Uncle Sam seized the beef trust bull by the horns the formidable animal ceased its pawing and bellowing and became as meek as a little lamb.

The indictment of 10 persons at Toledo, mainly city officials, for bribery, does not indicate that a golden rule administration has kept all the rascals out.

Chester will soon have a double-track street railway, and what is yet more important, will have business for it.

There is a vacancy in the presidency of Hayti, but even William J. Bryan does not want it.

Water has proven fatal to a number of Kentucky people, but they did not take it internally.

Isn't that new East Liverpool city directory about due?

When Coins Were First Made.

Certain passages in the "Iliad" of Homer would lead to the inference that coins of brass were struck as early as 1184 B. C. Tradition affirms that the Chinese had bronze coins as early as 1120 B. C. But Herodotus, "the father of history," ascribes the "invention" of coins to the Lydians, about nine centuries B. C., and there is no satisfactory evidence that coins were known prior to that date.

POTTERY NEWS

Robert Hawkins, manager of the clay shops of the new pottery being built at Barberton, was in the city on business yesterday. Mr. Hawkins said: "We expected to begin making clay about the first of June, but this has been found impossible. The engine was to have been in place early last month, and on Monday we just received the bill of lading for it. The engine will not be in place for at least a week, and some other matters will have to be arranged before we can start the plant, which we expect will be in July. The contractors are making rapid progress on the plant, and by the time the clay shops are started the plant will be practically finished. We have about all the men we need to start up, and many of them will be from this city. Many applications were filed with Ambrose Cartwright before he left this city for Barberton. Almost a full stock of moulds have been made for the clay shops, and when the plant does start no time will be lost on account of 'no moulds.'"

There was a rumor yesterday that a meeting of all the boss packers of the city had been held Monday at the office of one of the hill potteries, but this was found, after a thorough investigation, to be untrue. Connected with the rumor came the assertion that a number of the boss packers had conferred with several manufacturers and a day wage had been arranged for the coming year, commencing July 1. This report was quite out of reason, as some of the boss packers are quite satisfied with the manner in which they are now working and desire no change. When a boss packer, who is a member of No. 25, was asked about the rumored meeting he would not talk.

The gas engine at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company has been set up, and it will be ready to operate as soon as other machinery in other parts of the plant can be installed. This is being done at a rapid rate, and it will be but a short time until the new plant is started. The new kiln is about ready to be topped out, and it will not be long until another kiln may be ordered built.

More decorated ware is being shipped from the local plants than has been the case for some time, taking the time of year into consideration. A well known packer stated this morning that, compared with past years, little white ware was being shipped now, and also that a better class of ware was being demanded.

Charles Emmerling, who has been employed as a handle maker at the Diamond for almost a year, has resigned his position, and is now learning the trade of sewer pipe making. He is employed at the Walker plant of the American Sewer Pipe company, and started to work there last Monday.

Robert Larkins, who is well known in this city, and who is employed at the French China plant at Sebring, had a $45 watch stolen from his clothes while at work a few days ago. He notified the Sebring police, but when he returned to his work yesterday he found the watch lying on his bench.

Thomas Jolly, who has had charge of the sagger making at the Laughlin No. 2 for some time, has resigned. His position is being filled by John Orr, who went to No. 3 plant from McNicol's. Joe Jackson, who has been at No. 2, has been transferred to No. 3.

The packers at the Cartwright pottery were unable to work yesterday afternoon on account of a shortage of ware to fill some of the orders that were being filled during the morning. This ware was to come through the decorating kilns during the night.

The new press at the Union will be installed in a few days. All the machinery has been placed for this new addition, and it is expected by Manager Joseph Manor that the press will be working in a very short time.

Miss Anna Moore, who has been forewoman of the glost warehouse at the Diamond for several months, has resigned that position and is now employed at the same plant as a finisher.

The first kiln of green ware has been placed at Laughlin No. 3, and is now being fired. The glost kilnmen will start to work at this plant within a few days.

At a meeting of the mould makers' local, one week from tonight, the report of the delegates to the convention will be heard.

THE NEW POLICEMEN

One Already Sworn In and on Duty. Chief In New Uniform.

John Henthorn, one of the new night watchmen appointed and confirmed at the Monday evening session of council, was sworn in last night by Mayor Fogo, and immediately went on duty.

Mr. Henthorn is a very stalwart man and from all appearances will make a first-class officer.

George W .Wiley, who was also appointed at the Monday evening session as a night watchman, will be sworn in within a few days, at which time Dallas Pittinger will retire.

Chief Henry Thorn made his appearance this morning clad in a new uniform, and from that it is thought he is to be reappointed chief of police, although the mayor will have nothing to say regarding this rumor until the next council meeting, at which time he intends to make the appointment.

Mr. Thorn seems to be about the only available man for the office, and already knows the ropes, which is also in his favor.

FRESHWATER ON HAND

The Contractor Says He Will Have His Work Completed on Time.

At the meeting held Monday evening council's attention was again called to the fact that E. A. Freshwater, of Penrith, W. Va., who was awarded the contract for the paving of Liverpool and Fourth streets and Maple and Cherry alleys, had not yet commenced work.

Council was informed at the meeting that Mr. Freshwater would arrive yesterday to attend to the work and the matter was dropped for the time being. He arrived yesterday as stated and is preparing to break ground for the paving of these streets and alleys at once.

He states that he will have all of the contracts completed within the time specified in the contract, so that the city will have no complaint whatever to make.

COOPER-ROSS

Wellsville Girl and Pittsburg Business Man Wedded at the Bride's Home.

A very quiet wedding took place this afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock at the Cooper residence near the corner of Broadway and Sixth street. The contracting parties were Miss Elizabeth Cooper, a popular trained nurse of this city, and Mr. Edwin S. Ross, a successful business man of Pittsburg. Rev. C. E. Clark, pastor of the First M. E. church, performed the ceremony, using the ring ceremony.

FLOODED THE STREET

Joint In the New Main on Clark Avenue Blew Out Last Evening.

Employes of the water works department were engaged today in repairing the new water main on Clark avenue, a joint of which blew out last evening flooding the street.

People residing in that vicinity were badly scared for a time, thinking that if the flow of water was not checked at once that Clark avenue would present an appearance like that of Sixth street in Pittsburg during the recent flood, when those wishing to leave their places of business were compelled to board skiffs and row to their destinations. The water was soon shut off, however, and the defective joint replaced with a new one this morning.

An Enjoyable Party.

Mrs. T. R. Andrews gave a very enjoyable party last evening at her home on Main street. About 60 people were present and spent a most enjoyable evening. Light refreshments were served at a late hour.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

F. S. Grace, of Steubenville, is calling on Wellsville friends.

Miss Flora Mannist has returned from a short Pittsburg trip.

John McSweeney, of Main street, is visting friends in Pittsburg.

T. E. Cooper, of Wheeling, is in the city for a few days on business.

E. G. Whitacre left yesterday on a ten days' western business trip.

Rev. L. C. Wells and C. H. Black were Pittsburg visitors yesterday.

Carl Cope and Lewy Long were visiting friends at Irondale yesterday.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd was in Lisbon yesterday on legal business.

J. D. Strock, of Beaver, was in the city last evening on a short business trip.

Miss Harriet Junkin, of Tenth street, is again able to be out after a severe illness.

Mrs. H. A. Starrett, of Main street, went to Pittsburg yesterday on a short business trip.

The Pullman sleeping car Tyrolean, passed through the city yesterday on the main line train.

Charles Sheff received word yesterday of the death of his father at Crestline, and has gone there to attend the funeral services.

Duncan Stanford, formerly of this city, who has been visiting old friends both here and at East Liverpool for the past few days, returned last evening to his home at Toronto.

Mrs. Conn Mulhair left last night for Ravenna, where she will nurse her husband who is very ill at the home of his parents with an attack of typhoid pneumonia.

RUSHING THE WORK

Rock Springs Street Railway Has a Large Force Engaged in Double Tracking.

Ground for the double tracking of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs street railway has been broken from Rock Springs park west on Carolina avenue to Third street. Work is being rapidly rushed, and it is thought that by Saturday evening all of the ties on the street mentioned will be laid. A large force of men is kept at work every day and the company does not intend to lose a minute's time in completing the work.

The first picnic of the season will be held at the park on May 30, and Manager Maxwell thinks that the track will be laid from the Ohio river bridge to the park at that time.

Two new open cars arrived yesterday from the Laclede Car company, of St. Louis, and will be put into service, together with their several other summer cars already on hand, as soon as the double track is complete.

On picnic days cars will be run at three minute intervals.

HIGHER OFFICIALS

Must Act on Request of Tin Mill Electricians for Increased Wages.

When the electricians of the Chester tin mill asked for an advance of two cents an hour yesterday, the management of the mill is said to have told the men that 18 cents an hour was all the companny was paying for such work in any mill, and nothing could be done with the request by the local officials, the question having to be presented to higher officials.

The men claim that when they took their positions in this department they were told that 18 cents would be paid the men until they were entirely acquainted with their work, after which they would be advanced to 20 cents an hour. The men, thinking they were justly entitled to the advance, presented their demands to the local officials of the mill.

It is understood that several of the men will be granted an advance, but not all employes of the department.

OFF THE TRACK

Engine And Cars Derailed at the Chester Tin Mill This Morning.

A small wreck occurred early this morning on the Panhandle branch in Chester near the tin mill. The local freight engine, No. 135, was damaged in switching a few cars into the tin mill yards when a rail broke, resulting in the derailing of the engine and three freight cars. The wreck train from Steubenville was called and soon arrived and had the locomotive and cars replaced on the track before noon.

The passenger train was unable to get any farther than the tin mill, and on the noon run its first stop was at First street. This is the first wreck of the kind that has occurred on the new Panhandle branch since it was built nearly two years ago.

CONCO FERRY WILL RUN

Judge Hervey Will Not Interfere While the Hancock County Case Is Pending.

Judge J. C. Hervey, of the West Virginia circuit court, decided Monday that the new ferry boat Emily could ply between Wellsville and Congo until the case which has been appealed to the circuit court from the Hancock county court is finally decided.

The order of supersedeas does not suspend the operation of the Hancock county court which granted a franchise to the owners of the boat to operate the ferry, and therefore they have a right to exercise the franchise in all respects as though no appeal of the case to the circuit court had been granted.

Railroad Company Making Improvements for Public Accommodation.

The Panhandle railroad has about completed a new crushed stone platform leading from the front of Rock Springs park to the Chester station for the accommodation of passengers on excursion trains.

Other improvements are to be made soon for the accommodation of excursionists.

It has been stated by different people in Chester that a long train shed is to be erected at the rear of the railroad platform in front of the park. This has been denied by railroad officials.

FELL FROM A WAGON

Melva Hite Dislocated Her Shoulder While Driving to Town.

Little Miss Melva Hite was the victime of a very painful accident early last evening while riding with her sister from Hookstown to Chester in a spring wagon.

She was trying to hold a crate of eggs on the wagon while her sister did the driving, and in some manner lost her equilibrium and fell to the ground, dislocating her shoulder. She was immediately brought to her home on Carolina avenue, where a doctor was called and set the shoulder. She does not seem to suffer much today, although the injury is yet painful.

Has a Job in Wheeling.

A. M. Noiing, who was formerly a conductor on the East Liverpool & Rock Springs street railway, is now employed as a motorman on one of the Wheeling lines. He came to Chester last evening on the Queen City, and after remaining here a short time will return to Wheeling.

CHESTER NOTES.

All of the side walks have been removed from Rock Springs park pavilion.

Lawrence Chaney has moved from Wellsville to Chester, where he will work in the mill.

Miss Mamie Schooles, who has been ill for several days past, is worse today. The malady has developed into typhoid fever.

James Householder and Robert Tolson have each moved their families to Chester from Irondale. They are employed in the mill.

William Croxall and wife have returned home from an extended trip to the west, where they have been since last December.

U. S. CONCENTRATION CAMPS.

Those In Philippines Both Condemned and Defended, In the Senate.

Washington, May 21.—The subject of the concentration of the inhabitants in the Philippines into camps was a leading topic of the discussion of the Philppne bill in the senate yesterday. Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, attacked the policy of concentration, likening it to the reconcentrado camps established by General Weyler in Cuba.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, defended the action of the military authorities in establishing the camps in the Philippines as wise and proper and as a means of protecting friendly Filipinos from assassination at the hands of roving bands of insurgents. He read a description of the camps to show that they were really camps of instruction and sanitation.

Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, spoke briefly in line with Mr. Bacon, criticising the concentration camps and pointng out the difficulty in getting army officers to testify regarding the situation.

Yesterday's debate was closed by Mr. Clapp, of Minnesota, in an eloquent speech, in which he urged that the Filipinos ought to be taught to admire and respect the United States as a nation which always had stood for liberty and progress and never had broken its word to any people, great or small.

INSTRUCTED THE CONFEREES.

House So Acted on Army Bill Amendments.

Washington, May 21.—For a third time within a week the house has instructed its conferees on matters of dispute between the senate and house. Yesterday the instructions were given on amendments in the army appropriation bill before the conferees had even considered the matter in controversy. The motion to instruct was made by Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, chairman of the appropriation committee. It was resisted by Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, and the somewhat spirited debate which followed developed antagonism between the committees. The amendment at which Mr. Cannon aimed was that which increased the appropriation for military posts from three to four million dollars.

MYRON A. NORRIS FOR SUPREME JUDGE

Mahoning county will this year present to the republican state convention the name of Myron A. Norris as a candidate for supreme judge. Mr. Norris will come before the convention with the united support of eastern Ohio. Mahoning county is enthusiastic in his behalf, and it is claimed for him that he will have the support of the entire Seventh circuit. Mr. Norris has the indorsement of his professional associates, and if elected will bring to the position to which he is chosen all of those qualifications which are essential to the good judge. He has a mind well stored with knowledge of the law, in short, he has what lawyers call a legal mind that reaches out in a scientific manner and grasps the reasons of legal rules and does not become confused and grope blindly among the masses of conflicting authorities, some of which are ill-considered which now threatens to throw our jurisprudence into inextricable confusion. With habits of industry and energy, Mr. Norris has also the confidence of all his associates at the bar; he has also the legal training which comes only to a lawyer engaged in the active practice at the trial table.

Mr. Norris has been in the general practice of the law for nearly 30 years. He is 52 years of age. Has been a lifelong republican. Was chairman of the state central committee of Ohio during the years of 1899-1900. His party service merits the approval of his fellow republicans.

Mr. Norris is honest, upright and independent; has the absolute confidence and indorsement of the bar association of his county. Mr. Norris never held any public office, although his voice has been long listened to in the councils of his party, and northeastern Ohio will either secure for him the nomination for supreme judgeship or they will compliment him with a support of which he may always be proud.

HONORED BY THE POPE.

American Woman Receives Cap Worn by Him During Jubilee.

Countess de Spottiswood Mackin while in Rome on the occasion of the recent jubilee of Pope Leo received an especial favor from the venerable head of the Catholic church. Countess Mackin, who was formerly Miss Sally Britten of St. Louis, author and society woman, was received at a special audience by the pope.

receives no one except the representatives of foreign missions, members of the sacred college and diplomats. After the audience the pope sent his skull cap, worn by him at the jubilee, to Countess Mackin.

With one exception Countess de Spottiswood Mackin is the only American countess created by the pope. The other is Miss Leary of New York, who recently received the title.

ONE OF NATURE'S LAWS.

Action and Reaction That Produce a Fit of the Blues.

Probably in two cases out of three the blues are caused by one's physical state. If a man has overworked or has been under any unusual strain or excitement or has worried a great deal or has been for a while in a state of joy and elation—all of which require an expenditure of energy—he is very likely to have the blues and to be in low spirits by way of reaction.

The body is a machine which can do a certain amount of work and no more. If it does a great deal today, it must do less tomorrow and thereby make up for today's extravagance. If a man takes one glass of whisky, the slight stimulus that he feels will be followed, as night follows day, by an exactly equivalent sinking of the spirits. If he has been thoroughly and gayly drunk, his recovery will be attended by corresponding melancholia and misery.

When a man has the blues, he ought to consider that he is merely an exponent of one of nature's laws and that he has no right to harass others with complaints. Some men are not pleased unless they communicate their unpleasant moods to all about them. They become sulky and cross with their wives and children, and they throw a gloom over their household. Such conduct is very selfish.

A man in the blues ought to take some pills and a good long walk all alone or with some companion of steadfast cheerfulness. Lucky it is for him if he has a wife who will not be downcast and who can restore him to cheerfulness without spoiling him.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Funny Signs of the Times.

Some persons find as much fun in reading signboards as others do in reading the comic papers. Here are a few oddities reported by observing travelers, the first of which evidently was displayed in front of a butcher's shop:

"I kill myself every Tuesday and Friday."

"Take notis when this board is out of site the river is dangerous."

"Widow with large family wants washing by the week."

"Ladies and gents sold and healed."

"This is the old shop just come from above."

"A large stock of ladies' hose, pure cashmere, to be cleared 25 cents the pair. They won't last long at this price."

"Abominable belts made to order."

"Closed for the day owing to funeral of proprietor's wife and who will carry on as usual tomorrow morning."—New York Press.

THE NEW POLICEMEN

One Already Sworn In and on Duty. Chief In New Uniform.

John Henthorn, one of the new night watchmen appointed and confirmed at the Monday evening session of council, was sworn in last night by Mayor Fogo, and immediately went on duty.

Mr. Henthorn is a very stalwart man and from all appearances will make a first-class officer.

George W. Wiley, who was also appointed at the Monday evening session as a night watchman, will be sworn in within a few days, at which time Dallas Pittinger will retire.

Chief Henry Thorn made his appearance this morning clad in a new uniform, and from that it is thought he is to be reappointed chief of police, although the mayor will have nothing to say regarding this rumor until the next council meeting, at which time he intends to make the appointment.

Mr. Thorn seems to be about the only available man for the office, and already knows the ropes, which is also in his favor.

FRESHWATER ON HAND

The Contractor Says He Will Have His Work Completed on Time.

At the meeting held Monday evening council's attention was again called to the fact that E. A. Freshwater, of Penrith, W. Va., who was awarded the contract for the paving of Liverpool and Fourth streets and Maple and Cherry alleys, had not yet commenced work.

Council was informed at the meeting that Mr. Freshwater would arrive yesterday to attend to the work and the matter was dropped for the time being. He arrived yesterday as stated and is preparing to break ground for the paving of these streets and alleys at once.

He states that he will have all of the contracts completed within the time specified in the contract, so that the city will have no complaint whatever to make.

COOPER-ROSS

Wellsville Girl and Pittsburg Business Man Wedded at the Bride's Home.

A very quiet wedding took place this afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock at the Cooper residence near the corner of Broadway and Sixth street. The contracting parties were Miss Elizabeth Cooper, a popular trained nurse of this city, and Mr. Edwin S. Ross, a successful business man of Pittsburg. Rev. C. E. Clark, pastor of the First M. E. church, performed the ceremony, using the ring ceremony.

FLOODED THE STREET

Joint In the New Main on Clark Avenue Blew Out Last Evening.

Employes of the water works department were engaged today in repairing the new water main on Clark avenue, a joint of which blew out last evening flooding the street.

People residing in that vicinity were badly scared for a time, thinking that if the flow of water was not checked at once that Clark avenue would present an appearance like that of Sixth street in Pittsburg during the recent flood, when those wishing to leave their places of business were compelled to board skiffs and row to their destinations. The water was soon shut off, however, and the defective joint replaced with a new one this morning.

RUSHING THE WORK

Rock Springs Street Railway Has a Large Force Engaged in Double Tracking.

Ground for the double tracking of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs street railway has been broken from Rock Springs park west on Carolina avenue to Third street. Work is being rapidly rushed, and it is thought that by Saturday evening all of the ties on the street mentioned will be laid. A large force of men is kept at work every day and the company does not intend to lose a minute's time in completing the work.

The first picnic of the season will be held at the park on May 30, and Manager Maxwell thinks that the track will be laid from the Ohio river bridge to the park at that time.

Two new open cars arrived yesterday from the Laclede Car company, of St. Louis, and will be put into service, together with their several other summer cars already on hand, as soon as the double track is complete.

On picnic days cars will be run at three minute intervals.

Must Act on Request of Tin Mill Electricians for Increased Wages.

When the electricians of the Chester tin mill asked for an advance of two cents an hour yesterday, the management of the mill is said to have told the men that 18 cents an hour was all the companny was paying for such work in any mill, and nothing could be done with the request by the local officials, the question having to be presented to higher officials.

The men claim that when they took their positions in this department they were told that 18 cents would be paid the men until they were entirely acquainted with their work, after which they would be advanced to 20 cents an hour. The men, thinking they were justly entitled to the advance, presented their demands to the local officials of the mill.

It is understood that several of the men will be granted an advance, but not all employes of the department.

OFF THE TRACK

Engine And Cars Derailed at the Chester Tin Mill This Morning.

A small wreck occurred early this morning on the Panhandle branch in Chester near the tin mill. The local freight engine, No. 135, was damaged in switching a few cars into the tin mill yards when a rail broke, resulting in the derailing of the engine and taree freight cars. The wreck train from Steubenville was called and soon arrived and had the locomotive and cars replaced on the track before noon.

The passenger train was unable to get any farther than the tin mill, and on the noon run its first stop was at First street. This is the first wreck of the kind that has occurred on the new Panhandle branch since it was built nearly two years ago.

Judge Hervey Will Not Interfere While the Hancock County Case Is Pending.

Judge J. C. Hervey, of the West Virginia circuit court, decided Monday that the new ferry boat Emily could ply between Wellsville and Congo until the case which has been appealed to the circuit court from the Hancock county court is finally decided.

The order of supersedeas does not suspend the operation of the Hancock county court which granted a franchise to the owners of the boat to operate the ferry, and therefore they have a right to exercise the franchise in all respects as though no appeal of the case to the circuit court had been granted.

EAST LIVERPOOL WON

BUT ANOTHER BOWLING MATCH MUST BE PLAYED.

Scores Made Last Night Below the Average—Features of the Games.

Notwithstanding that the East Liverpool bowling team won the series from Captain Shingler's aggregation on the Craig-Carnahan alleys last evening, at least one more series will have to be played before the tie is broken and incidentally the championship of the two cities decided. Three series have been played. Shingler's team won the first. The second was a tie, and East Liverpool got the last.

In the games East Liverpool has had the advantage, two of the series being played on the alleys to which the members are accustomed. Another advantage over the Wellsville boys lies in the fact that the alleys on which Shingler's men have been rolling are not of regulation length, being 10 feet short. In the deciding series, which will likely be played next week, Shingler's men will have a little the best of it, as East Liverpool will have a chance to show its superiority on strange alleys.

The individual scores made last evening fell considerably below the average, only one man out of the ten bowling creditably. That man was Clark, of the local team. His average was 165 and in the second game he went near the 200 mark. Shingler bowled a pretty game and got a fair average. If he had received any support in the first game the locals would have lost the series. Hall played in tough luck. It seemed as though fate had him marked. Generally when a man throws a ball it will favor him occasionally, but Hall got left every time. A split was about as good as he could turn. Harsha had a crippled foot, but did well under the circumstances. Aten generally makes in the neighborhood of 200, but he wasn't there last night. His best was 161. However, his average was slightly above the general run of bowlers.

It was impossible for Craig to have any command over his ball. His intentions were always good, but he failed to carry them out. Rigby is really a good bowler, which fact he showed in the second game when he slaughtered 266 pins, but the trouble with the young man is that he can't hold up. He is a little uncertain, making over 200 in one game and in the following one about half as many. The cannon ball thrown by Mr. Gass has a tendency to make the pin boys fly to their roosts, but it is only semi-occasionally that he makes a score of any moment. He exclaimed last night, after seeing his score of 131 in the second game, that he was all in and would hereafter take as his opponent some lad of not more than 10 years. Russell made long runs and pretty slide and upon one occasion made a nice score, but his average was small.

The individual scores totaled as follows:

Shingler's team—Hall, 383; Shingler, 466; Aten, 460; Harsha, 356; Karr, 464.

RIVERVIEW MEET

Important Conference at Wheeling Regarding the Shoals In the Ohio.

An important conference was held at Wheeling yesterday between rivermen and Captain W. E. Craighill, who has charge of the upper Ohio river, regarding the pending improvements. Captain Craighill has been devoting considerable time to the problem presented by the shoal places in the Ohio river. Navigation between Parkersburg and Pittsburg could be continued several weeks longer in low water season were it not for a dozen bars or shallow places which effectually prevent the passage of steamboats, though there is plenty of water between these points. One of the objects of yesterday's conference, which was made by appointment, was to obtain views from rivermen regarding the points where dredging would be most advisable.

Captain Craighill has already taken aggressive steps in this direction. Last week he let the contract to the Monongahela and Western Dredging company to dredge White's riffle at Sewickley. The contract has not been finally let, but the company named made the most advantageous bid and will start the work as soon as the necessary documents are signed up. White's riffle is one of the shallowest places in the river, and the improvement is one long wished for by rivermen.

PROUD OF THE EIGHTH

An Officer Speaks in Complimentary Terms of This Ohio Regiment.

A Washington dispatch contains the following complimentary notice of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I.

Major E. H. Hathaway, formerly of Chicago and now chief supervisor of rural free delivery, was at Santiago when the American soldiers embarked for home after the Spanish evacuation, leaving only a small contingent of United States troops in the city.

"I only saw one organization of which I really felt proud," said Major Hathaway, as he discussed his experiences in Santiago the other day. That was the Eighth Ohio. All the other regiments, as they marched to the wharf to board the transports, slouched along the streets—and they usually took the back streets at that—as if they were ashamed.

"The Eighth Ohio, on the contrary, proudly paraded through the principal streets to the center of the city, where they halted while the band played 'Yankee Doodle.' To me it was the most inspiring incident of the whole campaign, and I never have forgotten the marching and the music of the Eighth Ohio."

IRON WORKER MISSING

Possessed Funds Entrusted to His Care—Was an Amalgamated Official.

Thomas Williams, a veteran iron worker of Zanesville, who was a candidate for the national presidency of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers against Theodore Shaffer at the recent convention in Wheeling, has disappeared. He is secretary of the Zanesville local of the Amalgamated association, and as such he held about $100 of the lodge funds. He also held in trust $200 for Richard Llewellen.

Mrs. Williams claims to have received a letter from him in which he says he lost much money during the Wheeling convention, but that he will pay all he owes. She refuses to reveal his whereabouts. The trust fund for the Llewellen benefit was raised among the ironworkers of Pittsburg, Wheeling and numerous Ohio cities, where Llewellen worked prior to locating in Zanesville.

EIGHTH OHIO REGIMENT

The Second Annual Reunion Will Be Held at Canton July 17 And 18.

The second annual reunion of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I., will be held in Canton July 17 and 18. It is expected that about 300 members of the regiment will be present, and it is probable that Captain Sigsbee, who was in command of the ill-fated Maine and who was also in command of the St. Paul, which conveyed the Eighth to Cuba, will attend.

Captain Sigsbee was made an honorary member of the regiment at last year's reunion and agreed at that time to go to Canton. In case he finds it impossible to attend, Admirals Schley or Dewey will be asked to be present.

The regiment is composed of 12 companies: I, F and L, of Canton; A, of Bucyrus; B, of Akron; C, of Polk; D, of Wooster; E, of East Liverpool; G, of Wadsworth; H, of Shreve; K, of Alliance, and M, of Mansfield.

The meeting will be held on the day of the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago. It is expected that the Eighth regiment band will furnish the music for the occasion.

Million Dollar Offer TO THE BASKET COMPANY

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO HOLDERS OF BASKET SHARES

THE opening of the contract season for grape baskets has brought such a rush of business to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company, that the urgent necessity for vigorous steps in enlarging its equipment is apparent to everyone. It is in the month of May that the grape growers give out their first orders for baskets for the coming season, because it is at this time that the prospects of the grape crop begin to be estimated.

Orders for forty-five million five-pound grape baskets and for over thirty million eight-pound grape baskets were offered to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company on Saturday, May 10th. The orders amounted to over one million dollars at lowest wholesale prices.

It is always the case that the orders given in the month of May are multiplied three or four times before the close of the season, but even if no other business than that which has been offered already to this Company were to be turned out and delivered this year, the profit would be a substantial dividend on the entire capital of the Company. Of course it is impossible for the Company to avail itself of any more of the business which is offered than its present facilities will take care of, but the fact that tremendous orders are offered to it from the fruit growers of the United States, shows the estimate in which the product of the Company's machine is held by those who must have fruit baskets in large quantities.

FULL MONOPOLY INDICATED.

While it has been generally understood by the officers and shareholders of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company that the entire basket industry would be dominated by the automatic basket making machines, the ownership and control of which are among the vested interests of the Company, it is extremely gratifying to all that the exhibition of the work of the machines in New York City, Philadelphia, and Chicago, has made the superior quality of the baskets turned out by the machines so apparent to the big buyers, that they have not waited to be approached for business, but they have voluntarily urged their orders for this year's needs upon the Company.

GREAT EXTENT OF THE INDUSTRY.

While of course these facts are very pleasing to all who have invested in the shares of the Company, they are particularly gratifying to the officers and directors who have set forth so prominently to all the world the great volume of this industry, which instead of being centered in one compact modern organization, has heretofore been carried on by an almost innumerable army of individual hand-workers all over the country. The crying need for concentration of this great industry under modern management was never more thoroughly demonstrated than in the fact that the orders which this Company has been compelled to refuse for this year's business must be scattered among two or three hundred different concerns who make baskets by the uncertain method of hand labor.

It seems entirely wise to set forth these facts to the general public and announce them in this manner to the shareholders of the Company, in order that all who are not familiar with the great extent of the basket industry may gather in this way an immediate conception of the profitable field which the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company dominates by the work of its really wonderful automatic basket-making machines.

HANDLING THE BUSINESS.

The plans now being executed as rapidly as possible in the manufacture of machines and the location of factories, will place this Company's equipment in a few months in such shape that it can manufacture and deliver an almost unlimited supply of baskets. Arrangements are even now being made for next year's delivery of a volume of business which will run well up into the millions, and every person who has subscribed to the shares of this Company should be congratulated upon the purchase of shares which within a year will be worth many times the purchase price of such shares.

FOUNDATIONS OF SUCCESS.

It is now a demonstrated commercial certainty that the business of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will earn sensational dividends, and that its complete control of the basket industry is entrenched behind the strongest fortifications. Every patent on automatic basket making machinery is owned and controlled by this Company. Every experimental step in connection with perfecting machines for actual work has been completed. This is evident to all who visit the exhibitions in the large cities of the country and see the machines make baskets with humanlike ingenuity, turning them out complete from strips of material.

The shares of the Company now selling at

75 CENTS

are undoubtedly the most attractive investment possible to find on this continent.

There are a great number of people who have been interested in the announcements made of this Company's plans, who have felt a natural desire to buy its shares. A good many of them have wanted to see positive demonstration of the capacity of the machines and demonstration of the demand for the baskets. These demonstrations are now made beyond any peradventure, and to all such persons the statement is directed, that the shares will not remain at 75 cents but a very few days.

INVESTIGATE PERSONALLY.

There are a great many general and specific questions that every person contemplating investment in this Company would like to have answered. These answers are compiled in complete form covering every question which has ever been asked about the shares and about the organization of the Company. Those who are desirous of subscribing for these shares before the next advance in price should write at once for the pamphlet containing these answers to natural questions. Wherever it is possible a visit should be made to the places where machines are being worked for public demonstration. Those who cannot go themselves to see the machines, should employ the services of some friend in whom they have confidence, to witness the actual operation of basket-making by the automatic machines.

It is but fair to urge upon all who have become interested in the presentments of the Company to take prompt steps to satisfy themselves of the exceptional value of the investment which these shares offer.

Checks for subscriptions should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer.

The Directors reserve the right to reject any subscription.

RIVERVIEW MEET

Important Conference at Wheeling Regarding the Shoals In the Ohio.

An important conference was held at Wheeling yesterday between rivermen and Captain W. E. Craighill, who has charge of the upper Ohio river, regarding the pending improvements. Captain Craighill has been devoting considerable time to the problem presented by the shoal places in the Ohio river. Navigation between Parkersburg and Pittsburg could be continued several weeks longer in low water season were it not for a dozen bars or shallow places which effectually prevent the passage of steamboats, though there is plenty of water between these points. One of the objects of yesterday's conference, which was made by appointment, was to obtain views from rivermen regarding the points where dredging would be most advisable.

Captain Craighill has already taken aggressive steps in this direction. Last week he let the contract to the Monongahela and Western Dredging company to dredge White's riffle at Sewickley. The contract has not been finally let, but the company named made the most advantageous bid and will start the work as soon as the necessary documents are signed up. White's riffle is one of the shallowest places in the river, and the improvement is one long wished for by rivermen.

PROUD OF THE EIGHTH

An Officer Speaks in Complimentary Terms of This Ohio Regiment.

A Washington dispatch contains the following complimentary notice of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I.

Major E. H. Hathaway, formerly of Chicago and now chief supervisor of rural free delivery, was at Santiago when the American soldiers embarked for home after the Spanish evacuation, leaving only a small contingent of United States troops in the city.

"I only saw one organization of which I really felt proud," said Major Hathaway, as he discussed his experiences in Santiago the other day. That was the Eighth Ohio. All the other regiments, as they marched to the wharf to board the transports, slouched along the streets—and they usually took the back streets at that—as if they were ashamed.

"The Eighth Ohio, on the contrary, proudly paraded through the principal streets to the center of the city, where they halted while the band played 'Yankee Doodle.' To me it was the most inspiring incident of the whole campaign, and I never have forgotten the marching and the music of the Eighth Ohio."

IRON WORKER MISSING

Possessed Funds Entrusted to His Care—Was an Amalgamated Official.

Thomas Williams, a veteran iron worker of Zanesville, who was a candidate for the national presidency of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers against Theodore Shaffer at the recent convention in Wheeling, has disappeared. He is secretary of the Zanesville local of the Amalgamated association, and as such he held about $100 of the lodge funds. He also held in trust $200 for Richard Llewellen.

Mrs. Williams claims to have received a letter from him in which he says he lost much money during the Wheeling convention, but that he will pay all he owes. She refuses to reveal his whereabouts. The trust fund for the Llewellen benefit was raised among the ironworkers of Pittsburg, Wheeling and numerous Ohio cities, where Llewellen worked prior to locating in Zanesville.

EIGHTH OHIO REGIMENT

The Second Annual Reunion Will Be Held at Canton July 17 And 18.

The second annual reunion of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I., will be held in Canton July 17 and 18. It is expected that about 300 members of the regiment will be present, and it is probable that Captain Sigsbee, who was in command of the ill-fated Maine and who was also in command of the St. Paul, which conveyed the Eighth to Cuba, will attend.

Captain Sigsbee was made an honorary member of the regiment at last year's reunion and agreed at that time to go to Canton. In case he finds it impossible to attend, Admirals Schley or Dewey will be asked to be present.

The regiment is composed of 12 companies: I, F and L, of Canton; A, of Bucyrus; B, of Akron; C, of Polk; D, of Wooster; E, of East Liverpool; G, of Wadsworth; H, of Shreve; K, of Alliance, and M, of Mansfield.

The meeting will be held on the day of the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago. It is expected that the Eighth regiment band will furnish the music for the occasion.

THE opening of the contract season for grape baskets has brought such a rush of business to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company, that the urgent necessity for vigorous steps in enlarging its equipment is apparent to everyone. It is in the month of May that the grape growers give out their first orders for baskets for the coming season, because it is at this time that the prospects of the grape crop begin to be estimated.

Orders for forty-five million five-pound grape baskets and for over thirty million eight-pound grape baskets were offered to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company on Saturday, May 10th. The orders amounted to over one million dollars at lowest wholesale prices.

It is always the case that the orders given in the month of May are multiplied three or four times before the close of the season, but even if no other business than that which has been offered already to this Company were to be turned out and delivered this year, the result would be a substantial dividend on the entire capital of the Company. Of course it is impossible for the Company to avail itself of any more of the business than is offered than its present facilities will take care of, but the fact that such tremendous orders are offered to it from the fruit growers of the United States, shows the estimate in which the product of the Company's machines is held by those who must have fruit baskets in large quantities.

FULL MONOPOLY INDICATED.

While it has been generally understood by the officers and shareholders of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company that the entire basket industry would be dominated by the automatic basket making machine, the ownership and control of which are among the vested interests of the Company, it is extremely gratifying to all that the exhibition of the work of the machines in New York City, Philadelphia, and Chicago, has made the superior quality of the baskets turned out by the machines so apparent to the big buyers, that they have not waited to be approached for business, but they have voluntarily urged their orders for this year's needs upon the Company.

GREAT EXTENT OF THE INDUSTRY.

While of course these facts are very pleasing to all who have invested in the shares of the Company, they are particularly gratifying to the officers and directors who have set forth so prominently to all the world the great volume of this industry, which instead of being centered in one compact modern organization, has heretofore been carried on by an almost innumerable army of individual hand-workers all over the country. The crying need for concentration of this great industry under modern management was never more thoroughly demonstrated than in the fact that the orders which this Company has been compelled to refuse for this year's business must be scattered among two or three hundred different concerns who make baskets by the uncertain method of hand labor.

It seems entirely wise to set forth these facts to the general public and announce them in this manner to the shareholders of the Company, in order that all who are not familiar with the great extent of the basket industry may gather in this way an immediate conception of the profitable field which the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company dominates by the work of its really wonderful automatic basket-making machines.

HANDLING THE BUSINESS.

The plans now being executed as rapidly as possible in the manufacture of machines and the location of factories, will place this Company's equipment in a few months in such shape that it can manufacture and deliver an almost unlimited supply of baskets. Arrangements are even now being made for next year's delivery of a volume of business which will run well up into the millions, and every person who has subscribed to the shares of this Company should be congratulated upon the purchase of shares which within a year will be worth many times the purchase price of such shares.

FOUNDATIONS OF SUCCESS.

It is now a demonstrated commercial certainty that the business of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will earn sensational dividends, and that its complete control of the basket industry is entrenched behind the strongest fortifications. Every patent on automatic basket making machinery is owned and controlled by this Company. Every experimental step in connection with perfecting machines for actual work has been completed. This is evident to all who visit the exhibitions in the large cities of the country and see the machines make baskets with humanlike ingenuity, turning them out complete from strips of material.

The shares of the Company now selling at

75 CENTS

are undoubtedly the most attractive investment possible to find on this continent.

There are a great number of people who have been interested in the announcements made of this Company's plans, who have felt a natural desire to buy its shares. A good many of them have wanted to see positive demonstration of the capacity of the machines and demonstration of the demand for the baskets. These demonstrations are now made beyond any peradventure, and to all such persons the statement is directed, that the shares will not remain at 75 cents but a very few days.

INVESTIGATE PERSONALLY.

There are a great many general and specific questions that every person contemplating investment in this Company would like to have answered. These answers are compiled in complete form covering every question which has ever been asked about the shares and about the organization of the Company. Those who are desirous of subscribing for these shares before the next advance in price should write at once for the pamphlet containing these answers to natural questions. Wherever it is possible a visit should be made to the places where machines are being worked for public demonstration. Those who cannot go themselves to see the machines, should employ the services of some friend in whom they have confidence, to witness the actual operation of basket-making by the automatic machines.

It is but fair to urge upon all who have become interested in the presentments of the Company to take prompt steps to satisfy themselves of the exceptional value of the investment which these shares offer.

Checks for subscriptions should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer.

The Directors reserve the right to reject any subscription.

ELABORATE WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED YESTERDAY AT HIGH NOON AT ROCHESTER.

Miss Ora Leland Barr, of That City, Becomes the Wife of Charles B. Fisher.

At high noon yesterday the wedding of Miss Ora Leland Barr, of Rochester, Pa., and Mr. Charles B. Fisher, of this city, was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Francis Barr, mother of the bride, on New York avenue, at Rochester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. D. Brown, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, of Rochester, of which the bride is a member, and was witnessed by a number of the relatives and intimate friends of the high con-tracting parties. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Louise Linnen-brink, of Rochester, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucille Grant Barr, as bridesmaid, and was given away by her brother, Mr. J. For-rest Barr.

The bride was gowned in a hand-some creation of tucked crepe de chine over silk with pearl trimmings and chiffon and presented a charming ap-pearance. She wore a veil caught with a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was most becomingly gowned in nile green chiffon worn over pink silk and car-ried pink roses. Miss Linnenbrink wore a gown of pink crepe de chine. The house and table decorations were most tastefully arranged, a color scheme of pink and white being ad-mirably carried out with roses and car-nations.

After the conclusion of the wedding ceremony and congratulations an elab-orate wedding dinner was served. La-ter Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a short visit to Detroit. Owing to pressing business matters which necessitate the attention of the groom, they will post-pone their honeymoon trip until later, when they will enjoy an extended visit to northern points.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Fisher, a sister of the groom; Dr. J. Bert George and Mr. George S. Good-win, of East Liverpool; Mrs. James H. Baker, of Oil City; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss Mary B. O'Neil, of Steubenville.

The groom is the proprietor of the Bostonian store and is one of the city's foremost young men. His bride is a refined and estimable lady and holds a prominent place in Rochester social circles. The many friends of the cou-ple extend hearty congratulations.

After June 10 the couple will be at home at their newly furnished apart-ments on Sixth street.

The Checkrein.

The overcheck bears about the same relation to the horse as the county jail does to human society. In case of the trotting horse it seems that some de-vice must be used in order to compel a horse to carry its head out almost in a line with its neck, so that the curv-ature of the latter at the throttle will not cramp the windpipe or shut off the horse's wind. In case of the run-ning horse it naturally extends the head and neck without artificial aid. This is because the gallop is the horse's natural gate, while the trot is artificial when it comes to extreme speed. Hence the overcheck is needed. In the utility horses the checkrein is never needed.—Field and Farm.

The Greenland Shark.

The Greenland shark is well known as a foe to whalers. It will follow a dead whale to the ship and show no fear of the men while they are engaged in cutting up the prey, biting out lumps from it as big as a man's head. Some-times it happens that a man will fall off the slippery side of the whale close by the shark, but the latter never at-tacks him, being intent upon gorging itself with the flesh of the cetacean. The most severe wounds from thrusts of the whalers' knives will not per-suade it to desist. This species of shark is often partly or wholly blinded by a parasitic worm three inches long which fastens itself at the corner of the eye and lives on its fluids.

Right Doing.

One's rightful work is often halted by fear of what others will say about it. This may be even more a barrier to the work than the fear of not doing the work at all. It takes courage to do what we believe we ought to do, when we think we shall be criticised or misunderstood or scorned. But the real calamity lies in not doing what we ought. Of this it is well to have so strong a fear that we shall have courage to face whatever others may say of our right doing.

GATES OF CHICAGO

MAN WHO IS SAID TO BE COMING KING OF WALL STREET.

Powerful Factor In the Great Finan-cial Center—Beats Old Timers at Their Own Game—His Seance With J. Pierpont Morgan.

A new wizard of finance has arisen in Wall street. He juggles millions with as much nonchalance as a magi-cian manipulates a few coins. John W. Gates is the man. There are many who believe he is destined to become the king of that great center of finance.

Not since the days of Jay Gould and Jim Fisk has any man created such a commotion as he has aroused by his operations. His recent coup in Louis-ville and Nashville took the old timers completely by surprise, and the thrones of the mighty were rocked to their foundations.

Several years ago a small group of Chicago capitalists transferred the scene of their operations to New York and for the past three years have been an important and powerful factor in Wall street. John W. Gates is the di-recting spirit of this group, which is known as the "Chicago clique."

As one of the chief figures in Ameri-can Steel and Wire he was a factor in the organization of the billion dollar steel trust, J. P. Morgan's pet enter-prise.

A story told in Wall street relates how Gates called on Morgan at the time the trust was organized and un-folded to him his ambition to be one of its officials.

"Of course you know, Morgan," Mr. Gates is credited with saying, "I ex-pect to be on the board of directors and also chairman of the executive committee."

"Indeed!" gossip says Mr. Morgan made reply. "You are too modest. I can tell you now that you won't be chairman of the executive committee. I am also able to inform you that you won't be even a director."

And he wasn't. But conditions have changed since then, and it is doubtful if Mr. Morgan would be so brusque with the redoubtable Gates at the pres-ent time.

The recent operations of Mr. Gates were not the first that have displayed

a meteoric character. His whole career since he came into prominence in the business world has abounded in sur-prises for his associates as well as his financial opponents. His fortune, which is estimated as about $30,000,000, has grown in leaps and bounds rather than by the slow accumulation of dollar on dollar.

Mr. Gates was born in Du Page county, Ill., in 1855. He was educated in the public schools and at North-western college, Illinois, from which he was graduated in 1873. He entered business as a dealer in grain and then in hardware. In 1889 he began to ab-sorb all the barbed wire mills in the country and in three years had gather-ed in twenty-five mills. He was then president of two great companies, the Consolidated Steel and Wire and the Illinois Steel company. In a dozen years he had made a great fortune and carried out schemes of vast propor-tions.

Mr. Gates decided to retire from busi-ness and had resigned the presidency of the Illinois Steel company when a suggestion was made to him that the reorganization of the steel and wire in-terests would be a good thing. The American Steel and Wire company, with its capitalization of $90,000,000, was the result. Mr. Gates is said to have cleared $5,000,000 by this stroke.

It is said that the rapidity with which this trust was organized broke the records in this particular. Since the reorganization of this great cor-poration Mr. Gates' name has been prominent many times in connection with great stock operations. Two years ago it was reported that he had made $4,000,000 from the rise in Baltimore and Ohio and Union Pacific stock.

In his tastes Mr. Gates is distinctive-ly American. He is fond of horses and enjoys a good race. Formerly he was one of the best trap and wing shots in the west, and he is an expert with the billiard cue. To his friends he is known as a jolly, companionable man, who is always ready to appreciate and repay a favor. He is thoroughly devoted to his family.

Mr. Gates is now at the age which for most men is the height of business activity. It is by no means likely that he will rest on his laurels. At all events, he has demonstrated to the speculators of Wall street that he can teach them some things about their own game.

PINFEATHERS.

Darkened nests will do much to pre-vent the egg eating habit.

After dressing dip the fowls in hot and then cold water to make them plump.

The scraps from the table soaked in sweet milk until soft make a good feed for young turkeys, especially during the summer.

Dry picked poultry sells for a little more per pound than that which has been scalded on account of its superior flavor and more attractive appearance.

Short legged fowls fatten quickly. Long legs are hard to fatten. Those which are first hatched fatten quickly in a brood. It is a safe rule to sell as soon as the fowl is in good marketable condition.

Milk, either fresh or sour, buttermilk or skimmilk, mixed with bread or in any other form, is excellent for all kinds of fowls. In many cases it will pay better to give the waste milk to fowls rather than to the hogs.

CHURCHMEN.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Suit For $40—J. E. Haggerty has led suit in 'Squire Rose's court gainst John and Lilly Daley, to re-over $40 on a painting contract.

Funeral Tomorrow—The funeral ser-ices over the remains of Oscar, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, of the East End, will be held tomor-row afternoon. Interment will be at Riverview.

Another Pitcher Signed—Among the pitchers signed for the season by Manager Walsh is Morgan Winters. He is a good man, having pitched four games up to date and come out vic-torious in all.

Taken to His Home—James Wheat-ley, who has been lying seriously ill at the Walsh hotel for about two weeks, was this morning removed by the city ambulance to his home in the East End. His condition is yet very critical.

Completed Arrangements—The Me-morial Day committee, composed of N. A. Frederick, J. D. West, Captain Dawson and Matthew Anderson met last night in 'Squire McLane's office and completed arrangements for the day's exercises.

Severed an Artery—As a result of a glass tumbler breaking and coming in contact with his hand, William Wedge-wood, of Grant street, is suffering ex-cruciating pain. One of the pieces penetrated his hand to such a depth that an artery was severed, causing blood to flow profusely before a phy-sician arrived. It required six stitches to close the wound, but the patient is doing nicely with no serious results anticipated.

A Delightful Trip—A party of East Liverpool and Salem people who went down the river to Cincinnati on the packet Queen City, last week, returned last evening, having made the round trip on the boat. They report that the excursion was a delightful one in every respect and are loud in their praises of Captain Sanford and the boat officials generally for courtesies shown them. Several other parties from this city are arranging for similar trips. The party consisted of A. O. Silver and family; W. C. Hare, Mrs. Hare and Miss Hare and D. L. Davis, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brush and son, of East Liverpool. H. W. Smith and wife of this city, and Finley Hutton and family, of Salem, will go down on the same boat tonight for a similar trip.

ELABORATE WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED YESTERDAY AT HIGH NOON AT ROCHESTER.

Miss Ora Leland Barr, of That City, Becomes the Wife of Charles B. Fisher.

At high noon yesterday the wedding of Miss Ora Leland Barr, of Rochester, Pa., and Mr. Charles B. Fisher, of this city, was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Francis Barr, mother of the bride, on New York avenue, at Rochester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. D. Brown, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, of Rochester, of which the bride is a member, and was witnessed by a number of the relatives and intimate friends of the high con-tracting parties. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Louise Linnen-brink, of Rochester, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucille Grant Barr, as bridesmaid, and was given away by her brother, Mr. J. For-rest Barr.

The bride was gowned in a hand-some creation of tucked crepe de chine over silk with pearl trimmings and chiffon and presented a charming ap-pearance. She wore a veil caught with a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was most becomingly gowned in nile green chiffon worn over pink silk and car-ried pink roses. Miss Linnenbrink wore a gown of pink crepe de chine. The house and table decorations were most tastefully arranged, a color scheme of pink and white being ad-mirably carried out with roses and car-nations.

After the conclusion of the wedding ceremony and congratulations an elab-orate wedding dinner was served. Lat-er Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a short visit to Detroit. Owing to pressing business matters which necessitate the attention of the groom, they will post-pone their honeymoon trip until later, when they will enjoy an extended visit to northern points.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Fisher, a sister of the groom; Dr. J. Bert George and Mr. George S. Good-win, of East Liverpool; Mrs. James H. Baker, of Oil City; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss Mary B. O'Neil, of Steubenville.

The groom is the proprietor of the Bostonian store and is one of the city's foremost young men. His bride is a refined and estimable lady and holds a prominent place in Rochester social circles. The many friends of the cou-ple extend hearty congratulations.

After June 10 the couple will be at home at their newly furnished apart-ments on Sixth street.

Two of a Serious Nature Reported at Chester Mills Yes-terday.

The excessive heat in the Chester tin mills yesterday came near proving fatal to two of the laborers. They were Frank Gregory and Cyrus Hoods. Both men were seized with fainting spells and it was necessary to remove them to their homes.

The Checkrein.

The overcheck bears about the same relation to the horse as the county jail does to human society. In case of the trotting horse it seems that some de-vice must be used in order to compel a horse to carry its head out almost in a line with its neck, so that the curv-ature of the latter at the throttle will not cramp the windpipe or shut off the horse's wind. In case of the run-ning horse it naturally extends the head and neck without artificial aid. This is because the gallop is the horse's natural gate, while the trot is artificial when it comes to extreme speed. Hence the overcheck is needed. In the utility horses the checkrein is never needed.—Field and Farm.

The Greenland Shark.

The Greenland shark is well known as a foe to whalers. It will follow a dead whale to the ship and show no fear of the men while they are engaged in cutting up the prey, biting out lumps from it as big as a man's head. Some-times it happens that a man will fall off the slippery side of the whale close by the shark, but the latter never at-tacks him, being intent upon gorging itself with the flesh of the cetacean. The most severe wounds from thrusts of the whalers' knives will not per-suade it to desist. This species of shark is often partly or wholly blinded by a parasitic worm three inches long which fastens itself at the corner of the eye and lives on its fluids.

ROOSEVELT SPOKE.

Addressed Presbyterian Home Missions Centennial Closing Meeting.

JOINED CHOIR IN SINGING HYMN

Rev. Dr. Van Dyke Responded to the President's Speech—Home Missions Considered During Assembly Sessions Yesterday—Message to Cuba.

New York, May 21.—Carnegie hall was crowded to the doors last evening with an audience eager to hear the address of President Roosevelt in the interests of Presbyterian home missions, the occasion marking the close of the centennial celebration. An immense audience was present.

When President Rosevelt took his seat on the platform he received a great ovation. When the applause died away Mr. Roosevelt took his seat between the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke and the Rev. D. Stuart Dodge, D. D., who was presiding.

A choir of 125 voices from the different Presbyterian churches sang the hymn, "Ye Servants of God Your Master Proclaim," and the president sang with them.

Rev. Dr. Dodge made the opening remarks.

Witicism of the President.

When President Roosevelt stepped to the front of the platform and began "Mr. Chairman," he was interrupted by the flashlight of a photographer. As the smoke blew across the stage he laughed and said: "There goes the mystery now," referring to the mystery of the creed. He then made his address.

After the cheering which followed the presidnt's address had subsided a special hymn, written for the occasion by the Rev. Dr. Henry C. McCook, of Philadelphia, was sung. The moderator, Dr. Van Dyke, then arose and made an address in response to the president's speech.

After the speech of the moderator President Roosevelt remained long enough to listen to the singing of a synodical quartette from Tennessee.

The last speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson secretary of the board of home missions.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of the national hymn and the benediction.

The home mission centennial celebration was continued yesterday afternoon with a fellowship meeting. The speakers at the meeting were representatives of the various boards of the Presbyterian church and representatives of missions of other denominations. The Rev. Dr. Van Dyke moderator of the general assembly presided.

Elder E. L. Hill, a physician from Dayton, O., moved that the moderator be requested to send the congratulations of the general assembly to Cuba on the birthday of the new republic. The motion was carried unanimously and a cablegram was sent.

Home Missions Centennial.

The second of the days devoted by the Presbyterian general assembly to the celebration of the centennial of home missions was yesterday. Before the subject of missions was taken up a letter was first read from the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, asking when its commissioners could be received to bring greeting to the Presbyterian governing body. The Methodist commissioners are the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate, and Albert J. Beveridge, United States senator from Indiana. It was agreed to receive the Methodist delegates on Saturday morning.

The committee on bills and overtures presented a resolution asking congress to remove the discrimination in salary against the chaplains of the navy. After a short debate it was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The Rev. Dr. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, chairman of the standing committee on home missions, then read its report, concluding with a resolution that the general assembly endorse the policy of the board, which contemplates the extension of the work already begun in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The committee recommended that each church, wherever possible, undertake the support of at least one home missionary. A further recommendation was made to the effect that the Sabbath schools be requested to take up a special collection for the work of the Women's Home Missionary board, if possible on the Sabbath nearest Thanksgiving day, 1902.

Rev. Dr. Holmes Made Address.

The Rev. Dr. Holmes made an address in support of the recommendation.

The Rev. John Dixon, D. D., assistant secretary of the board of home missions, also spoke on the report.

The committee on bills and overtures brought in a resolution, which was adopted, referring back to the board of education the appeal of William T. Ellis, the former editor of a Sabbath school organ of the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Mr. Ellis some time ago, against the wishes of the board of education of the Presbyterian church, with which he was connected, read a paper before a gathering of Presbyterian ministers entitled, "Are Our Sunday Schools Decadent?" Mr. Ellis was reprimanded, resigned, and appealed his case to the general assembly. The general assembly, through its action, in effect upheld the action of the board of education.

GENERAL BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Subjects Discussed by Committees. Some Decided—Brethern May Insure Their Lives.

Harrisburg, May 21.—The actual conference at Paxtang park, where the German Baptist brethern are assembled for their annual meeting, began yesterday, when the standing committee, which has been framing answers to questions of church doctrine since last Friday met in joint session with the members of the district commttee for final disposition of the question.

Many interesting and important questions came up for discussion. and a number of decisions were reached. The decision to which most importance attached is that as to whether brethern may insure their lives. It was decided by the conference that they can do so, provided they do not insure with companies which are in any way connected with secret organizations.

The question as to the right of teachers in church schools and elders of the church to wear neckties called forth a short debate, in which it was brought out that in spite of former rulings of the conference many of the brethern have been wearing articles of dress and adornment which are considered improper. The question was returned to the standing committee unanswered, in view of the fact that actions of previous conferences covered the point at issue. A question as to the expediency of assisting poor ministers to get homes in isolated places was also returned unanswered.

The auditorium where the conference is being held was completely filled at the opening session with brethern and sisters. Several thousand persons were compelled to stand on the outside of the building to listen to the proceedings. For the benefit of thousands of others who could not even get within hearing distance, Elder E. S. Young, of Canton, O., yesterday afternoon conducted a large overflow Bible meeting in the open.

Women's Society Held Business Session Yesterday—Reports Made. Memorial Services.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—The Women's Baptist Home Mission society held the first public business session yesterday. Mrs. H. D. Gates, vice president for Minnesota, delivered an address of welcome, to which Mrs. C. N. Crouse, president of the national society, responded. Miss Mary G. Burdette, corresponding secretary, told the "story of the twenty-fifth year," reviewing the work of this particular society among the 4,269,000 Baptists in the United States, although its support has come from the million Baptists in the northern states. She said 162 missionaries had work at 112 stations in 34 states, Canada, Porto Rico, Cuba and Mexico. There are 2,775 auxiliaries in connection with the national society.

Mrs. A. H. Barber, natonal treasurer, presented her annual report as "the offering of the twenty-fifth year," showing receipts from all sources of $89,066, and disbursements, $85,089; balance on hand, $3,977.

A brief service in memoriam and reports of committees completed the morning session. The president's address was the principal business of the afternoon.

PRESIDENT LOUBET IN RUSSIA.

Received by the Czar—Reception Everywhere Remarkably Warm.

Cranstadt, Russia, May 21.—The French squadron escorting the armored cruiser Montcalm, bearing President Loubet, entered the harbor this morning.

The imperial yact Alexandra, with the czar and party on board, arrived almost simultaneously with the French squadron.

The Grand Duke Alexis boarded the Montcalm, and, after President Loubet had briefly reviewed the Russian fleets, he escorted the president on board the Alexandra, where the greetings exchanged between the czar and M. Loubet were most cordial.

Peterhof, Russia, May 21.—The imperial yacht Alexandra arrived here at noon from Cronstadt. President Loubet led the way ashore and shook hands with the assembled grand dukes and officials The president and the czar then entered a carriage, were driven to the railroad station and proceeded on the imperial train to Tsarskoe-Selo.

The president's reception everywhere was markedly warm.

Havana, May 20.—The Cuban republic is now in existence.

The actual transfer of the control of the island was scheduled to occur exactly at noon yesterday Havana time, which is 12:30 p. m. Washington time, but those invited to witness the ceremony were requested to be at the palace at 11:30 a. m. The party included, besides the American officers and the members of President-elect Palma's cabinet, the members of congress, the supreme court judges, the governors of the provinces, the officers of the visiting warships, the foreign consuls, William Jennings Bryan, the other visiting American statesmen, several of Senor Palma's Central Valley (N. Y.) neighbors, Horatio Rubens, counsel for the former Cuban junta; Colonel William Astor Chanler, and a few other specially invited guests.

The ceremony of transfer consisted of the presentation by General Wood to President Palma of three proclamations and a letter from President Roosevelt.

Palma Attached His Signature.

Immediately after the formal transfer of control Senor Palma attached his signature to a document as president of the Cuban republic, after an exchange of congratulations, and the veteran general, Gomez, ascended to the roof of the palace, where he was accorded a great reception. General Wood personally lowered the American colors, which were saluted, and with his own hand hoisted the Cuban flag, as an act of the United States, Gomez assisting.

General Wood and his staff and the American troops embarked immediately after the hoisting of the Cuban flag and the American ships steamed out of the harbor.

At the time the transfer took place in Havana, General Whiteside, at Santiago, turned over his authority to his Cuban successor and sailed away with the American cavalry which had been in garrison there.

Later in the day the Brooklyn and the steamer Morro Castle, with the rest of the American officers and all the troops except eight companies of artillery aboard, sailed for the United States. The eight companies left, who will be under command of Colonel William Haskins, remain to guard the Havana harbor works and as a safeguard against foreign interference.

Yesterday afternoon there was a yacht regatta in the harbor, and ashore there was a review of 14,000 school children by President Palma.

At noon a solemn high mass in honor of the new republic had been celebrated in all the churches of the island, and at 4 o'clock a Te Deum was sung at the cathedral. At the same hour the Cuban congress proclaimed the constitution.

Last night the whole city was illuminated and a great pyrotechnic display was made from the walls of Moro castle and Cabanas fortress.

Addressed Presbyterian Home Missions Centennial Closing Meeting.

JOINED CHOIR IN SINGING HYMN

Rev. Dr. Van Dyke Responded to the President's Speech—Home Missions Considered During Assembly Sessions Yesterday—Message to Cuba.

New York, May 21.—Carnegie hall was crowded to the doors last evening with an audience eager to hear the address of President Roosevelt in the interests of Presbyterian home missions, the occasion marking the close of the centennial celebration. An immense audience was present.

When President Rosevelt took his seat on the platform he received a great ovation. When the applause died away Mr. Roosevelt took his seat between the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke and the Rev. D. Stuart Dodge, D. D., who was presiding.

A choir of 125 voices from the different Presbyterian churches sang the hymn, "Ye Servants of God Your Master Proclaim," and the president sang with them.

Rev. Dr. Dodge made the opening remarks.

Witicism of the President.

When President Roosevelt stepped to the front of the platform and began "Mr. Chairman," he was interrupted by the flashlight of a photographer. As the smoke blew across the stage he laughed and said: "There goes the mystery now," referring to the mystery of the creed. He then made his address.

After the cheering which followed the presidnt's address had subsided a special hymn, written for the occasion by the Rev. Dr. Henry C. McCook, of Philadelphia, was sung. The moderator, Dr. Van Dyke, then arose and made an address in response to the president's speech.

The National Period of American Literature

Professor of American Literature in Brown University.

IX.—Northern Orators.

THE stream of deliberative oratory which had been rising for half a century reached its high water mark in the eloquence of Daniel Webster. To trace the causes of his pre-eminence has been the undertaking of one biographer after another, with the repeated admission that the gift of a genius for public speech is the best explanation of his surpassing powers. Certainly there were few artificial aids to his success. A farmer's boy attending the district school, Exeter academy and Dartmouth college in those days might have gone back to the farm without so much learning or cultivation as to make him useless. On the other hand, he received more than the other two of the trio with whose names his own is always associated, both of native endowment and of acquired education. These possessions he began to turn to account at an early day, first in the inevitable Fourth of July oration which every town listened to once a year, Hanover, N. H., and Fryeburg, Me., getting the benefit of his earliest efforts, such as they were. Of them and those which closely followed it can be said that they were better in promise than in performance and more suited to the inflated tone of the first quarter of the century than to its close. It was an age when anniversary eloquence was accustomed to mount up with wings as eagles.

At the age of thirty-one he was sent to congress. His success in the larger domain of statesmanship was soon a foregone conclusion. The greatness of his intellect had found its adequate field, and to the principles which he believed most important he devoted his energy and talent. His comprehensive views embraced the welfare of the entire nation. At the same time he attempted only that which was attainable. On such a practical yet broad basis he stood for that which was national and permanent rather than sectional and temporary.

In the great debate with Hayne he made it clear to all that the nation is greater than any state and all the states together, a proposition whose truth was subsequently established. The occasion of the second reply was dramatic in the interest which attended its delivery. The dignitaries of many nations and the notables of our own had assembled to listen to the great constitutional lawyer and orator as he made what, all in all, is regarded as the greatest speech of modern times. There is no room here for even an outline of its four hours of argument and illustration in defense of the principles of the constitution. It was characterized by fairness toward his opponent, but also by consciousness of strength in his own position. He showed that the origin of this government and the source of its power are with the people, anticipating Lincoln's aphorism in these words, which place the originality of their first utterance where it belongs: "It is, sir, the people's constitution, the people's government, made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people." The entire speech is full of profound reasoning. As he himself said of Samuel Dexter, but with deeper meaning: "Aloof from technicality and unfettered by artificial rule a question of constitutional law gave opportunity for that deep and clear analysis, that mighty grasp of principle, which so much distinguished his higher efforts. His very statement was argument; his inference seemed demonstration. The earnestness of his own conviction wrought conviction in others. One was convinced because it was gratifying and delightful to think and feel and believe in unison with an intellect of such evident superiority." This was truer of Webster because he was the greater man. The directness of his purpose, the irresistible sweep of his argument, his perspicuity and energy, his vigor of reasoning and felicity of diction, his calm statement and forceful appeal, the power of his voice and the majesty of his presence combined to place him in the foremost ranks of eloquent men and crown him as the chief of American orators.

Halls of legislation have not afforded the only opportunity for the exercise of oratorical gifts. As often as in them our great speakers have found in civic occasions an inspiration to noble and patriotic sentiments. Such were the anniversaries of the landing of the pilgrims and of the battle of Bunker Hill to Webster, and the orations pronounced by him were masterpieces of commemorative eloquence. These, however, were the byproduct of his oratorical genius.

The man who made the occasional address almost the business of his life was Edward Everett. First of all, he was a scholar, delivering lectures upon Greek literature in Cambridge and Boston after three years' residence and study abroad. As editor of The North American Review he did much to promote a sort of revival of learning period in the country. At the age of thirty he delivered before an immense audience a characteristic address upon "Circumstances Favorable to the Progress of Literature In America." Contemporary testimony to the marvelous skill and power of the orator is strong. "The sympathies of the audience went with him as he painted in glowing hues the political, social and literary future of our country, and at the conclusion his hearers were left in a state of emotion far too deep for tumultuous applause." Elected to congress this very year, he became a frequent but not obtrusive debater and distinguished himself in diplomacy, but his proper field was wherever he could address an intelligent assembly on subjects relating to the higher politics or a better education. He was one of the great educators of the people from the platform in a time when they needed instruction in constitutional liberty, a people who have been said to "present the anomaly of being political in their tastes and habits without having a political education." What colleges now partially supply the speakers of the former time and their speeches, read in every school, disseminated. Boys came to know them by heart as they did their catechism long before they comprehended their meaning.

A similar service was performed by Everett in the direction of a literary style. He furnished a creditable example to follow in the days when imitation of English models was common. It was fortunate that a man of the best attainments could give an object lesson here and there in composition and public speaking. He inspired many men who became distinguished in the last generation by the purity and classic grace of such English as he constructed out of the wealth of his resources.

The result of a lifetime of such speaking was left in a body of occasional addresses which would have been creditable to any of the Hellenic ten. Chief among these orations must be reckoned the eulogy upon Washington, delivered upon 150 occasions and earning for the Mount Vernon fund $53,000, to which Everett added $10,000 more of the earnings of his pen. This production, too, is a work of art, marking the highest reach of eulogistic discourse and illustrating the great advance that had been made from the stilted and fantastic displays of the previous centuries. In the address at the consecration of the national cemetery at Gettysburg heroic memories like those of Marathon are revived in the spirit of Periclean eloquence.

Webster and Everett are the two names which stand for supreme achievement in forensic and occasional oratory. Their attainments have become a part of the noblest of our literature, if profound and beautiful thoughts clothed in appropriate language constitute literature. But the field is wide enough for other speakers, also, who, each in his way, have distinguished themselves and contributed to the volume of what has been both written and spoken.

Rufus Choate was the third in the order of time. Pre-eminently an advocate, he was, moreover, a man of letters and always a student of subjects outside his profession. On such topics he was eloquent with constructive power and manifold art. In the technicalities of disposing material for unity, of proportion and harmony, of the illumination by imagery, he showed the hand of a master. Had he confined his efforts to literary, social and political subjects he would have been pre-eminent as an instructor of the people from the platform. Such addresses as that on "The Eloquence of Revolutionary Periods" and similar ones growing out of our early history are alive with instruction and inspiration. In their time they contributed to the stock of controlling ideas which have gone with the New Englander into every part of the land and have helped to make it what it is and to prevent its becoming what as yet it is not.

Charles Sumner's academic orations, as apart from his political and congressional speeches, will always have a charm for scholarly persons who delight in observing how the spoils of classical literature can be woven into the fabric of modern discourse. It was the habit of our scholars as far back as the prerevolution age and before, but in a crude and clumsy way. Sumner conformed more nearly to an Augustan manner and as a noble Roman might have followed a Greek example. Opulence of learning is everywhere apparent. He who can place all this orator's allusions will have had a liberal education. History and mythology, fiction and the drama, the poets and orators of every country made his discourse a cloth of gold and gems in its barbaric splendor. Within the turning of a leaf are contributions from Plutarch and Livy, Homer and Dante, Virgil and the Troubadour, Hobbes and Sir Thomas Browne, Bacon and Vattel. Another turn brings up Hesiod and Anacreon, Herodotus and Froissart, Sismondi, Montesquieu, Liutprand and Muratori, the dicta of the Christian fathers, the superstitions of mediæval doctors, the sayings of Brantome, Malte-Brun and Mme. Sevigne. Such wealth of illustration was poured forth with lavish hand upon his addresses entitled "The True Grandeur of Nations," "The Employment of Time" and "White Slavery In the Barbary States." A similar affluence characterizes his deliberative oratory in congress, but its appropriate sphere was the academic occasion.

Wendell Phillips was more severely Greek in his apparently extemporaneous lectures than most men are in their written discourse. There was no hint of memorizing and no hesitation or haste in his delivery. Conversational in the tones of his voice, but never colloquial in diction, he carried his auditors on the steady, irresistible flow of his speech to conclusions against which their common sense rebelled when they came to themselves. In subsequent years they discovered that the tide of events had drifted them to the positions to which he had led them as in a dream in the days when they called him hard names. But the memory of his speech, unaccountable in its power, will always remain with the generation that came under its magic spell.

ASK CUBA TO COME IN

By Congressman FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS of Nevada

FOR the first time in our history we have claimed the right to annex territory which is to be subject to the jurisdiction of the United States and not a part of it. The right is asserted to hold the people of such territory as subjects and not citizens. It is not to be expected that Cuba will be willing to assume so abject a position, and it is perfectly natural that she should fear to make the first overtures toward annexation on the ground that she may be put in the inferior position now occupied by the Philippine Islands. It seems to me, therefore, the part of wisdom for this government to show her at this time that she has no reason for apprehensions of this sort. The course by which this may be done is perfectly simple.

CUBA IS NOW ASKING FOR COMMERCIAL UNION. THERE IS NO REASON WHY WE SHOULD NOT MAKE A COUNTER PROPOSITION AND INVITE HER INTO A POLITICAL UNION WHICH WILL MEAN THE FREEST COMMERCIAL UNION AND WHICH WOULD ULTIMATELY MAKE OF CUBA ONE OF THE WEALTHIEST, MOST PROSPEROUS AND MOST POWERFUL STATES IN THE UNION.

COMMERCIAL UNION CAN ONLY BE ACCOMPLISHED BY A POLITICAL UNION. The resolutions I have introduced invite Cuba to become a part of the United States—not a subject territory. They provide that she is to have a territorial form of government under the constitution and laws of the United States, including the tariff laws, and that her people are to be citizens, not subjects, as are the people of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands—in other words, to admit her as an infant state, with the assurance of ultimate statehood. Of course, her admission to statehood would depend upon the rapidity with which she prepares herself.

I do not believe that Cuba should be expected to make up her mind at once upon this subject. THERE SHOULD BE NOTHING LIKE FORCING HER INTO ANNEXATION. My idea is to give her a reduction of 25 per cent on all her products for one year or for two years, in order to tide over existing or probable economic difficulties. I would make annexation the reason for these temporary reductions, its one purpose being to give the Cuban people an opportunity for deliberation and consideration unaffected by pending economic distress.

I believe that in view of the fact that we have lately entered upon a policy of imperial expansion Cuba would naturally be reluctant to apply for annexation, fearing that her fate would be that of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. There seems to me no question that the time is opportune for extending such an invitation as I propose to the Cuban people. It does not involve anything like coercion or force. It gives them ample time for deliberation. It is the highest honor which the United States could extend, and it is an honor which, in my opinion, would be accepted.

ONSLAUGHT BY STRIKERS

Kept D. & H. Co. Employes From Working at Oliphant, Pa.—Deputies Warned Back.

Scranton, Pa., May 21.—Fifteen hundred mine workers at Oliphant yesterday morning made the first serious demonstration since the strike began in the Lackawanna valley. Their onslaught was directed against the Grassy Island washery of the D. & H. Co., in the northern part of the town. The approaches were blockaded to such an extent that District Superintendent Sarge and a number of foremen from the company's nearby mines found it impossible to make their way through the lines and were forced to retreat down the railroad tracks with hoots, cat-calls and some flying missiles following them. A Hungarian woman jumped in among the foremen and snatching the hat from the head of one hurled it into a muddy pool, yelling wildly as she did so. Her action almost precipitated trouble, and only through the determined efforts of some of the strike leaders was she dragged away and made to keep quiet. While this demonstration was going on six armed deputies, who had come up from the washery, were warned not to approach too near and warned that they had better go back to the washery. As no company official was present to direct their movements they acted on the suggestion and retreated to the washery.

Superintendent Sarge and his foremen came to Scranton and consulted with Superintendent Rose. The company officials say they are determined to operate the washery and the Oliphant strikers say they are just as determined that it shall not be operated.

CLOUD FROM MONT PELEE.

Stones Fell In Ft. D eFrance—People Badly Scared.

Fort De France, May 21.—Yesterday morning at half-past 5 a thick, heavy cloud, lit up by flashes of lightning and the rising sun, rose from Mont Pelee. The people of Fort de France became panic stricken and in scant attire rushed excitedly through the streets of the town. Stones from the volcano as big as hazel nuts fell in the streets. Many of the inhabitants hurriedly embarked on the vessels in the harbor, and it was with difficulty that they were eventually reassured. At 7 o'clock, however, the excitement was over and the people became calm.

Lawyers Advertise.

In spite of the prejudice among lawyers against straightforward advertising, says the Philadelphia Record, several members of the bar do advertise regularly in the newspapers. And they find that it pays. One lawyer in New York who puts $100 a week into newspaper advertising ("exclusive of the Sunday journals") tells Printers' Ink that he would not stop advertising for the world. "If I should stop it," he adds, "I should expect to be forgotten. That such advertising pays I know from long experience. The ethics of the profession are largely an illusion—a bugaboo. No lawyer is ostracized because he advertises."

IX.—Northern Orators.

THE stream of deliberative oratory which had been rising for half a century reached its high water mark in the eloquence of Daniel Webster. To trace the causes of his pre-eminence has been the undertaking of one biographer after another, with the repeated admission that the gift of a genius for public speech is the best explanation of his surpassing powers. Certainly there were few artificial aids to his success. A farmer's boy attending the district school, Exeter academy and Dartmouth college in those days might have gone back to the farm without so much learning or cultivation as to make him useless. On the other hand, he received more than the other two of the trio with whose names his own is always associated, both of native endowment and of acquired education. These possessions he began to turn to account at an early day, first in the inevitable Fourth of July oration which every town listened to once a year, Hanover, N. H., and Fryeburg, Me., getting the benefit of his earliest efforts, such as they were. Of them and those which closely followed it can be said that they were better in promise than in performance and more suited to the inflated tone of the first quarter of the century than to its close. It was an age when anniversary eloquence was accustomed to mount up with wings as eagles.

At the age of thirty-one he was sent to congress. His success in the larger domain of statesmanship was soon a foregone conclusion. The greatness of his intellect had found its adequate field, and to the principles which he believed most important he devoted his energy and talent. His comprehensive views embraced the welfare of the entire nation. At the same time he attempted only that which was attainable. On such a practical yet broad basis he stood for that which was national and permanent rather than sectional and temporary.

In the great debate with Hayne he made it clear to all that the nation is greater than any state and all the states together, a proposition whose truth was subsequently established. The occasion of the second reply was dramatic in the interest which attended its delivery. The dignitaries of many nations and the notables of our own had assembled to listen to the great constitutional lawyer and orator as he made what, all in all, is regarded as the greatest speech of modern times. There is no room here for even an outline of its four hours of argument and illustration in defense of the principles of the constitution. It was characterized by fairness toward his opponent, but also by consciousness of strength in his own position. He showed that the origin of this government and the source of its power are with the people, anticipating Lincoln's aphorism in these words, which place the originality of their first utterance where it belongs: "It is, sir, the people's constitution, the people's government, made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people." The entire speech is full of profound reasoning. As he himself said of Samuel Dexter, but with deeper meaning: "Aloof from technicality and unfettered by artificial rule a question of constitutional law gave opportunity for that deep and clear analysis, that mighty grasp of principle, which so much distinguished his higher efforts. His very statement was argument; his inference seemed demonstration. The earnestness of his own conviction wrought conviction in others. One was convinced because it was gratifying and delightful to think and feel and believe in unison with an intellect of such evident superiority." This was truer of Webster because he was the greater man. The directness of his purpose, the irresistible sweep of his argument, his perspicuity and energy, his vigor of reasoning and felicity of diction, his calm statement and forceful appeal, the power of his voice and the majesty of his presence combined to place him in the foremost ranks of eloquent men and crown him as the chief of American orators.

Halls of legislation have not afforded the only opportunity for the exercise of oratorical gifts. As often as in them our great speakers have found in civic occasions an inspiration to noble and patriotic sentiments. Such were the anniversaries of the landing of the pilgrims and of the battle of Bunker Hill to Webster, and the orations pronounced by him were masterpieces of commemorative eloquence. These, however, were the byproduct of his oratorical genius.

The man who made the occasional address almost the business of his life was Edward Everett. First of all, he was a scholar, delivering lectures upon Greek literature in Cambridge and Boston after three years' residence and study abroad. As editor of The North American Review he did much to promote a sort of revival of learning period in the country. At the age of thirty he delivered before an immense audience a characteristic address upon "Circumstances Favorable to the Progress of Literature In America." Contemporary testimony to the marvelous skill and power of the orator is strong. "The sympathies of the audience went with him as he painted in glowing hues the political, social and literary future of our country, and at the conclusion his hearers were left in a state of emotion far too deep for tumultuous applause." Elected to congress this very year, he became a frequent but not obtrusive debater and distinguished himself in diplomacy, but his proper field was wherever he could address an intelligent assembly on subjects relating to the higher politics or a better education. He was one of the great educators of the people from the platform in a time when they needed instruction in constitutional liberty, a people who have been said to "present the anomaly of being political in their tastes and habits without having a political education." What colleges now partially supply the speakers of the former time and their speeches, read in every school, disseminated. Boys came to know them by heart as they did their catechism long before they comprehended their meaning.

A similar service was performed by Everett in the direction of a literary style. He furnished a creditable example to follow in the days when imitation of English models was common. It was fortunate that a man of the best attainments could give an object lesson here and there in composition and public speaking. He inspired many men who became distinguished in the last generation by the purity and classic grace of such English as he constructed out of the wealth of his resources.

The result of a lifetime of such speaking was left in a body of occasional addresses which would have been creditable to any of the Hellenic ten. Chief among these orations must be reckoned the eulogy upon Washington, delivered upon 150 occasions and earning for the Mount Vernon fund $53,000, to which Everett added $10,000 more of the earnings of his pen. This production, too, is a work of art, marking the highest reach of eulogistic discourse and illustrating the great advance that had been made from the stilted and fantastic displays of the previous centuries. In the address at the consecration of the national cemetery at Gettysburg heroic memories like those of Marathon are revived in the spirit of Periclean eloquence.

Webster and Everett are the two names which stand for supreme achievement in forensic and occasional oratory. Their attainments have become a part of the noblest of our literature, if profound and beautiful thoughts clothed in appropriate language constitute literature. But the field is wide enough for other speakers, also, who, each in his way, have distinguished themselves and contributed to the volume of what has been both written and spoken.

Rufus Choate was the third in the order of time. Pre-eminently an advocate, he was, moreover, a man of letters and always a student of subjects outside his profession. On such topics he was eloquent with constructive power and manifold art. In the technicalities of disposing material for unity, of proportion and harmony, of the illumination by imagery, he showed the hand of a master. Had he confined his efforts to literary, social and political subjects he would have been pre-eminent as an instructor of the people from the platform. Such addresses as that on "The Eloquence of Revolutionary Periods" and similar ones growing out of our early history are alive with instruction and inspiration. In their time they contributed to the stock of controlling ideas which have gone with the New Englander into every part of the land and have helped to make it what it is and to prevent its becoming what as yet it is not.

Charles Sumner's academic orations, as apart from his political and congressional speeches, will always have a charm for scholarly persons who delight in observing how the spoils of classical literature can be woven into the fabric of modern discourse. It was the habit of our scholars as far back as the prerevolution age and before, but in a crude and clumsy way. Sumner conformed more nearly to an Augustan manner and as a noble Roman might have followed a Greek example. Opulence of learning is everywhere apparent. He who can place all this orator's allusions will have had a liberal education. History and mythology, fiction and the drama, the poets and orators of every country made his discourse a cloth of gold and gems in its barbaric splendor. Within the turning of a leaf are contributions from Plutarch and Livy, Homer and Dante, Virgil and the Troubadour, Hobbes and Sir Thomas Browne, Bacon and Vattel. Another turn brings up Hesiod and Anacreon, Herodotus and Froissart, Sismondi, Montesquieu, Liutprand and Muratori, the dicta of the Christian fathers, the superstitions of mediæval doctors, the sayings of Brantome, Malte-Brun and Mme. Sevigne. Such wealth of illustration was poured forth with lavish hand upon his addresses entitled "The True Grandeur of Nations," "The Employment of Time" and "White Slavery In the Barbary States." A similar affluence characterizes his deliberative oratory in congress, but its appropriate sphere was the academic occasion.

Wendell Phillips was more severely Greek in his apparently extemporaneous lectures than most men are in their written discourse. There was no hint of memorizing and no hesitation or haste in his delivery. Conversational in the tones of his voice, but never colloquial in diction, he carried his auditors on the steady, irresistible flow of his speech to conclusions against which their common sense rebelled when they came to themselves. In subsequent years they discovered that the tide of events had drifted them to the positions to which he had led them as in a dream in the days when they called him hard names. But the memory of his speech, unaccountable in its power, will always remain with the generation that came under its magic spell.

Temporary Order, Wide In Its Scope, Issued Against Packers' Combine,

GRANTED TO THE GOVERNMENT.

If Present Alleged Uniform Arrangements Continue, They or Agents Will Be Taken Into Court For Contempt—Burden of Proof on Them.

Chicago, May 21.—The temporary injunction asked for by the government against the members of the so-called packers' combine is now in force. It was issued last evening by Judge Peter S. Grosscup, after the close of arguments in the United States circuit court room. The order gives the relief prayed for in the bill filed by District Attorney Bethea on May 10. It is so wide in its scope that if the packers or their agents continue with their present alleged uniform arrangements they will be taken into court on contempt proceedings and the burden of proof will be on them to show that they have not violated the order in any particular. Little opposition was raised against the government's petition. Attorney John S. Miller, who was the sole representative of the packers present, pointed out some objectionable clauses in the draft of an order presented by Mr. Bethea. These concerned the alleged agreements for credit, blacklisting and cartage. Judge Grosscup thought some of these minor clauses had been made too prominent, and he himself drew a form of order that pleased both sides. At the same time the order was entered numerous affidavits and other exhibits were filed for the government.

PACKING FIRM RES[illegible].

Temporary Order Granted to State of Missouri.

Kansas City, May 21.—Judge John W. Henry, in the circuit court here yesterday, issued a temporary order, at the request of Attorney General Crow, restraining Nelson Morris & Co., packers, from fixing the price of meats or from working in conjunction with the so-called beef trust.

The order was sought because the attorney general doubted whether the quo warranto proceedings instituted Monday night at Jefferson City against other packers could be maintained against a co-partnership, such as the Nelson Morris company.

WILL PREACH TO STUDENTS

Rev. Dr. Heber Newton Goes to Leland Stanford University.

Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton, for over three decades one of New York's most noted pulpit orators, is to give up his New York pastorate and become special preacher to the students at Leland Stanford university, San Francisco. Since 1869 Dr. Newton has been pastor of All Souls' Protestant Episcopal church, New York. His congregation is large and fashionable and numbers many leaders in the world of fashion, commerce and the professions.

Dr. Newton is widely known as a profound scholar and an able writer on ecclesiastical subjects. His father was a shining light in the Episcopal church. Dr. Newton's pulpit utterances for the past fifteen yea s have been so liberal as to keep him almost constantly in the public eye.

In 1886 a series of very radical sermons on the Bible created so much adverse comment from ministers of his own sect that an organized effort was made to bring him to trial for heresy. Charges were laid before the bishop, but there was no trial, although the doctor was asked to withdraw the objectionable sermons. He afterward had them printed in book form. Dr. Newton's subsequent course has been one of steadily increasing departure from recognized orthodox ideals.

Recently Dr. Newton has made public utterances on the subject of spiritualism that have not met the entire approval of the Episcopal church, but it is said this incident has not in any way directly or remotely influenced his decision to leave the field in which he has so long labored.

Dr. Newton was born in Philadelphia in 1840 and prepared for the ministry in the Episcopal Divinity school of that city. He was ordained deacon in 1860 and priest in 1866. For a short time he was in charge of Trinity church, Sharon Springs, N. Y. Thence he went to Philadelphia to become rector of St. Paul's church and in 1869 was called to All Souls' church, New York.

Dr. Newton is probably the most polished pulpit orator in New York city He is forcible and eloquent, and his style of diction is especially impressive. He is six feet in height, of athletic, massive build, and in the long, flaring white robe that he canonically wears presents a most striking and picturesque figure.

Origin of Trousers.

Something like a century ago trousers "came in" as the result of drink and may be said to owe their origin to old world royalty, which in those days ate and especially drank very heavily and was consequently afflicted with gout and other maladies of a character to swell the leg. Knee breeches and stockings—so dear not only to the early presidents of the United States and to the signers of the Declaration of Independence, but likewise to the old Puritan element of America—were scarcely suitable for swollen limbs, even if they belonged to the anointed of the Lord, and the result was that George IV. as prince regent; his brothers, the Dukes of York, Clarence, Cumberland and Sussex; the French princes, who afterward reigned as Louis XVIII., Charles X. and Louis Philippe; King Frederick William III. of Prussia and many other equally illustrious personages adopted the modern form of pantaloon, which was at the time a source of no end of ridicule and entertainment to Gilray and to the other caricaturists of the age.

THE OUTLOOK MORE CHEERFUL.

Prices of Stocks Recovered In Market, Tuesday—Closed Quiet and Steady.

New York, May 21.—Prices of stocks scored quite a substantial recovery yesterday and ended the day pretty near the top level and steady. There was a much more cheerful feeling with regard to the outlook for values and none of the rather urgent pressure to sell which was a feature Monday. The sharp and sudden declines among high-priced but seldom active stocks gave place to equally sudden recoveries in the same securities. International Power recovered five points of its 18 point break of Monday and there were wide gains scored by the Electric Express stocks, which were notable sufferers Monday. There was not much news on which to base the rise. Sentiment was favorably affected by the large absorption of United States Steel at rising prices. This soothed the anxieties which were caused by Monday's rumors that a formidable bear party had been formed in the stock as an outgrowth of the criticism of the stock conversion and bond issue plan. The notable strength of Canadian Pacific and its subsidiary roads, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, also had a notable sympathetic effect on the whole market. London was a buyer on a considerable scale after the holiday there, and confident predictions were heard that peace would be declared at an early day in South Africa. The formal announcement of the terms for the taking over jointly by Louisville and Nashville and Southern Railway of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville stocks in return for 4 per cent bonds was chiefly reflected in the price of Louisville.

The presence in the Wall street district of Secretary Easley, of the Civic Federation and his consultation with important representatives of the anthracite interests gave rise to conjectures that measures were in progress for the settlement of the anthracite miners' strike.

The market closed quiet and steady. Bonds were dull, but were about steady. Total sales, par value, $2,419,000.

Chaplain Milburn Injured.

Washington, May 21.—Blind Chaplain Milburn, of the senate, was struck by a runaway horse attached to a buggy as he was leaving the capitol yesterday, just after offering the prayer at the opening of the session. The large toe of one foot was cut off and several of the other toes badly injured. The accident would have been far more serious but for Mr. Milburn's daughter, who pulled him from a position immediately in front of the runaway horse as he was about to dash upon her father.

Surprising Statements.

One account of an accident to a royal motor car near Arriccia announces that "fortunately a number of pheasants were working close by, and with their help the motor car was righted." This surprising statement is only the reverse of the traditional printer's error by which "Lord X. was stated to have gone out with a party of fiends to shoot peasants."—London Globe.

If you board, look on the bright side Nothing is better for the system than prunes.—Atchison Globe.

When doctors fail try Burdock Blood Bitters. Cures dyspepsia, constipation; invigorates the whole system.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Sea Necklaces.

Pretty nearly every one has seen the curious "sea ruffles," or "sea necklaces," which are found plentifully on ocean beaches. These are the egg cases of the sea snails. They consist of a number of small disk shaped envelopes attached along a sort of stem, the biggest of them being in the middle. In each envelope there is a little spot of thinner material, which the young break through when they are ready to be hatched. When the female gasteropod is about to lay, she buries herself in the sand, from the surface of which the "necklace" of eggs is gradually extruded. Being thus set adrift and exposed to the elements, as well as to devouring enemies, few of the eggs are ever hatched, but those which do come into the world safely and survive doubtless live to a very great age.

Some people seem to think they have to prove they have a mind by speaking it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MRS. HELENA BLAU,

Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

Mrs. Helena Blau.

TEN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'worn out' women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissue. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

Recently Dr. Newton has made public utterances on the subject of spiritualism that have not met the entire approval of the Episcopal church, but it is said this incident has not in any way directly or remotely influenced his decision to leave the field in which he has so long labored.

Dr. Newton was born in Philadelphia in 1840 and prepared for the ministry in the Episcopal Divinity school of that city. He was ordained deacon in 1860 and priest in 1866. For a short time he was in charge of Trinity church, Sharon Springs, N. Y. Thence he went to Philadelphia to become rector of St. Paul's church and in 1869 was called to All Souls' church, New York.

Dr. Newton is probably the most polished pulpit orator in New York city He is forcible and eloquent, and his style of diction is especially impressive. He is six feet in height, of athletic, massive build, and in the long, flaring white robe that he canonically wears presents a most striking and picturesque figure.

Origin of Trousers.

Something like a century ago trousers "came in" as the result of drink and may be said to owe their origin to old world royalty, which in those days ate and especially drank very heavily and was consequently afflicted with gout and other maladies of a character to swell the leg. Knee breeches and stockings—so dear not only to the early presidents of the United States and to the signers of the Declaration of Independence, but likewise to the old Puritan element of America—were scarcely suitable for swollen limbs, even if they belonged to the anointed of the Lord, and the result was that George IV. as prince regent; his brothers, the Dukes of York, Clarence, Cumberland and Sussex; the French princes, who afterward reigned as Louis XVIII., Charles X. and Louis Philippe; King Frederick William III. of Prussia and many other equally illustrious personages adopted the modern form of pantaloon, which was at the time a source of no end of ridicule and entertainment to Gilray and to the other caricaturists of the age.

THE OUTLOOK MORE CHEERFUL.

Prices of Stocks Recovered In Market, Tuesday—Closed Quiet and Steady.

New York, May 21.—Prices of stocks scored quite a substantial recovery yesterday and ended the day pretty near the top level and steady. There was a much more cheerful feeling with regard to the outlook for values and none of the rather urgent pressure to sell which was a feature Monday. The sharp and sudden declines among high-priced but seldom active stocks gave place to equally sudden recoveries in the same securities. International Power recovered five points of its 18 point break of Monday and there were wide gains scored by the Electric Express stocks, which were notable sufferers Monday. There was not much news on which to base the rise. Sentiment was favorably affected by the large absorption of United States Steel at rising prices. This soothed the anxieties which were caused by Monday's rumors that a formidable bear party had been formed in the stock as an outgrowth of the criticism of the stock conversion and bond issue plan. The notable strength of Canadian Pacific and its subsidiary roads, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, also had a notable sympathetic effect on the whole market. London was a buyer on a considerable scale after the holiday there, and confident predictions were heard that peace would be declared at an early day in South Africa. The formal announcement of the terms for the taking over jointly by Louisville and Nashville and Southern Railway of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville stocks in return for 4 per cent bonds was chiefly reflected in the price of Louisville.

The presence in the Wall street district of Secretary Easley, of the Civic Federation and his consultation with important representatives of the anthracite interests gave rise to conjectures that measures were in progress for the settlement of the anthracite miners' strike.

The market closed quiet and steady. Bonds were dull, but were about steady. Total sales, par value, $2,419,000.

Chaplain Milburn Injured.

Washington, May 21.—Blind Chaplain Milburn, of the senate, was struck by a runaway horse attached to a buggy as he was leaving the capitol yesterday, just after offering the prayer at the opening of the session. The large toe of one foot was cut off and several of the other toes badly injured. The accident would have been far more serious but for Mr. Milburn's daughter, who pulled him from a position immediately in front of the runaway horse as he was about to dash upon her father.

Surprising Statements.

One account of an accident to a royal motor car near Arriccia announces that "fortunately a number of pheasants were working close by, and with their help the motor car was righted." This surprising statement is only the reverse of the traditional printer's error by which "Lord X. was stated to have gone out with a party of fiends to shoot peasants."—London Globe.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Sea Necklaces.

Pretty nearly every one has seen the curious "sea ruffles," or "sea necklaces," which are found plentifully on ocean beaches. These are the egg cases of the sea snails. They consist of a number of small disk shaped envelopes attached along a sort of stem, the biggest of them being in the middle. In each envelope there is a little spot of thinner material, which the young break through when they are ready to be hatched. When the female gasteropod is about to lay, she buries herself in the sand, from the surface of which the "necklace" of eggs is gradually extruded. Being thus set adrift and exposed to the elements, as well as to devouring enemies, few of the eggs are ever hatched, but those which do come into the world safely and survive doubtless live to a very great age.

Some people seem to think they have to prove they have a mind by speaking it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

Is the enemy of all neuralgic and other nerve troubles. Accept no substitutes for it. Neuralgyline does not cure or relieve all diseases. It only RELIEVES PAINS CAUSED BY NEURALGIA AND OTHER NERVOUS TROUBLES. No matter how bad the case is, it must succumb to the all-powerful influence of Neuralgyline. Neuralgyline, by soothing the nerves, restores them to their normal state.

Neuralgyline is absolutely harmless. It is a combination of health giving chemicals. Try a box of it if you are one of the great army of neuralgic sufferers. ONE PELLET WILL BRING YOU RELIEF WITHIN TWENTY MINUTES. Read what these representative people have to say of Neuralgyline:

I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia; Neuralgyline has effected a permanent cure in my case. Miss R. V. EVANS, Sistersville, W. Va.

I have suffered for over a week with neuralgic pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one NEURALGYLINE tablet I was completely cured. Mr. J. R. SIRN, St. Paul, Minn.

Your suffering can be relieved too! Every first-class druggist in town sells Neuralgyline. Price, 25c. a box.

If you find that Neuralgyline is not as represented, money will be cheerfully refunded. Samples free on request.

MRS. HELENA BLAU,

Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

TEN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

Mrs. Helena Blau.

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'worn out' women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissue. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

Why not get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

GRAND FREE EXCURSION

INTRODUCTORY SALE

LA BELLE VIEW LOTS

AT

Saturday, MAY 24

If you do not live in the Great Ohio Valley District where the colossal new plants constituting the La Belle Steel Works and Pope Tin Plate Works, and a wonderful wealth of diversified industry is spreading out beyond all anticipated bounds—now's the time to investigate—now before your greatest opportunity to make money flies and what might be your earnings go into other pockets.

Free Excursion Trains will be run from Wheeling, Pittsburg, East Liverpool and all intermediate points. Tickets will be sent to all people sending for them living on railroads that will make connections with excursion trains. Get your request in before ticket limit is reached. Sit down and write now. Don't get left.

But now as to the purpose of this great Introductory Sale—it was organized to disseminate the advantages of the property to the greatest number of investors in the shortest possible time, with a view to getting building operations started at once and thus meet the mighty cry for homes now going up from the throats of hundreds and hundreds of the 10,000 additional iron workers, tinplate workers, glass workers, clay workers and coal miners about to invade this field for employment.

As an introductory method lots will be sold in many instances at 20 to 100 per cent. below the prices which will rule at the second sale. No argument that mortal man could put forward will speak as forcefully to the investor as this fact, when considered with the actual progress that he will see here with his own eyes.

THE IMMENSE NEW INDUSTRIES WILL CALL 10,000 MORE WORKMEN TO EMPLOYMENT

Among the names of the great organizations which are erecting new works and adding buildings and improvements are the La Belle Steel Co., Pope Tinplate Co., Ohio Valley Clay Co., National Steel Co., American Steel Hoop Co., Ohio Foundry Co., Steubenville Pottery Co., Steubenville Wall Paper Co., Riverside Blast Furnace Co., Acme Glass Works Co., Hartje Bros. Paper Manufacturers, Jefferson Glass Co., Means Foundry and Machine Co., Robinson & Irwin Machine Co., National Marble Co., and many planing mills.

The National Steel Company will employ about 2,000 men in the billit and rod mills, the Pope Tinplate Works will start with 800 men, and increase to double this number in the next fourteen months; the La Belle Steel Works employ 2,100 men at present at their new open hearth furnaces and at the new tube mills. When completed this industry alone will give employment to 6,000 men.

It is estimated that the army of workmen in Steubenville and vicinity will be increased to 15,000 and that in less than ten years there will be a compact commercial metropolis of more than 50,000 souls, built up solidly with no vacant land intervening.

Lots at the Grand Introductory Sale will go at

$50, $75, $100, $125 $150, $175, and $200 on terms of $5 and $10 down and $1.00 per week.

Some on the boulevard and business district will be sold at prices a little higher, but in no instance at figures as high as the advance which must be made thirty days after date of introductory sale.

Ten per cent. discount will be allowed for cash when full amount is paid within sixty days from date of purchase, and in the event of sickness or loss of employment no interest will be charged on deferred payments. Should the death of the purchaser occur, his or her heirs will receive free deed or title to lot without requirement of any further payment, if purchaser has paid one-fourth of purchase price.

It might be well to remember that the lots on the boulevard and many of the streets run from 50 x 110 to 55 x 125 and 50 x 150.

Here is another interesting point: Between the hours of 10:30 and noon on day of FREE EXCURSION, ten of the finest lots in the plan will be put up separately at auction to be knocked down to the highest bidder, with the understanding that they will agree to commence the erection of a creditable house on each lot before October 1. None of the lots will be offered at this auction contest for a longer period than five minutes, and not more than one lot will be sold to any one person.

Two extra lots will be given also to the purchaser who completes the building of the first house costing $2,000 on any lot that is purchased on day of the introductory sale. Purchasers who build the second, third, fourth and fifth houses will each be given one lot.

La Belle View will have every modern city improvement.

LA BELLE VIEW is a part of Steubenville lying in the third and fifth wards on a beautiful tableland just above the Panhandle passenger depot. It will inherit every up-to-date convenience that belongs to a progressive municipality whose population is now 15,000 and growing at the rate of 42 per cent.

Arrangements have been made to pave a portion of the boulevard and the business street. Other extensive city improvements will follow.

There will be city water, natural gas and electric light.

Increase in real estate values due largely to tremendous railroad construction and improved river navigation.

The dam to be built in the Ohio at Brilliant station will give Steubenville a six foot harbor, and has so encouraged capital to pry into the coal developing possibilities of this locality that thousands of acres of coal land have been bought up and preparations made to erect immense shafts, with railways to carry the outputs of the mines to the river front.

The coal syndicates which have been coming in have discovered that the Steubenville coal is identical in quality with the great gas and coking veins which have made Pittsburg and Connellsville famous.

$2,000,000.00 will be expended by these syndicates during the coming summer in this field, and the number of miners employed will be increased from 175 to 600. An authority on coal development says that in less than two years there will be coal shafts enough located between Wheeling and Toronto to employ not less than two thousand men.

When you stop to realize what an effect this will have in sending up the value of La Belle View property, you will be one of the men who will not wait for the free excursion train to take you to Steubenville.

Chas. Giganti, a Prisoner, Instantly Kills Foreman Geo. Jacobs.

A GUARD FATALLY WOUNDED

HE ALSO IS LIKELY TO DIE

The Trouble Started With the Seizure of a Pistol From a Fellow Prisoner and the Murderous Battle Followed at Once.

Canton, May 21.—(Special)—The workhouse in this city was the scene of a desperate hand-to-hand conflict this morning, which resulted in the death of George Jacobs, foreman of the brush and broom factory. Homer Stone, a guard, is also fatally wounded and Charles Giganti, a prisoner, aged 22, who started the trouble, will also die.

At about 9 o'clock Giganti, who was sent up from this city on April 22, for causing the death of a horse, and who employed in the brush factory, grabbed a pistol from the hip pocket of William Klotz, a guard, and rushing to where Jacobs was standing, shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

Stone ran to the rescue, when Giganti turned on him and sent a bullet through his body near the heart. Drawing his pistol, Stone fired at Giganti, the ball striking in a vital spot. The prisoner fell to the floor, and as he did so fired another bullet into his own body from the pistol in his hand. His wounds and that of Stone are fatal.

No cause for the tragedy is known, other than that Giganti held a grudge against Jacobs. Stone was a former deputy sheriff of Stark county.

GOT THROWN OUT

A Customer Who Refused to Pay for Drinks Sues a Saloon Keeper.

With a portion of his head in plaster of paris and his face presenting a woebegone appearance very similar to that of a three-year-old boy who has been reprimanded by his parents for stealing sugar, Michael Phillips appeared before the mayor this morning and, after unfolding a very sad tale, had an affidavit issued for the arrest of Charles Hayden, charging him with assault and battery. The complainant stated that he was in Hayden's saloon yesterday when Hayden attacked him without cause, inflicting serious wounds on and about his physiognomy.

Hayden, when arraigned, denied the accusation in every particular, stating that he kept an orderly place and threw the man out because he became troublesome and refused to pay for several drinks. The mayor thought it queer that Hayden would make the assault for nothing and instructed Phillips to secure the costs. If he does so, the case will be given a hearing this evening.

CAMPAIGNING IN HAYTI

Presidential Candidate And Army Moving—Whole Population Under Arms.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 21.—(Special)—The army commanded by General Firmin, the most powerful candidate for president of Hayti, numbering about 4,000 men, arrived today at Arcahaie, about two days' march from here.

The provincial government's committee of public safety has summoned all citizens to defend the capital and has resolved to put the entire population under arms.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Brakeman on the Ft. Wayne Railroad Dies at Alliance Hospital.

Alliance, May 21.—(Special)—C. E. Bader, a fireman on a through freight on the P., F. W. & C. railroad, was overcome with the heat while on his engine at Salem yesterday afternoon and taken with an attack of heart failure. He was brought to this city as quickly as possible and taken to the hospital, where he died early this morning.

Bader was a young man and lived in Chicago. His trip yesterday was the first he ever made on the eastern division.

STREET CAR CAME NEAR GOING OVER THE BANK.

Street car No. 2, bound for Wellsville, jumped the track at Walker this afternoon at 1 o'clock and came frightfully near going over the bank which at this point is very steep and nearly 100 feet in height.

Of the dozen passengers aboard none were seriously hurt, but all were jammed violently together. The conductor sustained injuries to his legs and back which may result in his being laid up for a time.

TROUBLE SEEKERS

CAPT. MARTINDILL WILL KEEP THEM OFF HIS BOAT.

He Is Determined to Preserve Order at the Wharf And Thinks He Can Do It.

William Bradley, charged with assault and battery, was arraigned before the mayor yesterday afternoon. He waived a hearing and was bound over to court in the sum of $25. Bradley is the watchman employed on the wharfboat and the case against him originated with his difficulty with Ed Storm, the particulars of which were given exclusively in last evening's News Review. Captain Gus Martindill, the wharfmaster, states that the only class of people ever reprimanded by him or his associates belong to the colored population.

"There is a gang of these people," said he, "that I don't want on my boat under any circumstances. They come on for nothing else but to raise a disturbance. They are insulting and white passengers must be protected; therefore I intend to keep them off, and have been given permission to do so. Every white man in the city, if he conducts himself properly will be allowed on the wharfboat at any time. The men in charge of the passenger boats will not allow the crowds on their boats, but if the people wish to come on my boat and witness the landing of a steamer they are perfectly welcome."

Captain Martindill is a man quite capable of conducting the affairs around the wharfboat and no trouble will ever arise if it is in his power to prevent it. He has had possession of the boat now for eght months and to the general public has given entire satisfaction. The business men have complimented him numerous times for the condition in which he has placed the boat and the wharf.

COURT CASES SETTLED

Various Actions Brought in Common Pleas Have Been Adjusted.

Lisbon, May 21. — (Special) — The following cases in common pleas court have been settled:

The Lutz & Schraum company vs. De Bee & Son, of East Liverpool.

Mary A. Edmunds vs. the United Power company, of East Liverpool. This suit was brought to recover $10,000 damages for injuries sustained in a street car accident.

W. L. Smith, as administrator of the estate of Cynthia Bradshaw, late of Fairfield township, versus Eugene B. Bradshaw. This suit was for judgment on two $1,000 notes and was settled for $1,050.

Real Estate Sale Approved.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special) — The common pleas court has approved the sale by the sheriff to Sarah A. Rice of 199 acres of land in Fairfield township, for $4,750, and ordered the distribution of the proceeds among seven children of Charity Rice, late of Fairfield township.

MAP OF MARTINIQUE AND ADJACENT ISLANDS.

St. Pierre, the city recently destroyed by volcanic action, was in the northern part of Martinique and Fort de France is ten miles south of it. Northeast of St. Pierre is Mont Pelee, the volcano that killed 30,000 people in a few minutes. South of Martinique is St. Vincent, which has also been devastated by a volcano.

DEMENTED MAN'S TERRIBLE CRIME

SON'S AWFUL DISCOVERY

New Brighton, Pa., May 21.—Emil Deruyter, aged 46 years, last evening shot and killed his wife, aged 44 years, after which he killed himself. The tragedy occurred at the residence of Frederick Ziegel, who resides on what is known as New England hill, in Pulaski township, about one mile from this town.

Deruyter came here about two weeks ago from Cleveland, and was followed by his wife and three children, who arrived on Thursday. The entire family have been stopping at the Ziegel residence since their arrival, and from all appearances had got along harmoniously.

Deruyter fired five shots from his revolver, three of the bullets striking the woman in the head and one in the arm. He then turned the weapon on himself, sending a bullet crashing through his brain. When the eldest son reached the room where the awful tragedy was enacted, his father was taking a last breath, while the mother was alive, but in an unconscious condition. She died in a short time. It is said Deruyter was partially demented through drink.

THE PLUMBERS' STRIKE

May Be Wrestled With By Trades Council at Tonight's Meeting.

An important meeting of Trades and Labor Council is to be held this evening. The president will appoint six standing committees, and many other matters are scheduled to come up for consideration and action. It is quite probable that the plumbers' strike will be among them, as it seems to be impossible for the journeymen to come to a settlement among themselves. Such cases are generally submitted to the council and whatever action is taken by council must be sanctioned by the strikers.

The committees to be appointed are: Organization, union label, credentials and legislative, three members each; grievance and arbitration, five, and Labor day, seven.

Order for Land Sale.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The common pleas court has issued an order of sale to the sheriff for 35 acres of land in Salem township. The property is forced to sale in the petition of Mary R. Welsh versus Catharine Sell and other heirs of Jacob W. Sell, late of Salem township.

Licensed to Wed.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—Calvin Swift and Miss Nannie Delaney, both of East Liverpool, have been licensed to marry.

ACCUSATIONS ARE REFUTED

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, May 21.—The report of Master Commissioner C. C. Connell in the case of Ohio on relation of Conrad C. Fernsell, auditor of Tuscarawas county against the auditors of the nine counties through which the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad passes, was filed with the supreme court Tuesday. Fernsell objected to the apportionment of the taxable valuation of the road, alleging that, under it, his county would not receive an equitable share.

The auditors of Carroll and Jefferson who are co-defendants in the action, in their answers, in addition to endorsing the claims made by Fernsell, charged that the report of the proceedings of the action of the board of appraisers contained fraud, and that it was misleading.

These accusations are refuted by the master commissioner, who, in his finding of fact, says that while additions were made to the minutes of the meeting by the secretary of the board, they were made in order to explain the understanding of the auditors and not with any idea of perpetrating fraud; and he declares further that no one was misled by them.

The master commissioner makes no recommendation as to how the valuation should be apportioned, but merely reports his finding of fact as to the precise action taken by the board. Auditor Fernsell claims the board did not apportion the valuation in the legal way. It is now up to the supreme court to pass upon this question. If it holds that the board did not make its apportionment rightly, the board will have its work to do over again.

The Democratic state central committee will meet in Columbus, Tuesday, June 10, at 1:30 o'clock to fix the time for the state convention. It will probably be held the last week in July or the first week in August. Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Cedar Point are under consideration for its location. It has been announced that John R. McLean will take a hand in the coming campaign. It is believed that he will be a candidate for United States senator, and his purpose in getting into the game is to strengthen his chances for the nomination. Word has been received that Senator Foraker will not be present at the state convention which meets at Cleveland next week. Important matters which will be up the week of the convention will prevent him from leaving Washington. Senator Hanna will be at the convention.

The brewers of Ohio, West Virginia, Indana, Tennessee and Michigan are meeting here to act on matters pertaining to their business. The advisability of joining the national movement to fight legislation which seeks to restrict the liquor traffic, is to be taken up. It is proposed to hold prohibition up to ridicule, through the press, by public speakers and lecture bureaus.

Governor Nash, who is at French Lick Springs, has appointed little Leslie Howard, son of the proprietor of the hotel at which he is stopping, custodian of the state house squirrels.

MORE PURCHASES

OF PROPERTY FOR USE OF THE RAILROAD COMPANY.

The Pennsylvania company, in furthering its proposition to build a double track through this city, it is said, has spent in the neighborhood of $20,000 for property abutting the railroad and extending to Second street. Within the past few days the railroad company has closed deals whereby it has come into possession of three additional pieces of property. One sale was closed for a consideration of not less than $6,000, while smaller amounts were paid for other properties.

In all the railroad company so far has purchased no less than five properties along the route of the proposed improvements. During the past fortnight the company has purchased the E. D. Marshall property on Pink alley, the consideration in this instance being $6,000. This is quite a large tract. The company has also purchased the Mrs. Malinda Jones property in Pink alley, in the rear of the McKinnon property on Washington street, for which the company paid $5,500 a few days ago. Mrs. Jones is said to have received $3,000 for her property.

Another sale was that of J. M. Kelly, who is said received $1,000 for a 20-foot strip in Pink alley, between Washington and Union streets. Included with these sales are those of Mr. McKinnon and Mrs. Bagley, which were exclusively reported in this paper a few days ago. The deal for the old light plant property has also been closed.

The company has options on practically all property in the lower part of the city, and the deals will likely be closed very soon.

Chester Tin Mill Officials Refuse to Pay Police Court Fines For Their Men.

James Turner, formerly of Pittsburg, but now a resident of Chester, employed as a laborer in the tin mill, was carrying a heavy load when picked up by Officers Mahoney and McDermott last evening. He readily pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of drunkenness, and made arrangements to pay a fine of $1 and costs.

Tin mill men when they appear before the mayor with empty pocketbooks are almost assured of dismissal as a result of the peculiar and almost unprecedented action of the mill officials in regard to the employe giving orders made payable for fines which are imposed. The officials positively refuse to honor an order, and recently when Chief Thompson went to them with an order he says he was not only turned down but insulted, not even receiving civil answers to queries on the subject.

Why the officials have taken such a stand is a mystery. Steps may be taken to remedy the matter. The potteries and other plants of the city have always accepted the orders willingly, realizing that they are the gainers and are doing the city a good turn.

TO REFORM A CONTRACT

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The case of Karl Barth versus Hugh McFall, both of East Liverpool, which was for the reformation of a contract for real estate in East Liverpool and for a deed in accordance with the reformed contract, was decided in favor of the defendant.

The court held that while the plaintiff was mistaken as to the amount of land he was getting, there was no mistake on the part of the defendant as to the amount he was selling, and as both must be mistaken in order to have the contract changed, he refused to interfere.

St. Clair Township Cannot Therefore Issue Bonds and Push the Work.

By Friends of the Project, When the Forms of the Law Will be Complied with and Success Is Confidently Expected.

Lisbon, May 21.—(Special)—The Calcutta road case was tried yesterday afternoon. Judge Hole held that the petition of the 111 taxpayers to the township trustees was not in accordance with the law, for it should have been for the improvement of the roads generally in the township of St. Clair and not merely for the road leading from Calcutta to East Liverpool; at the subsequent election, after the improvement had been authorized and the appointment of the commissoners of roads made, was illegal by reason of a defect in the petition.

The judge enjoined them from proceeding to improve the road, from issuing bonds and also from levying taxes for their payment. Many residents of St. Clair township were present, and much interest was manifested in the decision.

A petition that will conform with the reading of the law is to be prepared soon and presented to the property owners along this road, asking for a bond issue to improve certain roads in the township, and if this passes the trustees will appoint commissioners to view the roads, and they will then decide what road or roads shall be improved. The commissoners can then advise the improvement of Calcutta road, and the matter will then be at an end. It has been said the first petition was prepared by E. E. Birch, of Calcutta, who brought it to an attorney in the city who pronounced it all right. According to the decison of the court, the costs of the case will have to be paid by the township trustees.

The improvement of the road is not ended here, by the granting of a perpetual injunction. It will again be up at the fall election, and the residents of the township who desire to see real estate values in that section advance, will leave no stone unturned to push the matter through.

HON. J. J. LENTZ COMING

Will Deliver an Address on the Subject of "Fraternity" at the Opera House.

East Liverpool chapter No. 45, of American Insurance union, has perfected arrangements for a meeting at the opera house on Friday evening, June 6, to which the public is invited and which will be addressed by Hon. John J. Lentz, national president of the association.

Mr. Lentz will speak on the subject of "Fraternity," a theme which permits of many broad and conservative views, and one which the gentleman has given much study. Several persons from this city have heard him deliver his lecture on this subject and pronounce it a masterpiece of eloquence and deep thought.

The local chapter of the American Insurance union has been in existence about five years. It is one of the substantial orders of the city and is enjoying a rapid growth. The members have arranged for a musical and literary program which will be presented in addition to Mr. Lentz's address on the evening of the coming meeting, and all are desirous that a large attendance rewards their efforts.

Mrs. Kate Taylor, a graduated nurse of prominence, gives her experience with Peruna in an open letter. Her position in society and professional standing combine to give special prominence to her utterances.

CHICAGO, ILL., 427 W. Monroe St.—"As far as I have observed Peruna is the finest tonic any man or woman can use who is weak from the after-effects of any serious illness.

"I have seen it used in a number of convalescent cases, and have seen several other tonics used, but I found that those who used Peruna had the quickest relief.

"Peruna seems to restore vitality, increase bodily vigor and renew health and strength in a wonderfully short time."---MRS. KATE TAYLOR.

EAST END

A BAD PRACTICE

It is predicted that the board of health will cause a number of arrests in the East End district before long. If it does the action will be applauded. For months the residents in the vicinity of High street have been compelled to watch persons said to reside east of the sewer pipe works who bring their garbage and dump it in Lake's run, in the neighborhood of the power house of the sewer pipe company. Now that warm weather has arrived the odor arising is sickening, and last evening residents of that section made complaint to officers at the East End fire station. The matter is to be brought to the attention of the health board.

Not long ago a wagon load of overripe potatoes was dumped along the bank of the run, but at that time nothing was said of the matter. It had been the custom of these persons to dig a hole along the run and bury their garbage, but they have become bolder, and after taking their garbage to the run, dump it as soon as possible. It is the desire of the residents that the board of health make a thorough investigation of this matter and if necessary information will be given to the officials in order that punishment may be given the guilty.

Stepmother Beat a Child And Later Packed Up And Departed.

The story of a broken-up home was told in the East End this morning, because, as reported, a stepmother beat a girl. The family is one of the most prominent in the End End, and when it became generally known no end of surprise was expressed. The husband of the woman, who removed a portion of the furniture from her home to the city, is employed in one of the East End potteries. The moving was done while the man was at work. During Monday morning the stepmother whipped a daughter of her husband, and the brother, thinking that the correction had been sufficient, stepped up to his stepmother and said: "I think this matter had better stop now," and it did.

The woman, it is said, was about to strike the young man, but reconsidered and instead commenced to pack her goods and leave the house. The woman is now said to be residing with other relatives in the city.

BEAVER MAY GET IT

New Sewer Pipe Plant Likely to Go Across the Line Into Pennsylvania.

It was stated last week that men who were interested in the formation of a company to build a new sewer pipe works were in the east on business connected with the new proposition, and while there gave out the information that they would not build the new plant in this vicinity, as was previously expected. The reason for this is the high taxes. Instead the new plant, it is said, will be built in the valley of Beaver, where the rate of taxes is much lower than in this section.

The plans for the new building have been completed and the ground has been purchased. It is thought that some of the men now working in the various sewer pipe plants in this section will be employed at the new works after it is completed.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Street Railway Stockholders Promises to Be an Important One.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the East Liverpool Railway company, it is said, will be held at the office of the company at the power house next month, when matters of a momentous nature will be considered.

While this statement does not come from an official of the company, it is most likely true, as it was made by a person high up in the confidence of the company.

One matter that will be considered is the election of officers for the coming year, and besides this matters concerning the improvement of the road will also be discussed at length. It may be that after this meeting some information concerning the building of the new Lisbon line will be given out.

Home Circle Growing.

Quite a large attended meeting of the East End Protected Home Circle was held last evening in the hall on First avenue, when 20 new members were initiated. The circle also made a change in its local laws by amending the constitution to read that by the payment of an additional 75 cents a quarter, all sick and disabled members will receive $4 a week for a term of 26 weeks, and also a nurse. Their dues will also be paid during this time.

Presented a Dinner Set.

To Call a Pastor.

A congregational meeting of the members of the Second U. P. church will be held at the church one week from tonight, when it is said a call will be issued for a pastor. So far none of the members of the church care to express an opinion as to who will receive the call.

Railroad Improvement.

The Pennsylvania company has distributed a number of new ties along the road in the vicinity of the East End and in a few weeks will replace the old ties. These ties have been scattered along the road from near Ralston's Crossing to above the flint mill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Edward Green, of the East End, has purchased a fast driving horse from Wellsville parties.

Edward Fisher, the pottery promoter of the East End, will leave for Steubenville tomorrow, where he will reside.

Mrs. Mazie Dean, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Almy, of Pennsylvania avenue, practically all winter has returned to ner home.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Marshall, of Hamilton, O., are visiting at the home of Conductor Marshall in the East End. Mr. Marshall was until recently physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Hamilton, and was married early in April.

Henry Chambers, of Pennsylvania avenue, left this morning for Marion, O., where he went for the purpose of bringing to the East End Mrs. Chambers, who has been in a sanitarium for several weeks. It is said her condition has been improved but little.

Refused a Marriage License.

Frank Marietta, of Winona, and Miss Freshnack, of Hanoverton, applied to the proabte court at Lisbon for a license to marry, which was refused them on account of the youth of the would-be groom. Marietta was but 19 years of age and did not have the written consent of his parents.

SIX VICTIMS OF WATERSPOUT.

Flood of Water In Covington, Ky. Storm Damage In Cincinnati and Vicinity.

Cincinnati, May 21.—A terrific wind and rain storm, accompanied by a waterspout, swept over this locality yesterday, causing the loss of six lives and injuring many others. The fury of the storm continued only 30 minutes, but the damage wrought in that time will amount to more than a million dollars in the business section of Cincinnati, and n as much more in other parts of the city and its suburbs.

There is no slate for the coming Republican state convention, and there are enough contests promises to make the occasion a decidedly interesting one. For the most important nomination, that for supreme court judge, eastern Ohio has a conspicuous and decidedly strong candidate in Hon. M. A. Norris, of Youngstown. He cannot be classed as a politician, though he has long been an active and influential Republican, and he is admirably fitted by ability, training and extensive practice for the office to which he aspires. Other candidates for the same office, all men of high character and excellent reputation, are: Judge Burrows, of Painesville; Judge Crew, of Morgan; Phillips, of Cuyahoga; Savage, of Clinton; Summers, of Clark, and W. O. Henderson, Franklin. Fred Herbst, Louis Kaufmaan and M. A. Bridge, all of Columbus, and E. A. Batt, of Cleveland, are leaders in the contest for Dairy and Food Commissioner Blackburn's shoes. Herbst and Bridge are Blackburn's deputies. For members of the board of public works nearly a dozen names will be suggested.

Unnecessary obstructions continue to multiply in East Liverpool streets. It seems to be a common practice for those who have no convenient place to store articles that are too heavy for thieves to carry off to pile them into the street until they are demanded for use. It is no unusual thing to find a street obstructed for half its width by the action of some one who has chosen to use it as a dumping ground or for storage purposes. This practice cannot be defended. Accidents to vehicles and pedestrians, and resultant damage suits are common enough without inviting them. The street commissioner should see that the streets are kept open for the uses for which they were intended.

War has lost a good deal of its pride, pomp and circumstance since Shakespeare wrote about it. It is now a grim and terrible business. In the British campaigns in Africa colors and martial music have been little used and less favored. Before a corps proceeds to active service, its banners are folded up and carefully laid away, that they may be fresh and pretty "when Johnny comes marching home again."

Round the first in the battle against the beef combine has been won by the government in the interests of the people. To a layman it appears that there is law enough to break up the harmful combination. Judge Grosscup evidently holds a similar opinion and has therefore struck a blow at the trust which bids fair either to kill it or so cripple it as to render it harmless.

Senator Dolliver says he is disappointed because not a single helpful suggestion has been made by the minority during the debate on the Philippine bill. The Democrats who have offered helpful suggestions when a problem requiring statesmanship for its solution presented itself have been conspicuous by the absence from congress in recent years.

Senator Gorman is a level headed politician. He tells the Democracy in effect that they must seek some better issue than a defense of the Filipino bushwhackers and bolomen in order to cut a respectable figure in the coming congressional campaign.

The president of France is paying a short visit to the czar of Russia. There are still blocks of ice in the latter country, so that a bomb-proof overcoat is not as uncomfortable as it might be later in the season.

Is some Democratic member of congress likely to call for an investigation of the conduct of the war against the insurrection at Atlanta? Judging from accounts published the uprising is quite serious.

Wyoming may be experiencing those driving snow storms which are reported with so much minuteness. Then again, she may be shrewdly advertising her attractions as a summer resort.

A census bureau is to be permanently established at Washington on July 1. Hereafter it may be possible to complete the publication of one set of census reports before another is due.

As soon as Uncle Sam seized the beef trust bull by the horns the formidable animal ceased its pawing and bellowing and became as meek as a little lamb.

The indictment of 10 persons at Toledo, mainly city officials, for bribery, does not indicate that a golden rule administration has kept all the rascals out.

Chester will soon have a double-track street railway, and what is yet more important, will have business for it.

There is a vacancy in the presidency of Hayti, but even William J. Bryan does not want it.

Water has proven fatal to a number of Kentucky people, but they did not take it internally.

Isn't that new East Liverpool city directory about due?

When Coins Were First Made.

Certain passages in the "Iliad" of Homer would lead to the inference that coins of brass were struck as early as 1184 B. C. Tradition affirms that the Chinese had bronze coins as early as 1120 B. C. But Herodotus, "the father of history," ascribes the "invention" of coins to the Lydians, about nine centuries B. C., and there is no satisfactory evidence that coins were known prior to that date.

POTTERY NEWS

Robert Hawkins, manager of the clay shops of the new pottery being built at Barberton, was in the city on business yesterday. Mr. Hawkins said: "We expected to begin making clay about the first of June, but this has been found impossible. The engine was to have been in place early last month, and on Monday we just received the bill of lading for it. The engine will not be in place for at least a week, and some other matters will have to be arranged before we can start the plant, which we expect will be in July. The contractors are making rapid progress on the plant, and by the time the clay shops are started the plant will be practically finished. We have about all the men we need to start up, and many of them will be from this city. Many applications were filed with Ambrose Cartwright before he left this city for Barberton. Almost a full stock of moulds have been made for the clay shops, and when the plant does start no time will be lost on account of 'no moulds.'"

There was a rumor yesterday that a meeting of all the boss packers of the city had been held Monday at the office of one of the hill potteries, but this was found, after a thorough investigation, to be untrue. Connected with the rumor came the assertion that a number of the boss packers had conferred with several manufacturers and a day wage had been arranged for the coming year, commencing July 1. This report was quite out of reason, as some of the boss packers are quite satisfied with the manner in which they are now working and desire no change. When a boss packer, who is a member of No. 25, was asked about the rumored meeting he would not talk.

The gas engine at the plant of the East Liverpool Sagger company has been set up, and it will be ready to operate as soon as other machinery in other parts of the plant can be installed. This is being done at a rapid rate, and it will be but a short time until the new plant is started. The new kiln is about ready to be topped out, and it will not be long until another kiln may be ordered built.

More decorated ware is being shipped from the local plants than has been the case for some time, taking the time of year into consideration. A well known packer stated this morning that, compared with past years, little white ware was being shipped now, and also that a better class of ware was being demanded.

Charles Emmerling, who has been employed as a handle maker at the Diamond for almost a year, has resigned his position, and is now learning the trade of sewer pipe making. He is employed at the Walker plant of the American Sewer Pipe company, and started to work there last Monday.

Robert Larkins, who is well known in this city, and who is employed at the French China plant at Sebring, had a $45 watch stolen from his clothes while at work a few days ago. He notified the Sebring police, but when he returned to his work yesterday he found the watch lying on his bench.

Thomas Jolly, who has had charge of the sagger making at the Laughlin No. 2 for some time, has resigned. His position is being filled by John Orr, who went to No. 3 plant from McNicol's. Joe Jackson, who has been at No. 2, has been transferred to No. 3.

The packers at the Cartwright pottery were unable to work yesterday afternoon on account of a shortage of ware to fill some of the orders that were being filled during the morning. This ware was to come through the decorating kilns during the night.

The new press at the Union will be installed in a few days. All the machinery has been placed for this new addition, and it is expected by Manager Joseph Manor that the press will be working in a very short time.

Miss Anna Moore, who has been forewoman of the glost warehouse at the Diamond for several months, has resigned that position and is now employed at the same plant as a finisher.

The first kiln of green ware has been placed at Laughlin No. 3, and is now being fired. The glost kilnmen will start to work at this plant within a few days.

At a meeting of the mould makers' local, one week from tonight, the report of the delegates to the convention will be heard.

Miss Alice Smith of Cheyenne has been re-elected secretary of the Wyoming Cattle Growers' association.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association, has gone to Montana in the hope of receiving benefit for lung trouble.

Mrs. Nancy H. Adsit, for more than twenty years one of the best known women lecturers on art topics in the country, died recently in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Joplin Rowe and Miss Lucy Kemp-Welch are the first women to be elected members of the Royal Society of British Artists, although the organization is 117 years old.

Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, wife of the United States embassador at the court of St. James, is an excellent photographer and water color artist and is also proficient in music and languages.

Mme. Jules Cambon, the wife of the French embassador in Washington, had never been in the United States, and what has brought her now are the approaching festivities in connection with the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue.

Mrs. Katherine Holland, the mother of Joseph, E. M. and George Holland, the actors, is dead. The Little Church Around the Corner, in New York, was given its name at the time of the death of her husband, George Holland, in 1870, who was buried from the church.

Dr. Julia Carpenter has been elected president of the Obstetrical society of Cincinnati, O., for 1902. This society is composed of the leading gynecologists and surgeons of Cincinnati. There are in nearly all our large cities similar societies, many of which do not admit women to membership, much less to office.

Saved In Installments.

A couple of Scottish ferrymen rowing a somewhat dandified Englishman out to a steamer at one of the Clyde watering places saw to their consternation the man tumble over the gunwale of the boat into the water.

The foremost ferryman dropped his oar and made a grab at the man as he rose to the surface, catching him by the wig, which came away in his hand.

Throwing this into the boat impatiently, he made a second grab, catching the collar of his shirt, when the collar and front came away in his hands.

Casting these away from him in great disgust, he cried, "Man, Donald, come here quick and help's to save as muckle o' this man as ye can, for he's comin' awa' in bits!"

WELLSVILLE

THE NEW POLICEMEN

One Already Sworn In and on Duty. Chief In New Uniform.

John Henthorn, one of the new night watchmen appointed and confirmed at the Monday evening session of council, was sworn in last night by Mayor Fogo, and immediately went on duty.

Mr. Henthorn is a very stalwart man and from all appearances will make a first-class officer.

George W .Wiley, who was also appointed at the Monday evening session as a night watchman, will be sworn in within a few days, at which time Dallas Pittinger will retire.

Chief Henry Thorn made his appearance this morning clad in a new uniform, and from that it is thought he is to be reappointed chief of police, although the mayor will have nothing to say regarding this rumor until the next council meeting, at which time he intends to make the appointment.

Mr. Thorn seems to be about the only available man for the office, and already knows the ropes, which is also in his favor.

FRESHWATER ON HAND

The Contractor Says He Will Have His Work Completed on Time.

At the meeting held Monday evening council's attention was again called to the fact that E. A. Freshwater, of Penrith, W. Va., who was awarded the contract for the paving of Liverpool and Fourth streets and Maple and Cherry alleys, had not yet commenced work.

Council was informed at the meeting that Mr. Freshwater would arrive yesterday to attend to the work and the matter was dropped for the time being. He arrived yesterday as stated and is preparing to break ground for the paving of these streets and alleys at once.

He states that he will have all of the contracts completed within the time specified in the contract, so that the city will have no complaint whatever to make.

COOPER-ROSS

Wellsville Girl and Pittsburg Business Man Wedded at the Bride's Home.

A very quiet wedding took place this afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock at the Cooper residence near the corner of Broadway and Sixth street. The contracting parties were Miss Elizabeth Cooper, a popular trained nurse of this city, and Mr. Edwin S. Ross, a successful business man of Pittsburg. Rev. C. E. Clark, pastor of the First M. E. church, performed the ceremony, using the ring ceremony.

FLOODED THE STREET

Joint In the New Main on Clark Avenue Blew Out Last Evening.

Employes of the water works department were engaged today in repairing the new water main on Clark avenue, a joint of which blew out last evening flooding the street.

People residing in that vicinity were badly scared for a time, thinking that if the flow of water was not checked at once that Clark avenue would present an appearance like that of Sixth street in Pittsburg during the recent flood, when those wishing to leave their places of business were compelled to board skiffs and row to their destinations. The water was soon shut off, however, and the defective joint replaced with a new one this morning.

An Enjoyable Party.

Mrs. T. R. Andrews gave a very enjoyable party last evening at her home on Main street. About 60 people were present and spent a most enjoyable evening. Light refreshments were served at a late hour.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

F. S. Grace, of Steubenville, is calling on Wellsville friends.

Miss Flora Mannist has returned from a short Pittsburg trip.

John McSweeney, of Main street, is visting friends in Pittsburg.

T. E. Cooper, of Wheeling, is in the city for a few days on business.

E. G. Whitacre left yesterday on a ten days' western business trip.

Rev. L. C. Wells and C. H. Black were Pittsburg visitors yesterday.

Carl Cope and Lewy Long were visiting friends at Irondale yesterday.

City Solicitor Charles Boyd was in Lisbon yesterday on legal business.

J. D. Strock, of Beaver, was in the city last evening on a short business trip.

Miss Harriet Junkin, of Tenth street, is again able to be out after a severe illness.

Mrs. H. A. Starrett, of Main street, went to Pittsburg yesterday on a short business trip.

The Pullman sleeping car Tyrolean, passed through the city yesterday on the main line train.

Charles Sheff received word yesterday of the death of his father at Crestline, and has gone there to attend the funeral services.

Duncan Stanford, formerly of this city, who has been visiting old friends both here and at East Liverpool for the past few days, returned last evening to his home at Toronto.

Mrs. Conn Mulhair left last night for Ravenna, where she will nurse her husband who is very ill at the home of his parents with an attack of typhoid pneumonia.

Gaynor and Green to Stay In Quebec.

Quebec, May 21.—Gaynor and Green, after a hearing before Judge Andrews yesterday, were remanded to the care of the sheriff of Quebec, and with two detectives to keep watch over them, have returned to the Chateau Frontenac.

RUSHING THE WORK

Rock Springs Street Railway Has a Large Force Engaged in Double Tracking.

Ground for the double tracking of the East Liverpool & Rock Springs street railway has been broken from Rock Springs park west on Carolina avenue to Third street. Work is being rapidly rushed, and it is thought that by Saturday evening all of the ties on the street mentioned will be laid. A large force of men is kept at work every day and the company does not intend to lose a minute's time in completing the work.

The first picnic of the season will be held at the park on May 30, and Manager Maxwell thinks that the track will be laid from the Ohio river bridge to the park at that time.

Two new open cars arrived yesterday from the Laclede Car company, of St. Louis, and will be put into service, together with their several other summer cars already on hand, as soon as the double track is complete.

On picnic days cars will be run at three minute intervals.

Must Act on Request of Tin Mill Electricians for Increased Wages.

When the electricians of the Chester tin mill asked for an advance of two cents an hour yesterday, the management of the mill is said to have told the men that 18 cents an hour was all the companny was paying for such work in any mill, and nothing could be done with the request by the local officials, the question having to be presented to higher officials.

The men claim that when they took their positions in this department they were told that 18 cents would be paid the men until they were entirely acquainted with their work, after which they would be advanced to 20 cents an hour. The men, thinking they were justly entitled to the advance, presented their demands to the local officials of the mill.

It is understood that several of the men will be granted an advance, but not all employes of the department.

Engine And Cars Derailed at the Chester Tin Mill This Morning.

A small wreck occurred early this morning on the Panhandle branch in Chester near the tin mill. The local freight engine, No. 135, was damaged in switching a few cars into the tin mill yards when a rail broke, resulting in the derailing of the engine and three freight cars. The wreck train from Steubenville was called and soon arrived and had the locomotive and cars replaced on the track before noon.

The passenger train was unable to get any farther than the tin mill, and on the noon run its first stop was at First street. This is the first wreck of the kind that has occurred on the new Panhandle branch since it was built nearly two years ago.

Judge Hervey Will Not Interfere While the Hancock County Case Is Pending.

Judge J. C. Hervey, of the West Virginia circuit court, decided Monday that the new ferry boat Emily could ply between Wellsville and Congo until the case which has been appealed to the circuit court from the Hancock county court is finally decided.

The order of supersedeas does not suspend the operation of the Hancock county court which granted a franchise to the owners of the boat to operate the ferry, and therefore they have a right to exercise the franchise in all respects as though no appeal of the case to the circuit court had been granted.

ABOUT THE STATION

Railroad Company Making Improvements for Public Accommodation.

The Panhandle railroad has about completed a new crushed stone platform leading from the front of Rock Springs park to the Chester station for the accommodation of passengers on excursion trains.

Other improvements are to be made soon for the accommodation of excursionists.

It has been stated by different people in Chester that a long train shed is to be erected at the rear of the railroad platform in front of the park. This has been denied by railroad officials.

FELL FROM A WAGON

Melva Hite Dislocated Her Shoulder While Driving to Town.

Little Miss Melva Hite was the victime of a very painful accident early last evening while riding with her sister from Hookstown to Chester in a spring wagon.

She was trying to hold a crate of eggs on the wagon while her sister did the driving, and in some manner lost her equilibrium and fell to the ground, dislocating her shoulder. She was immediately brought to her home on Carolina avenue, where a doctor was called and set the shoulder. She does not seem to suffer much today, although the injury is yet painful.

Has a Job in Wheeling.

A. M. Noling, who was formerly a conductor on the East Liverpool & Rock Springs street railway, is now employed as a motorman on one of the Wheeling lines. He came to Chester last evening on the Queen City, and after remaining here a short time will return to Wheeling.

CHESTER NOTES.

All of the side walks have been removed from Rock Springs park pavilion.

Lawrence Chaney has moved from Wellsville to Chester, where he will work in the mill.

Miss Mamie Schooles, who has been ill for several days past, is worse today. The malady has developed into typhoid fever.

James Householder and Robert Tolson have each moved their families to Chester from Irondale. They are employed in the mill.

U. S. CONCENTRATION CAMPS.

Those In Philippines Both Condemned and Defended, In the Senate.

Washington, May 21.—The subject of the concentration of the inhabitants in the Philippines into camps was a leading topic of the discussion of the Philppne bill in the senate yesterday. Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, attacked the policy of concentration, likening it to the reconcentrado camps established by General Weyler in Cuba.

Mr. Foraker, of Ohio, defended the action of the military authorities in establishing the camps in the Philippines as wise and proper and as a means of protecting friendly Filipinos from assassination at the hands of roving bands of insurgents. He read a description of the camps to show that they were really camps of instruction and sanitation.

Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, spoke briefly in line with Mr. Bacon, criticising the concentration camps and pointng out the difficulty in getting army officers to testify regarding the situation.

Yesterday's debate was closed by Mr. Clapp, of Minnesota, in an eloquent speech, in which he urged that the Filipinos ought to be taught to admire and respect the United States as a nation which always had stood for liberty and progress and never had broken its word to any people, great or small.

INSTRUCTED THE CONFEREES.

House So Acted on Army Bill Amendments.

Washington, May 21.—For a third time within a week the house has instructed its conferees on matters of dispute between the senate and house. Yesterday the instructions were given on amendments in the army appropriation bill before the conferees had even considered the matter in controversy. The motion to instruct was made by Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, chairman of the appropriation committee. It was resisted by Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, and the somewhat spirited debate which followed developed antagonism between the committees. The amendment at which Mr. Cannon aimed was that which increased the appropriation for military posts from three to four million dollars.

MYRON A. NORRIS FOR SUPREME JUDGE

Mahoning county will this year present to the republican state convention the name of Myron A. Norris as a candidate for supreme judge. Mr. Norris will come before the convention with the united support of eastern Ohio. Mahoning county is enthusiastic in his behalf, and it is claimed for him that he will have the support of the entire Seventh circuit. Mr. Norris has the indorsement of his professional associates, and if elected will bring to the position to which he is chosen all of those qualifications which are essential to the good judge. He has a mind well stored with knowledge of the law, in short, he has what lawyers call a legal mind that reaches out in a scientific manner and grasps the reasons of legal rules and does not become confused and grope blindly among the masses of conflicting authorities, some of which are ill-considered which now threatens to throw our jurisprudence into inextricable confusion. With habits of industry and energy, Mr. Norris has also the confidence of all his associates at the bar; he has also the legal training which comes only to a lawyer engaged in the active practice at the trial table.

Mr. Norris has been in the general practice of the law for nearly 30 years. He is 52 years of age. Has been a lifelong republican. Was chairman of the state central committee of Ohio during the years of 1899-1900. His party service merits the approval of his fellow republicans.

Mr. Norris is honest, upright and independent; has the absolute confidence and indorsement of the bar association of his county. Mr. Norris never held any public office, although his voice has been long listened to in the councils of his party, and northeastern Ohio will either secure for him the nomination for supreme judgeship or they will compliment him with a support of which he may always be proud.

HONORED BY THE POPE.

American Woman Receives Cap Worn by Him During Jubilee.

Countess de Spottiswood Mackin while in Rome on the occasion of the recent jubilee of Pope Leo received an especial favor from the venerable head of the Catholic church. Countess Mackin, who was formerly Miss Sally Britten of St. Louis, author and society woman, was received at a special audience by the pope.

receives no one except the representatives of foreign missions, members of the sacred college and diplomats. After the audience the pope sent his skull cap, worn by him at the jubilee, to Countess Mackin.

ONE OF NATURE'S LAWS.

Action and Reaction That Produce a Fit of the Blues.

Probably in two cases out of three the blues are caused by one's physical state. If a man has overworked or has been under any unusual strain or excitement or has worried a great deal or has been for a while in a state of joy and elation—all of which require an expenditure of energy—he is very likely to have the blues and to be in low spirits by way of reaction.

The body is a machine which can do a certain amount of work and no more. If it does a great deal today, it must do less tomorrow and thereby make up for today's extravagance. If a man takes one glass of whisky, the slight stimulus that he feels will be followed, as night follows day, by an exactly equivalent sinking of the spirits. If he has been thoroughly and gayly drunk, his recovery will be attended by corresponding melancholia and misery.

When a man has the blues, he ought to consider that he is merely an exponent of one of nature's laws and that he has no right to harass others with complaints. Some men are not pleased unless they communicate their unpleasant moods to all about them. They become sulky and cross with their wives and children, and they throw a gloom over their household. Such conduct is very selfish.

A man in the blues ought to take some pills and a good long walk all alone or with some companion of steadfast cheerfulness. Lucky it is for him if he has a wife who will not be downcast and who can restore him to cheerfulness without spoiling him.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Funny Signs of the Times.

Some persons find as much fun in reading signboards as others do in reading the comic papers. Here are a few oddities reported by observing travelers, the first of which evidently was displayed in front of a butcher's shop:

"I kill myself every Tuesday and Friday."

"Take notis when this board is out of site the river is dangerous."

"Widow with large family wants washing by the week."

"This is the old shop just come from above."

"A large stock of ladies' hose, pure cashmere, to be cleared 25 cents the pair. They won't last long at this price."

"Abominable belts made to order."

"Closed for the day owing to funeral of proprietor's wife and who will carry on as usual tomorrow morning."—New York Press.

Scores Made Last Night Below the Average—Features of the Games.

Notwithstanding that the East Liverpool bowling team won the series from Captain Shingler's aggregation on the Craig-Carnahan alleys last evening, at least one more series will have to be played before the tie is broken and incidentally the championship of the two cities decided. Three series have been played. Shingler's team won the first. The second was a tie, and East Liverpool got the last.

In the games East Liverpool has had the advantage, two of the series being played on the alleys to which the members are accustomed. Another advantage over the Wellsville boys lies in the fact that the alleys on which Shingler's men have been rolling are not of regulation length, being 10 feet short. In the deciding series, which will likely be played next week, Shingler's men will have a little the best of it, as East Liverpool will have a chance to show its superiority on strange alleys.

The individual scores made last evening fell considerably below the average, only one man out of the ten bowling creditably. That man was Clark, of the local team. His average was 165 and in the second game he went near the 200 mark. Shingler bowled a pretty game and got a fair average. If he had received any support in the first game the locals would have lost the series. Hall played in tough luck. It seemed as though fate had him marked. Generally when a man throws a ball it will favor him occasionally, but Hall got left every time. A split was about as good as he could turn. Harsha had a crippled foot, but did well under the circumstances. Aten generally makes in the neighborhood of 200, but he wasn't there last night. His best was 161. However, his average was slightly above the general run of bowlers.

It was impossible for Craig to have any command over his ball. His intentions were always good, but he failed to carry them out. Rigby is really a good bowler, which fact he showed in the second game when he slaughtered 266 pins, but the trouble with the young man is that he can't hold up. He is a little uncertain, making over 200 in one game and in the following one about half as many. The cannon ball thrown by Mr. Gass has a tendency to make the pin boys fly to their roosts, but it is only semi-occasionally that he makes a score of any moment. He exclaimed last night, after seeing his score of 131 in the second game, that he was all in and would hereafter take as his opponent some lad of not more than 10 years. Russell made long runs and pretty slide and upon one occasion made a nice score, but his average was small.

The individual scores totaled as follows:

Shingler's team—Hall, 383; Shingler, 466; Aten, 460; Harsha, 356; Karr, 464.

RIVERVIEW MEET

Important Conference at Wheeling Regarding the Shoals In the Ohio.

An important conference was held at Wheeling yesterday between rivermen and Captain W. E. Craighill, who has charge of the upper Ohio river, regarding the pending improvements. Captain Craighill has been devoting considerable time to the problem presented by the shoal places in the Ohio river. Navigation between Parkersburg and Pittsburg could be continued several weeks longer in low water season were it not for a dozen bars or shallow places which effectually prevent the passage of steamboats, though there is plenty of water between these points. One of the objects of yesterday's conference, which was made by appointment, was to obtain views from rivermen regarding the points where dredging would be most advisable.

Captain Craighill has already taken aggressive steps in this direction. Last week he let the contract to the Monongahela and Western Dredging company to dredge White's riffle at Sewickley. The contract has not been finally let, but the company named made the most advantageous bid and will start the work as soon as the necessary documents are signed up. White's riffle is one of the shallowest places in the river, and the improvement is one long wished for by rivermen.

PROUD OF THE EIGHTH

An Officer Speaks in Complimentary Terms of This Ohio Regiment.

A Washington dispatch contains the following complimentary notice of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I.

Major E. H. Hathaway, formerly of Chicago and now chief supervisor of rural free delivery, was at Santiago when the American soldiers embarked for home after the Spanish evacuation, leaving only a small contingent of United States troops in the city.

"I only saw one organization of which I really felt proud," said Major Hathaway, as he discussed his experiences in Santiago the other day. That was the Eighth Ohio. All the other regiments, as they marched to the wharf to board the transports, slouched along the streets—and they usually took the back streets at that—as if they were ashamed.

"The Eighth Ohio, on the contrary, proudly paraded through the principal streets to the center of the city, where they halted while the band played 'Yankee Doodle.' To me it was the most inspiring incident of the whole campaign, and I never have forgotten the marching and the music of the Eighth Ohio."

IRON WORKER MISSING

Possessed Funds Entrusted to His Care—Was an Amalgamated Official.

Thomas Williams, a veteran iron worker of Zanesville, who was a candidate for the national presidency of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers against Theodore Shaffer at the recent convention in Wheeling, has disappeared. He is secretary of the Zanesville local of the Amalgamated association, and as such he held about $100 of the lodge funds. He also held in trust $200 for Richard Llewellen.

Mrs. Williams claims to have received a letter from him in which he says he lost much money during the Wheeling convention, but that he will pay all he owes. She refuses to reveal his whereabouts. The trust fund for the Llewellen benefit was raised among the ironworkers of Pittsburg, Wheeling and numerous Ohio cities, where Llewellen worked prior to locating in Zanesville.

EIGHTH OHIO REGIMENT

The Second Annual Reunion Will Be Held at Canton July 17 And 18.

The second annual reunion of the Eighth regiment, O. V. I., will be held in Canton July 17 and 18. It is expected that about 300 members of the regiment will be present, and it is probable that Captain Sigsbee, who was in command of the ill-fated Maine and who was also in command of the St. Paul, which conveyed the Eighth to Cuba, will attend.

Captain Sigsbee was made an honorary member of the regiment at last year's reunion and agreed at that time to go to Canton. In case he finds it impossible to attend, Admirals Schley or Dewey will be asked to be present.

The regiment is composed of 12 companies: I, F and L, of Canton; A, of Bucyrus; B, of Akron; C, of Polk; D, of Wooster; E, of East Liverpool; G, of Wadsworth; H, of Shreve; K, of Alliance, and M, of Mansfield.

The meeting will be held on the day of the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago. It is expected that the Eighth regiment band will furnish the music for the occasion.

THE opening of the contract season for grape baskets has brought such a rush of business to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company, that the urgent necessity for vigorous steps in enlarging its equipment is apparent to everyone. It is in the month of May that the grape growers give out their first orders for baskets for the coming season, because it is at this time that the prospects of the grape crop begin to be estimated.

Orders for forty-five million five-pound grape baskets and for over thirty million eight-pound grape baskets were offered to the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company on Saturday, May 10th. The orders amounted to over one million dollars at lowest wholesale prices.

It is always the case that the orders given in the month of May are multiplied three or four times before the close of the season, but even if no other business than that which has been offered already to this Company were to be turned out and delivered this year, the result would be a substantial dividend on the entire capital of the Company. Of course it is impossible for the Company to avail itself of any more of the business that is offered than its present facilities will take care of, but the fact that such tremendous orders are offered to it from the fruit growers of the United States, shows the estimate in which the product of the Company's machines is held by those who must have fruit baskets in large quantities.

FULL MONOPOLY INDICATED.

While it has been generally understood by the officers and shareholders of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company that the entire basket industry would be dominated by the automatic basket making machines, the ownership and control of which are among the vested interests of the Company, it is extremely gratifying to all that the exhibition of the work of the machines in New York City, Philadelphia, and Chicago, has made the superior quality of the baskets turned out by the machines so apparent to the big buyers, that they have not waited to be approached for business, but they have voluntarily urged their orders for this year's needs upon the Company.

GREAT EXTENT OF THE INDUSTRY.

While of course these facts are very pleasing to all who have invested in the shares of the Company, they are particularly gratifying to the officers and directors who have set forth so prominently to all the world the great volume of this industry, which instead of being centered in one compact modern organization, has heretofore been carried on by an almost innumerable army of individual hand-workers all over the country. The crying need for concentration of this great industry under modern management was never more thoroughly demonstrated than in the fact that the orders which this Company has been compelled to refuse for this year's business must be scattered among two or three hundred different concerns who make baskets by the uncertain method of hand labor.

It seems entirely wise to set forth these facts to the general public and announce them in this manner to the shareholders of the Company, in order that all who are not familiar with the great extent of the basket industry may gather in this way an immediate conception of the profitable field which the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company dominates by the work of its really wonderful automatic basket-making machines.

HANDLING THE BUSINESS.

The plans now being executed as rapidly as possible in the manufacture of machines and the location of factories, will place this Company's equipment in a few months in such shape that it can manufacture and deliver an almost unlimited supply of baskets. Arrangements are even now being made for next year's delivery of a volume of business which will run well up into the millions, and every person who has subscribed to the shares of this Company should be congratulated upon the purchase of shares which within a year will be worth many times the purchase price of such shares.

FOUNDATIONS OF SUCCESS.

It is now a demonstrated commercial certainty that the business of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will earn sensational dividends, and that its complete control of the basket industry is entrenched behind the strongest fortifications. Every patent on automatic basket making machinery is owned and controlled by this Company. Every experimental step in connection with perfecting machines for actual work has been completed. This is evident to all who visit the exhibitions in the large cities of the country and see the machines make baskets with humanlike ingenuity, turning them out complete from strips of material.

The shares of the Company now selling at

75 CENTS

are undoubtedly the most attractive investment possible to find on this continent.

There are a great number of people who have been interested in the announcements made of this Company's plans, who have felt a natural desire to buy its shares. A good many of them have wanted to see positive demonstration of the capacity of the machines and demonstration of the demand for the baskets. These demonstrations are now made beyond any peradventure, and to all such persons the statement is directed, that the shares will not remain at 75 cents but a very few days.

INVESTIGATE PERSONALLY.

There are a great many general and specific questions that every person contemplating investment in this Company would like to have answered. These answers are compiled in complete form covering every question which has ever been asked about the shares and about the organization of the Company. Those who are desirous of subscribing for these shares before the next advance in price should write at once for the pamphlet containing these answers to natural questions. Wherever it is possible a visit should be made to the places where machines are being worked for public demonstration. Those who cannot go themselves to see the machines, should employ the services of some friend in whom they have confidence, to witness the actual operation of basket-making by the automatic machines.

It is but fair to urge upon all who have become interested in the presentments of the Company to take prompt steps to satisfy themselves of the exceptional value of the investment which these shares offer.

Checks for subscriptions should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer.

The Directors reserve the right to reject any subscription.

Suit For $40—J. E. Haggerty has led suit in 'Squire Rose's court gainst John and Lilly Daley, to reover $40 on a painting contract.

Funeral Tomorrow—The funeral serices over the remains of Oscar, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Young, of the East End, will be held tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be at Riverview.

Another Pitcher Signed—Among the pitchers signed for the season by Manager Walsh is Morgan Winters. He is a good man, having pitched four games up to date and come out victorious in all.

Taken to His Home—James Wheatley, who has been lying seriously ill at the Walsh hotel for about two weeks, was this morning removed by the city ambulance to his home in the East End. His condition is yet very critical.

Completed Arrangements—The Memorial Day committee, composed of N. A. Frederick, J. D. West, Captain Dawson and Matthew Anderson met last night in 'Squire McLane's office and completed arrangements for the day's exercises.

Severed an Artery—As a result of a glass tumbler breaking and coming in contact with his hand, William Wedgewood, of Grant street, is suffering excruciating pain. One of the pieces penetrated his hand to such a depth that an artery was severed, causing blood to flow profusely before a physician arrived. It required six stitches to close the wound, but the patient is doing nicely with no serious results anticipated.

A Delightful Trip—A party of East Liverpool and Salem people who went down the river to Cincinnati on the packet Queen City, last week, returned last evening, having made the round trip on the boat. They report that the excursion was a delightful one in every respect and are loud in their praises of Captain Sanford and the boat officials generally for courtesies shown them. Several other parties from this city are arranging for similar trips. The party consisted of A. O. Silver and family; W. C. Hare, Mrs. Hare and Miss Hare and D. L. Davis, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brush and son, of East Liverpool. H. W. Smith and wife of this city, and Finley Hutton and family, of Salem, will go down on the same boat tonight for a similar trip.

ELABORATE WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED YESTERDAY AT HIGH NOON AT ROCHESTER.

Miss Ora Leland Barr, of That City, Becomes the Wife of Charles B. Fisher.

At high noon yesterday the wedding of Miss Ora Leland Barr, of Rochester, Pa., and Mr. Charles B. Fisher, of this city, was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Francis Barr, mother of the bride, on New York avenue, at Rochester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. D. Brown, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, of Rochester, of which the bride is a member, and was witnessed by a number of the relatives and intimate friends of the high contracting parties. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Louise Linnenbrink, of Rochester, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucille Grant Barr, as bridesmaid, and was given away by her brother, Mr. J. Forrest Barr.

The bride was gowned in a handsome creation of tucked crepe de chine over silk with pearl trimmings and chiffon and presented a charming appearance. She wore a veil caught with a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was most becomingly gowned in nile green chiffon worn over pink silk and carried pink roses. Miss Linnenbrink wore a gown of pink crepe de chine. The house and table decorations were most tastefully arranged, a color scheme of pink and white being admirably carried out with roses and carnations.

After the conclusion of the wedding ceremony and congratulations an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a short visit to Detroit. Owing to pressing business matters which necessitate the attention of the groom, they will postpone their honeymoon trip until later, when they will enjoy an extended visit to northern points.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Fisher, a sister of the groom; Dr. J. Bert George and Mr. George S. Goodwin, of East Liverpool; Mrs. James H. Baker, of Oil City; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss Mary B. O'Neil, of Steubenville.

The groom is the proprietor of the Bostonian store and is one of the city's foremost young men. His bride is a refined and estimable lady and holds a prominent place in Rochester social circles. The many friends of the couple extend hearty congratulations.

HEAT PROSTRATIONS

Two of a Serious Nature Reported at Chester Mills Yesterday.

The excessive heat in the Chester tin mills yesterday came near proving fatal to two of the laborers. They were Frank Gregory and Cyrus Hoods. Both men were seized with fainting spells and it was necessary to remove them to their homes.

Such cases will no doubt be numerous during the coming summer, as the heat in a tin mill at any time is excruciating, and it combined with the sun's rays is oftentimes more than men can stand.

The Checkrein.

The overcheck bears about the same relation to the horse as the county jail does to human society. In case of the trotting horse it seems that some device must be used in order to compel a horse to carry its head out almost in a line with its neck, so that the curvature of the latter at the throttle will not cramp the windpipe or shut off the horse's wind. In case of the running horse it naturally extends the head and neck without artificial aid. This is because the gallop is the horse's natural gate, while the trot is artificial when it comes to extreme speed. Hence the overcheck is needed. In the utility horses the checkrein is never needed.—Field and Farm.

The Greenland Shark.

The Greenland shark is well known as a foe to whalers. It will follow a dead whale to the ship and show no fear of the men while they are engaged in cutting up the prey, biting out lumps from it as big as a man's head. Sometimes it happens that a man will fall off the slippery side of the whale close by the shark, but the latter never attacks him, being intent upon gorging itself with the flesh of the cetacean. The most severe wounds from thrusts of the whalers' knives will not persuade it to desist. This species of shark is often partly or wholly blinded by a parasitic worm three inches long which fastens itself at the corner of the eye and lives on its fluids.

Right Doing.

One's rightful work is often halted by fear of what others will say about it. This may be even more a barrier to the work than the fear of not doing the work at all. It takes courage to do what we believe we ought to do, when we think we shall be criticised or misunderstood or scorned. But the real calamity lies in not doing what we ought. Of this it is well to have so strong a fear that we shall have courage to face whatever others may say of our right doing.

GATES OF CHICAGO

A new wizard of finance has arisen in Wall street. He juggles millions with as much nonchalance as a magician manipulates a few coins. John W. Gates is the man. There are many who believe he is destined to become the king of that great center of finance.

Not since the days of Jay Gould and Jim Fisk has any man created such a commotion as he has aroused by his operations. His recent coup in Louisville and Nashville took the old timers completely by surprise, and the thrones of the mighty were rocked to their foundations.

Several years ago a small group of Chicago capitalists transferred the scene of their operations to New York and for the past three years have been an important and powerful factor in Wall street. John W. Gates is the directing spirit of this group, which is known as the "Chicago clique."

As one of the chief figures in American Steel and Wire he was a factor in the organization of the billion dollar steel trust, J. P. Morgan's pet enterprise.

A story told in Wall street relates how Gates called on Morgan at the time the trust was organized and unfolded to him his ambition to be one of its officials.

"Of course you know, Morgan," Mr. Gates is credited with saying, "I expect to be on the board of directors and also chairman of the executive committee."

"Indeed!" gossip says Mr. Morgan made reply. "You are too modest. I can tell you now that you won't be chairman of the executive committee. I am also able to inform you that you won't be even a director."

And he wasn't. But conditions have changed since then, and it is doubtful if Mr. Morgan would be so brusque with the redoubtable Gates at the present time.

a meteoric character. His whole career since he came into prominence in the business world has abounded in surprises for his associates as well as his financial opponents. His fortune, which is estimated as about $30,000,000, has grown in leaps and bounds rather than by the slow accumulation of dollar on dollar.

Mr. Gates was born in Du Page county, Ill., in 1855. He was educated in the public schools and at Northwestern college, Illinois, from which he was graduated in 1873. He entered business as a dealer in grain and then in hardware. In 1889 he began to absorb all the barbed wire mills in the country and in three years had gathered in twenty-five mills. He was then president of two great companies, the Consolidated Steel and Wire and the Illinois Steel company. In a dozen years he had made a great fortune and carried out schemes of vast proportions.

Mr. Gates decided to retire from business and had resigned the presidency of the Illinois Steel company when a suggestion was made to him that the reorganization of the steel and wire interests would be a good thing. The American Steel and Wire company, with its capitalization of $90,000,000, was the result. Mr. Gates is said to have cleared $5,000,000 by this stroke.

It is said that the rapidity with which this trust was organized broke the records in this particular. Since the reorganization of this great corporation Mr. Gates' name has been prominent many times in connection with great stock operations. Two years ago it was reported that he had made $4,000,000 from the rise in Baltimore and Ohio and Union Pacific stock.

In his tastes Mr. Gates is distinctively American. He is fond of horses and enjoys a good race. Formerly he was one of the best trap and wing shots in the west, and he is an expert with the billiard cue. To his friends he is known as a jolly, companionable man, who is always ready to appreciate and repay a favor. He is thoroughly devoted to his family.

Mr. Gates is now at the age which for most men is the height of business activity. It is by no means likely that he will rest on his laurels. At all events, he has demonstrated to the speculators of Wall street that he can teach them some things about their own game.

Short legged fowls fatten quickly. Long legs are hard to fatten. Those which are first hatched fatten quickly in a brood. It is a safe rule to sell as soon as the fowl is in good marketable condition.

Milk, either fresh or sour, buttermilk or skimmilk, mixed with bread or in any other form, is excellent for all kinds of fowls. In many cases it will pay better to give the waste milk to fowls rather than to the hogs.

Home Sweet Home!

Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,
Be it ever so humble there's no place like home;
A charm from the skies seems to hallow us there
Which seek through the world is ne'er met with elsewhere.

An exile from home, pleasure dazzles in vain,
Ah, give me my lowly thatched cottage again,
The birds singing sweetly that came to my call,
Give me them and that peace of mind, dearer than all.

THE poet when he wrote these immortal verses touched a note that finds an echo in every Anglo-Saxon breast. How we love the sentiment expressed! Perhaps your home has been so varied by many movings that these lines don't find their responsive chord? Is it wise to live in a house that is not your own, putting up with all the inconveniences of a tenant house, the ups and downs with the landlord and a thousand vexations that arise when almost by the reaching out of your hand a home comes within your reach? Through us is offered to you your choice of more than

JOINED CHOIR IN SINGING HYMN

Rev. Dr. Van Dyke Responded to the President's Speech—Home Missions Considered During Assembly Sessions Yesterday—Message to Cuba.

New York, May 21.—Carnegie hall was crowded to the doors last evening with an audience eager to hear the address of President Roosevelt in the interests of Presbyterian home missions, the occasion marking the close of the centennial celebration. An immense audience was present.

When President Rosevelt took his seat on the platform he received a great ovation. When the applause died away Mr. Roosevelt took his seat between the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke and the Rev. D. Stuart Dodge, D. D., who was presiding.

A choir of 125 voices from the different Presbyterian churches sang the hymn, "Ye Servants of God Your Master Proclaim," and the president sang with them.

Rev. Dr. Dodge made the opening remarks.

Witicism of the President.

When President Roosevelt stepped to the front of the platform and began "Mr. Chairman," he was interrupted by the flashlight of a photographer. As the smoke blew across the stage he laughed and said: "There goes the mystery now," referring to the mystery of the creed. He then made his address.

After the cheering which followed the presidnt's address had subsided a special hymn, written for the occasion by the Rev. Dr. Henry C. McCook, of Philadelphia, was sung. The moderator, Dr. Van Dyke, then arose and made an address in response to the president's speech.

After the speech of the moderator President Roosevelt remained long enough to listen to the singing of a synodical quartette from Tennessee.

The last speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson secretary of the board of home missions.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of the national hymn and the benediction.

The home mission centennial celebration was continued yesterday afternoon with a fellowship meeting. The speakers at the meeting were representatives of the various boards of the Presbyterian church and representatives of missions of other denominations. The Rev. Dr. Van Dyke moderator of the general assembly presided.

Elder E. L. Hill, a physician from Dayton, O., moved that the moderator be requested to send the congratulations of the general assembly to Cuba on the birthday of the new republic. The motion was carried unanimously and a cablegram was sent.

Home Missions Centennial.

The second of the days devoted by the Presbyterian general assembly to the celebration of the centennial of home missions was yesterday. Before the subject of missions was taken up a letter was first read from the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, asking when its commissioners could be received to bring greeting to the Presbyterian governing body. The Methodist commissioners are the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate, and Albert J. Beveridge, United States senator from Indiana. It was agreed to receive the Methodist delegates on Saturday morning.

The committee on bills and overtures presented a resolution asking congress to remove the discrimination in salary against the chaplains of the navy. After a short debate it was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The Rev. Dr. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, chairman of the standing committee on home missions, then read its report, concluding with a resolution that the general assembly endorse the policy of the board, which contemplates the extension of the work already begun in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The committee recommended that each church, wherever possible, undertake the support of at least one home missionary. A further recommendation was made to the effect that the Sabbath schools be requested to take up a special collection for the work of the Women's Home Missionary board, if possible on the Sabbath nearest Thanksgiving day, 1902.

Rev. Dr. Holmes Made Address.

The Rev. Dr. Holmes made an address in support of the recommendation.

The Rev. John Dixon, D. D., assistant secretary of the board of home missions, also spoke on the report.

The committee on bills and overtures brought in a resolution, which was adopted, referring back to the board of education the appeal of William T. Ellis, the former editor of a Sabbath school organ of the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Mr. Ellis some time ago, against the wishes of the board of education of the Presbyterian church, with which he was connected, read a paper before a gathering of Presbyterian ministers entitled, "Are Our Sunday Schools Decadent?" Mr. Ellis was reprimanded, resigned, and appealed his case to the general assembly. The general assembly, through its action, in effect upheld the action of the board of education.

GENERAL BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Subjects Discussed by Committees. Some Decided—Brethern May Insure Their Lives.

Harrisburg, May 21.—The actual conference at Paxtang park, where the German Baptist brethern are assembled for their annual meeting, began yesterday, when the standing committee, which has been framing answers to questions of church doctrine since last Friday met in joint session with the members of the district commttee for final disposition of the question.

Many interesting and important questions came up for discussion, and a number of decisions were reached. The decision to which most importance attached is that as to whether brethern may insure their lives. It was decided by the conference that they can do so, provided they do not insure with companies which are in any way connected with secret organizations.

The question as to the right of teachers in church schools and elders of the church to wear neckties called forth a short debate, in which it was brought out that in spite of former rulings of the conference many of the brethern have been wearing articles of dress and adornment which are considered improper. The question was returned to the standing committee unanswered, in view of the fact that actions of previous conferences covered the point at issue. A question as to the expediency of assisting poor ministers to get homes in isolated places was also returned unanswered.

The auditorium where the conference is being held was completely filled at the opening session with brethern and sisters. Several thousand persons were compelled to stand on the outside of the building to listen to the proceedings. For the benefit of thousands of others who could not even get within hearing distance, Elder E. S. Young, of Canton, O., yesterday afternoon conducted a large overflow Bible meeting in the open.

BAPTIST HOME MISSIONS.

Women's Society Held Business Session Yesterday—Reports Made. Memorial Services.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—The Women's Baptist Home Mission society held the first public business session yesterday. Mrs. H. D. Gates, vice president for Minnesota, delivered an address of welcome, to which Mrs. C. N. Crouse, president of the national society, responded. Miss Mary G. Burdette, corresponding secretary, told the "story of the twenty-fifth year," reviewing the work of this particular society among the 4,269,000 Baptists in the United States, although its support has come from the million Baptists in the northern states. She said 162 missionaries had work at 112 stations in 34 states, Canada, Porto Rico, Cuba and Mexico. There are 2,775 auxiliaries in connection with the national society.

Mrs. A. H. Barber, natonal treasurer, presented her annual report as "the offering of the twenty-fifth year," showing receipts from all sources of $89,066, and disbursements, $85,089; balance on hand, $3,977.

A brief service in memoriam and reports of committees completed the morning session. The president's address was the principal business of the afternoon.

PRESIDENT LOUBET IN RUSSIA.

Received by the Czar—Reception Everywhere Remarkably Warm.

Cranstadt, Russia, May 21.—The French squadron escorting the armored cruiser Montcalm, bearing President Loubet, entered the harbor this morning.

The imperial yact Alexandra, with the czar and party on board, arrived almost simultaneously with the French squadron.

The Grand Duke Alexis boarded the Montcalm, and, after President Loubet had briefly reviewed the Russian fleets, he escorted the president on board the Alexandra, where the greetings exchanged between the czar and M. Loubet were most cordial.

Peterhof, Russia, May 21.—The imperial yacht Alexandra arrived here at noon from Cronstadt. President Loubet led the way ashore and shook hands with the assembled grand dukes and officials The president and the czar then entered a carriage, were driven to the railroad station and proceeded on the imperial train to Tsarskoe-Selo.

The president's reception everywhere was markedly warm.

FREE CUBA A FACT.

Island Turned Over to Her People by the United States Government.

WOOD AND TROOPS SAIL AWAY.

Force of American Soldiers Remain. Palma Took the Oath of Office. Wood Lowered Stars and Stripes and Raised Cuban Flag.

Havana, May 20.—The Cuban republic is now in existence.

The actual transfer of the control of the island was scheduled to occur exactly at noon yesterday Havana time, which is 12:30 p. m. Washington time, but those invited to witness the ceremony were requested to be at the palace at 11:30 a. m. This included, besides the American officers and the members of President Palma's cabinet, the members of congress, the supreme court judges, the governors of the provinces, the officers of the visiting warships, the foreign consuls, William Jennings Bryan, the other visiting American statesmen, several of Senor Palma's Central Valley (N. Y.) neighbors, Horatio Rubens, counsel for the former Cuban junta; Colonel William Astor Chanler, and a few other specially invited guests.

Palma Attached His Signature.

Immediately after the formal transfer of control Senor Palma attached his signature to a document as president of the Cuban republic, after an exchange of congratulations, and the veteran general, Gomez, ascended to the roof of the palace, where he was accorded a great reception. General Wood personally lowered the American colors, which were saluted, and with his own hand hoisted the Cuban flag, as an act of the United States, Gomez assisting.

General Wood and his staff and the American troops embarked immediately after the hoisting of the Cuban flag and the American ships steamed out of the harbor.

At the time the transfer took place in Havana, General Whiteside, at Santiago, turned over his authority to his Cuban successor and sailed away with the American cavalry which had been in garrison there.

Later in the day the Brooklyn and the steamer Morro Castle, with the rest of the American officers and all the troops except eight companies of artillery aboard, sailed for the United States. The eight companies left, who will be under command of Colonel William Haskins, remain to guard the Havana harbor works and as a safeguard against foreign interference.

Yesterday afternoon there was a yacht regatta in the harbor, and ashore there was a review of 14,000 school children by President Palma.

At noon a solemn high mass in honor of the new republic had been celebrated in all the churches of the island, and at 4 o'clock a Te Deum was sung at the cathedral. At the same hour the Cuban congress proclaimed the constitution.

Last night the whole city was illuminated and a great pyrotechnic display was made from the walls of Moro castle and Cabanas fortress.

Transfer Also at Santiago.

At the time the transfer took place in Havana General Whiteside, at Santiago, turned over his authority to his Cuban successor and sailed away with the American cavalry which had been in garrison there.

CONGRATULATED BY LOUBET.

Message Also From Palma on Free Cuba.

Washington, May 21.—President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon received the following cablegram from the president of the new republic:

"Havana, May 20.

"Theodore Roosevelt, President, Washington:

"The government of the island having been just transferred, I, as chief magistrate of the republic, faithfully interpreting the sentiments of the whole people of Cuba, have the honor to send you and the American people testimony of our profound gratitude and the assurance of an enduring friendship, with wishes and prayers to the Almighty for the welfare and prosperity of the United States.

"T. Estrada Palma."

President Roosevelt also has received the following cablegram from President Loubet, of France, dated at Kronstad, yesterday:

"At the time when the Cuban republic is proclaimed under the mighty aegis of the United States of America, I make it my duty to offer to your excellency my very sincere felicitations and to send you the wishes that I form for the prosperity of the young republic. Emil Loubet."

IX.—Northern Orators.

THE stream of deliberative oratory which had been rising for half a century reached its high water mark in the eloquence of Daniel Webster. To trace the causes of his pre-eminence has been the undertaking of one biographer after another, with the repeated admission that the gift of a genius for public speech is the best explanation of his surpassing powers. Certainly there were few artificial aids to his success. A farmer's boy attending the district school, Exeter academy and Dartmouth college in those days might have gone back to the farm without so much learning or cultivation as to make him useless. On the other hand, he received more than the other two of the trio with whose names his own is always associated, both of native endowment and of acquired education. These possessions he began to turn to account at an early day, first in the inevitable Fourth of July oration which every town listened to once a year, Hanover, N. H., and Fryeburg, Me., getting the benefit of his earliest efforts, such as they were. Of them and those which closely followed it can be said that they were better in promise than in performance and more suited to the inflated tone of the first quarter of the century than to its close. It was an age when anniversary eloquence was accustomed to mount up with wings as eagles.

At the age of thirty-one he was sent to congress. His success in the larger domain of statesmanship was soon a foregone conclusion. The greatness of his intellect had found its adequate field, and to the principles which he believed most important he devoted his energy and talent. His comprehensive views embraced the welfare of the entire nation. At the same time he attempted only that which was attainable. On such a practical yet broad basis he stood for that which was national and permanent rather than sectional and temporary.

In the great debate with Hayne he made it clear to all that the nation is greater than any state and all the states together, a proposition whose truth was subsequently established. The occasion of the second reply was dramatic in the interest which attended its delivery. The dignitaries of many nations and the notables of our own had assembled to listen to the great constitutional lawyer and orator as he made what, all in all, is regarded as the greatest speech of modern times. There is no room here for even an outline of its four hours of argument and illustration in defense of the principles of the constitution. It was characterized by fairness toward his opponent, but also by consciousness of strength in his own position. He showed that the origin of this government and the source of its power are with the people, anticipating Lincoln's aphorism in these words, which place the originality of their first utterance where it belongs: "It is, sir, the people's constitution, the people's government, made for the people, made by the people and answerable to the people." The entire speech is full of profound reasoning. As he himself said of Samuel Dexter, but with deeper meaning: "Aloof from technicality and unfettered by artificial rule a question of constitutional law gave opportunity for that deep and clear analysis, that mighty grasp of principle, which so much distinguished his higher efforts. His very statement was argument; his inference seemed demonstration. The earnestness of his own conviction wrought conviction in others. One was convinced because it was gratifying and delightful to think and feel and believe in unison with an intellect of such evident superiority." This was truer of Webster because he was the greater man. The directness of his purpose, the irresistible sweep of his argument, his perspicuity and energy, his vigor of reasoning and felicity of diction, his calm statement and forceful appeal, the power of his voice and the majesty of his presence combined to place him in the foremost ranks of eloquent men and crown him as the chief of American orators.

Halls of legislation have not afforded the only opportunity for the exercise of oratorical gifts. As often as in them our great speakers have found in civic occasions an inspiration to noble and patriotic sentiments. Such were the anniversaries of the landing of the pilgrims and of the battle of Bunker Hill to Webster, and the orations pronounced by him were masterpieces of commemorative eloquence. These, however, were the byproduct of his oratorical genius.

The man who made the occasional address almost the business of his life was Edward Everett. First of all, he was a scholar, delivering lectures upon Greek literature in Cambridge and Boston after three years' residence and study abroad. As editor of The North American Review he did much to promote a sort of revival of learning period in the country. At the age of thirty he delivered before an immense audience a characteristic address upon "Circumstances Favorable to the Progress of Literature In America." Contemporary testimony to the marvelous skill and power of the orator is strong. "The sympathies of the audience went with him as he painted in glowing hues the political, social and literary future of our country, and at the conclusion his hearers were left in a state of emotion far too deep for tumultuous applause." Elected to congress this very year, he became a frequent but not obtrusive debater and distinguished himself in diplomacy, but his proper field was wherever he could address an intelligent assembly on subjects relating to the higher politics or a better education. He was one of the great educators of the people from the platform in a time when they needed instruction in constitutional liberty, a people who have been said to "present the anomaly of being political in their tastes and habits without having a political education." What colleges now partially supply the speakers of the former time and their speeches, read in every school, disseminated. Boys came to know them by heart as they did their catechism long before they comprehended their meaning.

A similar service was performed by Everett in the direction of a literary style. He furnished a creditable example to follow in the days when imitation of English models was common. It was fortunate that a man of the best attainments could give an object lesson here and there in composition and public speaking. He inspired many men who became distinguished in the last generation by the purity and classic grace of such English as he constructed out of the wealth of his resources.

The result of a lifetime of such speaking was left in a body of occasional addresses which would have been creditable to any of the Hellenic ten. Chief among these orations must be reckoned the eulogy upon Washington, delivered upon 150 occasions and earning for the Mount Vernon fund $53,000, to which Everett added $10,000 more of the earnings of his pen. This production, too, is a work of art, marking the highest reach of eulogistic discourse and illustrating the great advance that had been made from the stilted and fantastic displays of the previous centuries. In the address at the consecration of the national cemetery at Gettysburg heroic memories like those of Marathon are revived in the spirit of Periclean eloquence.

Webster and Everett are the two names which stand for supreme achievement in forensic and occasional oratory. Their attainments have become a part of the noblest of our literature, if profound and beautiful thoughts clothed in appropriate language constitute literature. But the field is wide enough for other speakers, also, who, each in his way, have distinguished themselves and contributed to the volume of what has been both written and spoken.

Rufus Choate was the third in the order of time. Pre-eminently an advocate, he was, moreover, a man of letters and always a student of subjects outside his profession. On such topics he was eloquent with constructive power and manifold art. In the technicalities of disposing material for unity, of proportion and harmony, of the illumination by imagery, he showed the hand of a master. Had he confined his efforts to literary, social and political subjects he would have been pre-eminent as an instructor of the people from the platform. Such addresses as that on "The Eloquence of Revolutionary Periods" and similar ones growing out of our early history are alive with instruction and inspiration. In their time they contributed to the stock of controlling ideas which have gone with the New Englander into every part of the land and have helped to make it what it is and to prevent its becoming what as yet it is not.

Charles Sumner's academic orations, as apart from his political and congressional speeches, will always have a charm for scholarly persons who delight in observing how the spoils of classical literature can be woven into the fabric of modern discourse. It was the habit of our scholars as far back as the prerevolution age and before, but in a crude and clumsy way. Sumner conformed more nearly to an Augustan manner and as a noble Roman might have followed a Greek example. Opulence of learning is everywhere apparent. He who can place all this orator's allusions will have had a liberal education. History and mythology, fiction and the drama, the poets and orators of every country made his discourse a cloth of gold and gems in its barbaric splendor. Within the turning of a leaf are contributions from Plutarch and Livy, Homer and Dante, Virgil and the Troubadour, Hobbes and Sir Thomas Browne, Bacon and Vattel. Another turn brings up Hesiod and Anacreon, Herodotus and Froissart, Sismondi, Montesquieu, Liutprand and Muratori, the dicta of the Christian fathers, the superstitions of mediæval doctors, the sayings of Brantome, Malte-Brun and Mme. Sevigne. Such wealth of illustration was poured forth with lavish hand upon his addresses entitled "The True Grandeur of Nations," "The Employment of Time" and "White Slavery In the Barbary States." A similar affluence characterizes his deliberative oratory in congress, but its appropriate sphere was the academic occasion.

Wendell Phillips was more severely Greek in his apparently extemporaneous lectures than most men are in their written discourse. There was no hint of memorizing and no hesitation or haste in his delivery. Conversational in the tones of his voice, but never colloquial in diction, he carried his auditors on the steady, irresistible flow of his speech to conclusions against which their common sense rebelled when they came to themselves. In subsequent years they discovered that the tide of events had drifted them to the positions to which he had led them as in a dream in the days when they called him hard names. But the memory of his speech, unaccountable in its power, will always remain with the generation that came under its magic spell.

By Congressman FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS of Nevada

FOR the first time in our history we have claimed the right to annex territory which is to be subject to the jurisdiction of the United States and not a part of it. The right is asserted to hold the people of such territory as subjects and not citizens. It is not to be expected that Cuba will be willing to assume so abject a position, and it is perfectly natural that she should fear to make the first overtures toward annexation on the ground that she may be put in the inferior position now occupied by the Philippine Islands. It seems to me, therefore, the part of wisdom for this government to show her at this time that she has no reason for apprehensions of this sort. The course by which this may be done is perfectly simple.

CUBA IS NOW ASKING FOR COMMERCIAL UNION. THERE IS NO REASON WHY WE SHOULD NOT MAKE A COUNTER PROPOSITION AND INVITE HER INTO A POLITICAL UNION WHICH WILL MEAN THE FREEST COMMERCIAL UNION AND WHICH WOULD ULTIMATELY MAKE OF CUBA ONE OF THE WEALTHIEST, MOST PROSPEROUS AND MOST POWERFUL STATES IN THE UNION.

COMMERCIAL UNION CAN ONLY BE ACCOMPLISHED BY A POLITICAL UNION. The resolutions I have introduced invite Cuba to become a part of the United States—not a subject territory. They provide that she is to have a territorial form of government under the constitution and laws of the United States, including the tariff laws, and that her people are to be citizens, not subjects, as are the people of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands—in other words, to admit her as an infant state, with the assurance of ultimate statehood. Of course, her admission to statehood would depend upon the rapidity with which she prepares herself.

I do not believe that Cuba should be expected to make up her mind at once upon this subject. THERE SHOULD BE NOTHING LIKE FORCING HER INTO ANNEXATION. My idea is to give her a reduction of 25 per cent on all her products for one year or for two years, in order to tide over existing or probable economic difficulties. I would make annexation the reason for these temporary reductions, its one purpose being to give the Cuban people an opportunity for deliberation and consideration unaffected by pending economic distress.

I believe that in view of the fact that we have lately entered upon a policy of imperial expansion Cuba would naturally be reluctant to apply for annexation, fearing that her fate would be that of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. There seems to me no question that the time is opportune for extending such an invitation as I propose to the Cuban people. It does not involve anything like coercion or force. It gives them ample time for deliberation. It is the highest honor which the United States could extend, and it is an honor which, in my opinion, would be accepted.

ONSLAUGHT BY STRIKERS

Kept D. & H. Co. Employes From Working at Oliphant, Pa.—Deputies Warned Back.

Scranton, Pa., May 21.—Fifteen hundred mine workers at Oliphant yesterday morning made the first serious demonstration since the strike began in the Lackawanna valley. Their onslaught was directed against the Grassy Island washery of the D. & H. Co., in the northern part of the town. The approaches were blockaded to such an extent that District Superintendent Sarge and a number of foremen from the company's nearby mines found it impossible to make their way through the lines and were forced to retreat down the railroad tracks with hoots, cat-calls and some flying missiles following them. A Hungarian woman jumped in among the foremen and snatching the hat from the head of one hurled it into a muddy pool, yelling wildly as she did so. Her action almost precipitated trouble, and only through the determined efforts of some of the strike leaders was she dragged away and made to keep quiet. While this demonstration was going on six armed deputies, who had come up from the washery, were warned not to approach too near and warned that they had better go back to the washery. As no company official was present to direct their movements they acted on the suggestion and retreated to the washery.

Superintendent Sarge and his foremen came to Scranton and consulted with Superintendent Rose. The company officials say they are determined to operate the washery and the Oliphant strikers say they are just as determined that it shall not be operated.

CLOUD FROM MONT PELEE.

Stones Fell In Ft. D eFrance—People Badly Scared.

Fort De France, May 21.—Yesterday morning at half-past 5 a thick, heavy cloud, lit up by flashes of lightning and the rising sun, rose from Mont Pelee. The people of Fort de France became panic stricken and in scant attire rushed excitedly through the streets of the town. Stones from the volcano as big as hazel nuts fell in the streets. Many of the inhabitants hurriedly embarked on the vessels in the harbor, and it was with difficulty that they were eventually reassured. At 7 o'clock, however, the excitement was over and the people became calm.

Lawyers Advertise.

BEYOND A DOUBT

Good Hard Facts Told in as Few Words as Possible.

Mrs. George Hall, of No. 389 West Market street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "I was bilious. My head ached hard and constantly. There was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, and did so, getting them at Larkins' drug store. The result was very good indeed, as the biliousness was overcome, the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. BEEF MEN ENJOINED.

Temporary Order, Wide In Its Scope, Issued Against Packers' Combine,

GRANTED TO THE GOVERNMENT.

If Present Alleged Uniform Arrangements Continue, They or Agents Will Be Taken Into Court For Contempt—Burden of Proof on Them.

Chicago, May 21.—The temporary injunction asked for by the government against the members of the so-called packers' combine is now in force. It was issued last evening by Judge Peter S. Grosscup, after the close of arguments in the United States circuit court room. The order gives the relief prayed for in the bill filed by District Attorney Bethea on May 10. It is so wide in its scope that if the packers or their agents continue with their present alleged uniform arrangements they will be taken into court on contempt proceedings and the burden of proof will be on them to show that they have not violated the order in any particular. Little opposition was raised against the government's petition. Attorney John S. Miller, who was the sole representative of the packers present, pointed out some objectionable clauses in the draft of an order presented by Mr. Bethea. These concerned the alleged agreements for credit, blacklisting and cartage. Judge Grosscup thought some of these minor clauses had been made too prominent, and he himself drew a form of order that pleased both sides. At the same time the order was entered numerous affidavits and other exhibits were filed for the government.

PACKING FIRM RESTRAINED.

Temporary Order Granted to State of Missouri.

Kansas City, May 21.—Judge John W. Henry, in the circuit court here yesterday, issued a temporary order, at the request of Attorney General Crow, restraining Nelson Morris & Co., packers, from fixing the price of meats or from working in conjunction with the so-called beef trust.

The order was sought because the attorney general doubted whether the quo warranto proceedings instituted Monday night at Jefferson City against other packers could be maintained against a co-partnership, such as the Nelson Morris company.

The Best Liniment

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlan's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Anna Hagelgans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment I have ever used. I would not think of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they always speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful." For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

AN ATTRACTIVE WORK

Book of the Presidents by General Grosvenor, Needed in Every Library.

"The Book of the Presidents," by Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor, 20 years member of Congress. Pronounced the most sumptuous and magnificently beautiful book ever issued in the United States. Contains 27 large full-page photogravure portraits, reproduced from the best paintings in the White House, the Congressional Library, the Capitol Building and the Corcoran Art Gallery of Washington.

Contains department of autograph letters, showing an autograph letter of each President of the United States, and department of armorial bearings and genealogical notes. These two features have never before appeared in any book ever issued.

Both President McKinley and President Roosevelt posed specially in the White House for their portraits to be used only and exclusively in this work. This is the greatest honor ever conferred on any publication ever issued in this country. This work reflects credit upon the nation. Every patriotic American citizen will buy it. Sells at sight. Small fortunes being made by men and women and large fortunes will be made on this publication within the next three years. High class men and women employed on commission or part salary and part commission. $1.500 guaranteed yearly. A STUBBORN COLD OR BRONCHITIS.

yields more readily to Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil than to anything that you can take; and if persistently used a few days, will break up the cold.

When you awake in the night choked up and coughing hard, take a dose of the Emulsion, and you will get immediate relief, where no cough medicine will give you relief. It has a soothing and healing effect upon the throat and bronchial tubes.

WILL PREACH TO STUDENTS

Rev. Dr. Heber Newton Goes to Leland Stanford University.

Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton, for over three decades one of New York's most noted pulpit orators, is to give up his New York pastorate and become special preacher to the students at Leland Stanford university, San Francisco. Since 1869 Dr. Newton has been pastor of All Souls' Protestant Episcopal church, New York. His congregation is large and fashionable and numbers many leaders in the world of fashion, commerce and the professions.

Dr. Newton is widely known as a profound scholar and an able writer on ecclesiastical subjects. His father was a shining light in the Episcopal church. Dr. Newton's pulpit utterances for the past fifteen yea s have been so liberal as to keep him almost constantly in the public eye.

In 1886 a series of very radical sermons on the Bible created so much adverse comment from ministers of his own sect that an organized effort was made to bring him to trial for heresy. Charges were laid before the bishop, but there was no trial, although the doctor was asked to withdraw the objectionable sermons. He afterward had them printed in book form. Dr. Newton's subsequent course has been one of steadily increasing departure from recognized orthodox ideals.

REV. DR. R. HEBER NEWTON.

Recently Dr. Newton has made public utterances on the subject of spiritualism that have not met the entire approval of the Episcopal church, but it is said this incident has not in any way directly or remotely influenced his decision to leave the field in which he has so long labored.

Dr. Newton was born in Philadelphia in 1840 and prepared for the ministry in the Episcopal Divinity school of that city. He was ordained deacon in 1860 and priest in 1866. For a short time he was in charge of Trinity church, Sharon Springs, N. Y. Thence he went to Philadelphia to become rector of St. Paul's church and in 1869 was called to All Souls' church, New York.

Dr. Newton is probably the most polished pulpit orator in New York city He is forcible and eloquent, and his style of diction is especially impressive. He is six feet in height, of athletic, massive build, and in the long, flaring white robe that he canonically wears presents a most striking and picturesque figure.

Origin of Trousers.

Something like a century ago trousers "came in" as the result of drink and may be said to owe their origin to old world royalty, which in those days ate and especially drank very heavily and was consequently afflicted with gout and other maladies of a character to swell the leg. Knee breeches and stockings—so dear not only to the early presidents of the United States and to the signers of the Declaration of Independence, but likewise to the old Puritan element of America—were scarcely suitable for swollen limbs, even if they belonged to the anointed of the Lord, and the result was that George IV. as prince regent; his brothers, the Dukes of York, Clarence, Cumberland and Sussex; the French princes, who afterward reigned as Louis XVIII., Charles X. and Louis Philippe; King Frederick William III. of Prussia and many other equally illustrious personages adopted the modern form of pantaloon, which was at the time a source of no end of ridicule and entertainment to Gilray and to the other caricaturists of the age.

THE OUTLOOK MORE CHEERFUL.

Prices of Stocks Recovered In Market, Tuesday—Closed Quiet and Steady.

New York, May 21.—Prices of stocks scored quite a substantial recovery yesterday and ended the day pretty near the top level and steady. There was a much more cheerful feeling with regard to the outlook for values and none of the rather urgent pressure to sell which was a feature Monday. The sharp and sudden declines among high-priced but seldom active stocks gave place to equally sudden recoveries in the same securities. International Power recovered five points of its 18 point break of Monday and there were wide gains scored by the Electric Express stocks, which were notable sufferers Monday. There was not much news on which to base the rise. Sentiment was favorably affected by the large absorption of United States Steel at rising prices. This soothed the anxieties which were caused by Monday's rumors that a formidable bear party had been formed in the stock as an outgrowth of the criticism of the stock conversion and bond issue plan. The notable strength of Canadian Pacific and its subsidiary roads, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, also had a notable sympathetic effect on the whole market. London was a buyer on a considerable scale after the holiday there, and confident predictions were heard that peace would be declared at an early day in South Africa. The formal announcement of the terms for the taking over jointly by Louisville and Nashville and Southern Railway of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville stocks in return for 4 per cent bonds was chiefly reflected in the price of Louisville.

The presence in the Wall street district of Secretary Easley, of the Civic Federation and his consultation with important representatives of the anthracite interests gave rise to conjectures that measures were in progress for the settlement of the anthracite miners' strike.

The market closed quiet and steady. Bonds were dull, but were about steady. Total sales, par value, $2,419,000.

Chaplain Milburn Injured.

Washington, May 21.—Blind Chaplain Milburn, of the senate, was struck by a runaway horse attached to a buggy as he was leaving the capitol yesterday, just after offering the prayer at the opening of the session. The large toe of one foot was cut off and several of the other toes badly injured. The accident would have been far more serious but for Mr. Milburn's daughter, who pulled him from a position immediately in front of the runaway horse as he was about to dash upon her father.

Surprising Statements.

One account of an accident to a royal motor car near Arriecia announces that "fortunately a number of pheasants were working close by, and with their help the motor car was righted." This surprising statement is only the reverse of the traditional printer's error by which "Lord X. was stated to have gone out with a party of fiends to shoot peasants."—London Globe.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Sea Necklaces.

Pretty nearly every one has seen the curious "sea ruffles," or "sea necklaces," which are found plentifully on ocean beaches. These are the egg cases of the sea snails. They consist of a number of small disk shaped envelopes attached along a sort of stem, the biggest of them being in the middle. In each envelope there is a little spot of thinner material, which the young break through when they are ready to be hatched. When the female gasteropod is about to lay, she buries herself in the sand, from the surface of which the "necklace" of eggs is gradually extruded. Being thus set adrift and exposed to the elements, as well as to devouring enemies, few of the eggs are ever hatched, but those which do come into the world safely and survive doubtless live to a very great age.

Some people seem to think they have to prove they have a mind by speaking it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

MRS. HELENA BLAU,
Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

Mrs. Helena Blau.

TEN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'worn out' women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissue. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

GRAND FREE EXCURSION

TO

AT

Saturday, MAY 24

If you do not live in the Great Ohio Valley District where the colossal new plants constituting the La Belle Steel Works and Pope Tin Plate Works, and a wonderful wealth of diversified industry is spreading out beyond all anticipated bounds—now's the time to investigate—now before your greatest opportunity to make money flies and what might be your earnings go into other pockets.

Free Excursion Trains will be run from Wheeling, Pittsburg, East Liverpool and all intermediate points. Tickets will be sent to all people sending for them living on railroads that will make connections with excursion trains. Get your request in before ticket limit is reached. Sit down and write now. Don't get left.

But now as to the purpose of this great Introductory Sale—it was organized to disseminate the advantages of the property to the greatest number of investors in the shortest possible time, with a view to getting building operations started at once and thus meet the mighty cry for homes now going up from the throats of hundreds and hundreds of the 10,000 additional iron workers, tinplate workers, glass workers, clay workers and coal miners about to invade this field for employment.

As an introductory method lots will be sold in many instances at 20 to 100 per cent. below the prices which will rule at the second sale. No argument that mortal man could put forward will speak as forcefully to the investor as this fact, when considered with the actual progress that he will see here with his own eyes.

THE IMMENSE NEW INDUSTRIES WILL CALL 10,000 MORE WORKMEN TO EMPLOYMENT

Among the names of the great organizations which are erecting new works and adding buildings and improvements are the La Belle Steel Co., Pope Tinplate Co., Ohio Valley Clay Co., National Steel Co., American Steel Hoop Co., Ohio Foundry Co., Steubenville Pottery Co., Steubenville Wall Paper Co., Riverside Blast Furnace Co., Acme Glass Works Co., Hartje Bros. Paper Manufacturers, Jefferson Glass Co., Means Foundry and Machine Co., Robinson & Irwin Machine Co., National Marble Co., and many planing mills.

The National Steel Company will employ about 2,000 men in the billit and rod mills, the Pope Tinplate Works will start with 800 men, and increase to double this number in the next fourteen months; the La Belle Steel Works employ 2,100 men at present at their new open hearth furnaces and at the new tube mills. When completed this industry alone will give employment to 6,000 men.

It is estimated that the army of workmen in Steubenville and vicinity will be increased to 15,000 and that in less than ten years there will be a compact commercial metropolis of more than 50,000 souls, built up solidly with no vacant land intervening.

Lots at the Grand Introductory Sale will go at

$50, $75, $100, $125 $150, $175, and $200 on terms of $5 and $10 down and $1.00 per week.

Some on the boulevard and business district will be sold at prices a little higher, but in no instance at figures as high as the advance which must be made thirty days after date of introductory sale.

Ten per cent. discount will be allowed for cash when full amount is paid within sixty days from date of purchase, and in the event of sickness or loss of employment no interest will be charged on deferred payments. Should the death of the purchaser occur, his or her heirs will receive free deed or title to lot without requirement of any further payment, if purchaser has paid one-fourth of purchase price.

It might be well to remember that the lots on the boulevard and many of the streets run from 50 x 110 to 55 x 125 and 50 x 150.

Here is another interesting point: Between the hours of 10:30 and noon on day of FREE EXCURSION, ten of the finest lots in the plan will be put up separately at auction to be knocked down to the highest bidder, with the understanding that they will agree to commence the erection of a creditable house on each lot before October 1. None of the lots will be offered at this auction contest for a longer period than five minutes, and not more than one lot will be sold to any one person.

Two extra lots will be given also to the purchaser who completes the building of the first house costing $2,000 on any lot that is purchased on day of the introductory sale. Purchasers who build the second, third, fourth and fifth houses will each be given one lot.

La Belle View will have every modern city improvement.

LA BELLE VIEW is a part of Steubenville lying in the third and fifth wards on a beautiful tableland just above the Panhandle passenger depot. It will inherit every up-to-date convenience that belongs to a progressive municipality whose population is now 15,000 and growing at the rate of 42 per cent.

Arrangements have been made to pave a portion of the boulevard and the business street. Other extensive city improvements will follow.

There will be city water, natural gas and electric light.

Increase in real estate values due largely to tremendous railroad construction and improved river navigation.

The dam to be built in the Ohio at Brilliant station will give Steubenville a six foot harbor, and has so encouraged capital to pry into the coal developing possibilities of this locality that thousands of acres of coal land have been bought up and preparations made to erect immense shafts, with railways to carry the outputs of the mines to the river front.

The coal syndicates which have been coming in have discovered that the Steubenville coal is identical in quality with the great gas and coking veins which have made Pittsburg and Connellsville famous.

$2,000,000.00 will be expended by these syndicates during the coming summer in this field, and the number of miners employed will be increased from 175 to 600. An authority on coal development says that in less than two years there will be coal shafts enough located between Wheeling and Toronto to employ not less than two thousand men.

When you stop to realize what an effect this will have in sending up the value of La Belle View property, you will be one of the men who will not wait for the free excursion train to take you to Steubenville.
